PRINCE IS HERE

CORDIAL GREETING EXTENDED TO OUR ROYAL VISITOR.

ADMIRAL EVANS DOES HONORS

Prince Met at the Entrance to New York Bay Amid Thunder of Big Guns from the Forts—Touches His Cap to Old Glory.

NEW YORK, Feb. 24.—Prince Henry of Prussia, representing his brother, the emperor of Germany, at the launching of the Kaiser's American-built yacht, reached New York yesterday and was cordially welcomed as a guest of the nation. The land batteries that guard the outer harbor sounded the first greeting in a ponderous salute of twenty-one guns, the rifles of a special naval squadron assembled in his honor re-echoed the sentiment. There were verbal greetings from the representatives of President Roosevelt, the army, the navy and the city of New York, and a great crowd lined the way into the city to see and cheer the sailor prince of Germany.

The great storm against which Kron Prinz Wilhelm had struggled for days and which had glazed the Atlantic coast in an armor of ice, had lost its force and resigned its way to warm sunshine and clear blue skies, so there was no regret that the royal guest was a full day late for the entertainment provided for him.

The genius of Marconi reached out from the storm-swept coast and definitely located the belated liner and made certain the hour that it would reach Sandy Hook. There was a curtain off the Hook early in the morning and it was after 9 o'clock before the watchers caught the shadowy outlines of the cautiously approaching liner.

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, commander of the special squadron and honorary aide to the prince, left the flagship Illinois at 9:40 o'clock in the naval tug Nina. With him were Captain G. A. Converse, his chief of staff; Flag Lieutenant Frederick Chapin, Ensign Frank T. Evans, aide, and Captain von Reuber-Paschwitz, naval attache at the Washington embassy of the German government.

They were all in full dress uniform. Nina met Kron Prinz beyond Fort Wadsworth and, swinging around on the starboard side of the liner, steamed up the bay.

Prince Henry, attired in the uniform of an admiral of the German navy, and surrounded by his naval and military staff in brilliant uniforms, stood on the bridge of the liner. As the naval tug drew nearer to the side of the steamship, Prince Henry and Admiral Evans caught sight of each other and exchanged informal salutes. The distance from steamer to tug was too great for conversation, however.

As the two vessels with a flotilla of tugs and officials moved past Fort Wadsworth the first of the salutes of twenty-one guns was fired. As the first sounded the prince advanced to the end of the bridge of Kron Prinz Wilhelm and stood at attention.

As he passed the big American flag floating over the fortifications he touched his cap in salute, and the members of his salute did likewise. The flag at the jackstaff of Kron Prinz was dipped and the German naval band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

Hear's of Prince's Arrival.

BERLIN, Feb. 24.—Emperor William received a cablegram from New York while at breakfast this morning informing him that the Kron Prinz Wilhelm was nearing her port in fair weather and that his brother, Admiral Prince Henry of Prussia, was well. The Sunday quiet of Berlin was broken today by the issuance of a newspaper extra on the arrival of the Kron Prinz Wilhelm. This is a very unusual thing in German newspaperdom.

Nobody was at Strumitza to greet Miss Stone, as the brigands had given no indication where they proposed to release the prisoners. Mme. Tsilka and her baby were also released at the same time. They are all well. Miss Stone immediately made herself known to the authorities at Strumitza.

The first news of Miss Stone's release was contained in a telegram received by Mr. Dickinson, the American consul general at Constantinople, from the American consul at Saloncia. The telegram gives no details of the release.

PREDICTS NEW LAND LAW.

Representative Hanks Expects Legislation to Adopt Torrens System. LINCOLN, Feb. 22.—Representative H. H. Hanks of Otoe county predicts the adoption of the Torrens land transfer system by the next legislature. Mr. Hanks is author of the bill creating the Nebraska Torrens commission. He was in Lincoln and examined some of the details of the commissioners' reports.

"Basing my opinion upon what I had read and heard of its work in other states, I believed when I introduced the Torrens bill, and do now, that the system would be adopted by the next legislature by an almost unanimous vote," said Mr. Hanks. "Several states have adopted the Torrens system of transferring real estate and I believe it is but a question of time till every state in the union will have it in operation. England partially adopted it in 1863, and by a provision passed in 1897 it is now practically compulsory. This certainly speaks well for the system. Wherever I have found it once in operation it has never been repealed. The register of Cook county, Illinois, writes me it is working easily and satisfactorily there; that transfers are made in a very short time and at a small fee."

NARROWLY ESCAPE BURNING.

Three Boys Have a Close Call for Cremation.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Feb. 22.—The two-story residence of Chris Knihals, five miles east of Grand Island, took fire at 1:30 in the morning and burned to the ground, together with nearly all of its contents. The fire started in the second story, where Kniphals' sons were asleep, and were it not for the fact that the elder boy happened to awake just in the nick of time, all would have perished.

