

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN ARE SLOWLY DYING FROM CATARRH

Pe-ru-na Cures, That Is Why the People Like It.

All the Advertisement in the World Could Not Make Pe-ru-na as Popular as It Is.

Miss Margaret Donnelly, 21 Webster Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Pe-ru-na was recommended to me about a year ago for catarrh with which I had been troubled nearly all my life, but which had given me serious trouble a few months before I took Pe-ru-na. In two weeks my head cleared up, I did not have headaches, and in a short time felt perfectly well."—Margaret Donnelly.

November Colds Should Not Be Allowed to Develop Into Chronic Catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Cures a Cold Promptly and Permanently.

"I am glad to recommend Pe-ru-na as it has done so much for me. I had been a great sufferer from catarrhal colds until I was urged to try Pe-ru-na, and I am happy to say that it has entirely cured me. I shall never be without it and most cheerfully recommend it to others who are afflicted as I have been."—Katherine Dauter, 239 13th St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Most people think the success of Pe-ru-na depends upon the use of advertisements. Undoubtedly the advertisements help some. But by far the greatest number of people who hear of Pe-ru-na, have their attention called to it by a friend.

Some one gets cured of chronic catarrh by Pe-ru-na. After he is certain of his cure, he is sure to recommend it to his friends. Friend recommends it to friend and the news spreads from tongue to tongue.

All the advertisements in the world could not make Pe-ru-na as popular as it is. Pe-ru-na cures. That is the reason people like it. Pe-ru-na cures a very stubborn disease. That is why everyone recommends it. Pe-ru-na cures chronic catarrh after all other remedies fail which explains why neighbor recommends it to neighbor. Pe-ru-na cures catarrh permanently, and this way has gained a life-long friend. People who have been cured by Pe-ru-na many years ago have been eager to recommend Pe-ru-na to their friends ever since. This is the way Pe-ru-na is advertised. It advertises itself. Once cured of so distressing and exasperating a malady as catarrh, it becomes the duty of every one to pass it along; to call the attention of those who are still victims, to a remedy that rarely fails to cure.

Beware of Cheap Imitations of Pe-ru-na. Be Sure That You Get Pe-ru-na.

There are no substitutes for Pe-ru-na. Allow no one to persuade you that there is something just as good. The success of Pe-ru-na has tempted many people to devise cheap imitations. Beware of them. Be sure that you get Pe-ru-na.

Miss Jennie Driscoll, 870 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "I heard so much in praise of Pe-ru-na as a specific for catarrhal affections that when I found myself with a bad case of catarrh of the head and throat Pe-ru-na was the first thing that I thought of. And my convictions were not wrong, for in a few weeks after using Pe-ru-na systematically I was entirely rid of this aggravating and distressing disease, catarrh.

"If people knew how efficient Pe-ru-na was for this trouble they would not hesitate to try it. I have all the faith in the world in it, and have never known of a case where the person was not cured in a short time."—Jennie Driscoll.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

NEBRASKA IN GENERAL

WANTED TO OWN THE FARM.

Why Borchers Boys Murdered Their Stepfather in Cold Blood.

COLUMBUS—Excitement over the disappearance of Gerrard Borchers from his home near Humphrey was greatly increased by the report that the skeleton of a man supposed to be Mr. Borchers was found in the remains of a straw stack on his farm, burned since he left home. All the flesh, except a part of one foot, was burned from the bones and one of the bones of the leg was broken.

Later—Herman and August Borchers, two of the three boys who were brought to Columbus by Sheriff Byrnes to answer to the charge of murdering their stepfather, Girhard Borchers, and cremating his remains in a strawstack at their home near Humphrey, are in jail pending preliminary hearing. John, the youngest boy, was permitted to accompany his uncle, George Borchers, to the latter's home near Humphrey, the officers considering him innocent of real complicity.

It is now said that the hoped-for acquisition of the farm prompted Herman, the 14-year-old boy, to plan the crime, and that they believed themselves proprietors of the place is evidenced by the fact that two days after the tragedy and before the discovery of the cremated remains, the boys drove to Humphrey and ordered a windmill to be put up on the farm, remarking that as their father had disappeared, they thought they would fix the place up.

It has come to light that the two older boys, commonly known as stepsons of the deceased, were in reality the illegitimate offspring of the deceased mother by a German before her removal from the old country. It is also said that the father of the boys was an unprincipled scoundrel and it is thought that the depravity manifested by the boys was inherited from the father.

Confession of the crime is this: That about 9 o'clock Friday morning the father was sitting in the kitchen reading a newspaper, when Herman slipped in and placing the gun within two feet of his father's head fired with deadly effect. After having done the shooting he proceeded to the barn, harnessed a team, hitched to a plow, and plowed a fire line around an old straw stack which stood about twenty rods from the house. Then he went back to the house, fastened a rope around his father and dragged him out into the straw stack. Then Herman hitched to the plow and plowed up to the house, covering the stains of blood. The boy then hitched the team to the wagon and got a load of fresh straw and piled it on the body and cremated it with the exception of one foot, which was the only portion of the body left.

