The Noren-Haggard Wedding.

A very charming and happy wedding was that of Miss Selma Constance Noren of our city and Mr. Ralph Whitledge Haggard of Lincoln, Nebraska, Wednesday evening, February 12th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Noren, in this city on North Main avenue, in the presence of relatives and friends of the high contracting parties to the number of some four score.

At the appointed time,-half past seven o'clock,—to the music of the wedding march from Lohengrin, Mrs. F. M. Kimmell at the piano, Dr. F. S. Stein of Lincoln approached his position from the library, the four ribbon-bearers,-Helen Laws of Lincoln, Lillian Roman Helen Burns and Elsie Campbell of our city, stretched white ribbons from the stairway across the parlor to the nuptial bower in the northwest corner of the parlor, the bride and groom unattended marched up the aisle, assumed their po sitions and in the use of the beautiful and favorite ring ceremony the happy young couple was joined in the tender and life-lasting ties of matrimony, the while Schubert's "Staendchen" being softly played on the piano. The bride was radiantly gowned in white peau de soie; skirt en train-front and side panels dotted with point lace butterflies appliqued over white illusion; waist-yoke and sleeves of pleated chif- Davis is relieving him. fon; bertha-pleated chiffon and trimmed with point lace; long bridal veil of white tulle; handkerchief of Duchess lace from Sweden; and carried a large and superb bouquet of American Beauty roses, the gift of the groom. The groom looked the manly fellow he is in a full evening two hostlers at that place.

The bride is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Noren: she has grown to womanhood from a child in our city; is cultured and accomplished—the idol of her parents and greatly admired by a large and warm circle of friends here and in Lincoln, where she spent a number of years and was graduated from the Blackwood of Burns Junction on the Nebraska University. The groom is a Burlington storekeeper in Lincoln, a young man of excellent parts, popular in a large circle of the capital city.

The house decorations were elaborate and in handsome and appropriate color schemes: The marriage bower was a vision of beauty in green and white, ferns and palms in profusion being banked high in the corner and the whole encircled with a grille of smilax. Tribune.

THE TRIBUNE believes that nothing is before the people of this section of the state-especially the farmers-that promises greater or more certain returns than does the culture of sugar beets. To be sure this enterprise is in its infancy, but it is past the experimental stage, even in the Republican valley. The results of the past two seasons, and particularly of last year, prove that the beets can be successfully and profitably raised here in the most unfavorable years. Last year, William Byfield cultivated fifteen acres of sugar beets; of these he shipped the results of four acres to the Norfolk factory, the same bringing him $334.80, or $83.70 per acre. The beets from the rest of the fifteen acres he fed to the stock on his ranch. This season Mr. Byfield has contracted with the beet sugar people to plant forty acres. The first year he planted 10 acres, last year 15, and this year it will be forty acres. That shows Mr. Byfield's confidence in the success and profit of sugar beet raising in Redwillow county.

Mr. Byfield has proven, too, that the sugar beet is as good as corn for feeding and fattening purposes, and recently made the following statement of the matter as demonstrated on his ranch, last year:

McCook, Neb., Feb., 10th, 1902.—To store the farmers of this vicinity: This is to certify that I, the undersigned, sold in Kansas City on January 27th, 1902, seven yearling heifers, fattened on sugar beets, along with nineteen head of steers Engineer Walter Stokes went up to and heifers fattened on corn. Said heif-Akron, Tuesday night, to be one of the ers sold at the same price as the corn-fed steers and brought $4.65 per hundred.