When the boy awoke the room was all aflame and it was all he could do to arouse his two brothers and escape with their lives. Nothing whatever in the second story was saved. In one of the boys' clothes was a pocket-book containing $35. Before the flames reached the lower apartments the family succeeded in saving some pieces of furniture, though but very little.

JOHN FREMONT, INDIAN, DIES.

Member of the Council that Ceded All Eastern Nebraska.

PENDER, Neb., Feb. 22.—One of the best known characters of the Omaha agency died Tuesday of a complication of diseases and old age in the person of John Fremont, as he was known to the white people, or Chas-a-Nin-Gah, as the Indians knew him. He was a member of the council held in 1854, which ceded all of eastern Nebraska except that portion retained as the reservation to the white men, and in that year went to Washington to see President Pierce. During the civil war he assisted the United States government in the war with the Sioux.

Just a few days before his death he was married according to the white custom to the Indian woman with whom he had lived as man and wife for many years. He did this that no controversy might arise over his property, which amounts to considerable.

GOULD GETS EIGHT YEARS.

Sentence Passed on the Bellwood Bank Wrecker.

DAVID CITY, Neb., Feb. 22.—Amos H. Gould, cashier of the defunct Platte Valley State bank of Bellwood, was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary by Judge Sornberger. When Gould was arraigned in the district court the court room was packed to its utmost capacity with creditors of the defunct bank, those whose names had been forged to notes and mortgages, and a large number who came through curiosity. When Gould was arraigned he pleaded guilty to the charge of forging notes and disposing of the same. The information contained eleven counts and he pleaded guilty to each count separately. Judge Sornberger briefly commented on the various crimes committed and the sentences imposed upon criminals and said that Bartley was sentenced to the penitentiary for twenty years and was pardoned out at the expiration of six years, but he hoped the good people of Nebraska did not approve of the pardon. He concluded by saying that forgery is a most heinous crime and asked Gould what excuse he had to offer for committing such a grave crime. Gould said in substance:

"I will have to admit I have done wrong. I knew better. I was brought up better, but I got mixed up in some real estate deals and signed notes with friends which I had to pay and had to raise some money."

When asked as to what he had done with all this money he said:

"I have heard that I have this money stored away some place. This is not true. I have not one dollar."

He did not state what he had done with all the money. The court asked Gould if he knew of, or could give any reason why he should receive a short sentence, and he said:

"Nothing, except I have a family, a wife and two children, a boy fourteen years old and a girl twelve years old."

The short sentence given Gould causes much dissatisfaction.

Sues for Heavy Damages.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Feb. 22.—C. E. Lawrence of Elk Creek, this county, has brought suit in the district court against J. G. Woolsey of Hubbell, Neb., for damages in the sum of $5,000, charging the alienation of his wife's affections. Mr. Woolsey and the complainant's wife, who has since become the wife of the defendant, are charged with having deserted their respective families in Elk Creek some four years ago, proceeding to California, and after securing separations from their partners left behind, being married. The action in the case at this time was presumably prompted by the action Mr. Woolsey has taken against the ten Elk Creek men for threatening himself and wife in Elk Creek on the night of December 26 last.

Kenesaw Postal Shortage.

There are nearly fifty witnesses on the plaintiff's side.

MUSCULAR SORENESS.

As the result of over-exertion and exposure to heat and cold, or from whatever cause, may be treated successfully by the timely application of St. Jacob's Oil. A thorough rubbing is necessary. The Oil should be applied vigorously, for at least twenty minutes, two or three times daily, when all pain, soreness, stiffness will be removed in twenty-four hours. It will also strengthen and harden the muscles. Football players, gymnasts, and all athletes will find St. Jacob's Oil superior to any other remedy for outdoor application, for the reason that its action is more rapid and its effect permanent. Thousands of people all over the world use and recommend St. Jacob's Oil for muscular soreness. A twenty-five cent bottle is quite sufficient to prove its efficacy. In cases where muscular soreness is complicated with any disease which requires an alternative, Vogel's Curative Compound should be taken. This is prepared by the proprietors of St. Jacob's Oil, Baltimore, Md., who will send a sample free on application.

The Social Side of Hanging.

There is a timely flavor of satire about the report that Will Mathis of Oxford, Miss., under sentence to be hanged for murder, has asked the judge not to have him hanged on the same day as his negro accomplice, Orlando Lester, on the ground that he was "opposed to social equality." The Mississippi papers seem to feel that Mathis is needlessly squeamish, but the case illustrates, what is illustrated only too constantly, that a sensitive appreciation of the importance of the color line may co-exist in a man with a very limited sense of the obligations of the ten commandments.—Harper's Weekly.