IT LOOKS MUCH LIKE FRAUD.

Land Entries in Nebraska May Be Cancelled.

Washington dispatch: The interior department has suspended, with a view of cancellation, a large number of alleged fraudulent land entries in Nebraska made by soldiers' widows, who, it is charged, have entered into an agreement for the transfer of the lands to cattlemen. W. N. Lesser of Iowa, a special agent, whose headquarters have been for several years at North Platte, Neb., has been suspended in connection with these proceedings.

The action follows an investigation that has been quietly conducted in Nebraska by Colonel John S. Mosby, the former guerrilla leader, who is now a special agent of the general land office. The exact extent of these operations is not disclosed, but so far as known there are about forty-five or fifty of them, each entry being for 160 acres. The government recently has been enforcing its regulations for the removal of fences erected by cattlemen on public lands, and an effort to validate as far as possible the land now occupied by cattlemen. Under the law soldiers' widows have a right to make entries of public lands without any residence requirements, but they are required to make improvements and cultivate the lands.

It is understood that the women who made the entries are mostly Chicago people, who were influenced to take these steps by the agents of cattlemen, with the agreement to transfer the land to the latter by leases with the right to purchase it.

Walnut Stumps Become Valuable.

Walnut stumps have assumed an unlooked-for value in Tennessee, where an Indiana firm has been buying all that it can lay hands upon. The stump of a tree felled several years ago consequently brought more than its trunk and branches formerly did. The uglier and knottier the stump the better the price. It is said that the stumps are used in making veneering material used in the manufacture of high-grade furniture.

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

Case No. 49,763.—Mrs. M. Isted, of 1207 Strand street, Galveston, Tex., who is proprietor of a boarding house at that address, numbering among her boarders a dozen medical students, says: "I caught cold during the flood of September, 1900, and it settled in my kidneys. Despite the fact that I tried all kinds of medicines and was under the care of physicians, the excruciating twinges and dull aching across the small of my back refused to leave, and trouble with the kidney secretions began to set in. From then, ordinary Anglo-Saxon fails to describe the annoyance and suffering I endured. The fearful pain through my body, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, consequent loss of energy, and, finally, indication of complete dissolution compelled me, from sheer agony and pain, to either lie on the floor and scream, or forced me into spasms. On such occasions my husband called in a physician, whose morphine treatment relieved me temporarily. I grew weaker and thinner, and so run down physically that nothing was left but skin and bone. All my friends, acquaintances and neighbors knew about my critical condition, and on one occasion I was reported dead and they came to see my corpse. At last the doctors attending me held a consultation and agreed that if I did not undergo an operation I could not live. Preparations were made, a room selected at the city hospital, and they even went so far as to have the carriage brought to the door to carry me there. I don't know why, but something told me not to go, and I absolutely refused. Now I want the reader to grasp every word of the following: A friend of ours, a Mr. McGaund, knowing that my kidneys were the real cause of the entire trouble, brought a box of Doan's Kidney Pills to the house, and requested me to give them a trial. I had taken so much medicine that I was more than discouraged, and had little, if any, faith in any preparation. However, I reasoned if they did not do me good they could not possibly make me worse, so I began the treatment. After the third dose, I felt something dart across me like a flash of lightning, and from that moment I began to improve. The pain in my back and kidneys positively disappeared, the kidney secretions became free and natural. At present I rest and sleep well, my appetite is good, my weight has increased from 118 to 155 pounds, and my flesh is firm and solid. My friends actually marvel at the change in my appearance. Words cannot express my own feelings. I am not putting it too strongly when I say I have been raised from the dead. I am satisfied that had it not been for Doan's Kidney Pills, taken when they were, I would have been either lying in the Lake View Cemetery, or an invalid for the balance of my life. I will be only too pleased to give minutest particulars of my case to any one calling on me, not, of course, out of idle curiosity, but if they really have kidney complaint and want to know what course to pursue to get relief."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Green County's Sensation.

Catskill, N. Y., November 10th.—Ulster and Greene counties are ringing with the news of the wonderful recovery of George F. Ayers, who lives at 16 Division street, in this city. One year ago Mr. Ayers was suffering from Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, and the doctors gave him little relief and less hope. To-day Mr. Ayers is as well as man could wish. He tells the following story:

"About a year ago I was at West Camp, sick with Bright's Disease and without hope of ever being better, when an old gentleman from Bath, N. Y., advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills, telling me they had cured him of the same disease.

"I had tried so many remedies that I was past hoping and told him so, but when he bought me a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and coaxed me to try them I did so just to humor his whim.

"That was the means of saving my life. I took that box and half a dozen more. Thanks to that old man and Dodd's Kidney Pills, I am cured."

If half the world knew what the other half were doing, we'd be kept busy turning green with envy and melting with pity.
