BARTLEY announces the public sale of the remains of her waterwords, tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

THE Georgia supreme court has rendered a decision to the effect that failure to give medicine to a sick child is not a violation of the state laws, notwithstanding the child in the case in court died.

THE late Thomas Brackett Reed's definition of a trust is not exactly Websterian, but pretty accurate: "A trust is a body of very rich men entirely surrounded by water."

IF THE matter were left to the newspaper boys Judge Abbott would soon be at the helm of the Hayes Center Republican again. The expressions of regret and sympathy have been almost unanimous in this part of the state, notwithstanding many of the boys cannot en-dorse some of his political moves of the past year or two.

HERE's to the sugar beet, may its culture in southwestern Nebraska never grow less, but increase by leaps and bounds as the years roll on. Every minor objection should be made secondary to the main issue. Sugar beets can be raised profitably and with certainty in southwestern Nebraska, and every reasonable effort should be made to secure a factory in the Republican valley at the earliest possible date.

WE are pleased to note that C. E. Eldred of McCook is being highly spoken of throughout this judicial district as Judge Norris' successor. Mr. Eldred is a young man of more than ordinary ability and would preside with dignity and be an able successor to Normal of Southwestern Nebraska, dur-Judge Norris. CONGRESSMAN-ELECT G. W. NORRIS has been in Beaver City, yesterday and today, greeting his many friends and receiving their hearty congratulations for the happy result of the recent election. Judge Norris will not resign his position on the bench until after January 1st. He expects to be able to visit Washington before the close of the present session of congress. He finds that his new duties will require a large amount of preparation and study, especially so in regard to the pension laws and other matters in which his constituents are

THE McCook papers are making a laudable effort to secure the Summer last year and if McCook succeeds in landing the plum, they will have to do the right thing. McCook is all right, but we are afraid she is a little too high priced for a majority of the teachers .-Trenton Register.

THE TRIBUNE just wants to add a word to the above, which in the main is correct. We favor McCook over our neighbor on the west simply because of the about the matter very promptly, and at once commence an advertising campaign for the purpose of retaining at home the money which now is lost to him and others, by the non-advertising idea. ed that this only objection may be removed, and that rates relatively as low as Cuibertson gave last year, can be secured here. Some of the rates of last year, it will be recalled, were way below cost and it was not practicable to carry out the agreement. The object, this coming year, should be to secure a fair rate which can be fulfilled. And McCook must do that thing. The institute must
