

SUFFERING WOMEN.

Tired, Nervous, Aching, Trembling, Sleepless, Bloodless—Pe-ru-na Renovates, Regulates, Restores Many Prominent Women Endorse Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. EMMA MITCHELL.

AMERICA is the land of nervous women. The great majority of nervous women are so because they are suffering from some form of female disease. Mrs. Emma Mitchell, 520 Louisiana street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "Peruna has certainly been a blessing in disguise to me, for when I first began taking it for troubles peculiar to the sex and a generally worn out system, I had little faith.

"For the past five years I have rarely been without pain, but Peruna has changed all this, and in a very short time. I think I had only taken two bottles before I began to recuperate very quickly, and seven bottles made me well. I do not have headache or backache any more, and have some interest in life. I give all credit where it is due, and that is to Peruna.—Emma Mitchell.

By far the greatest number of female troubles are caused directly by catarrh.

They are catarrh of the organ which is affected. These women despair of recovery. Female trouble is so common, so prevalent, that they accept it as almost inevitable. The greatest obstacle in the way of recovery is that they do not understand that it is catarrh which is the source of their illness. In female complaint, ninety-nine cases out of one hundred are nothing but catarrh. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located.

Chronic invalids who have languished for years on sick beds with some form of female disease begin to improve at once after beginning Dr. Hartman's treatment.

Among the many prominent women who recommend Peruna are:—Belva Lockwood, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Col. Hamilton, of Columbus, Ohio; Mrs. F. E. Warren, wife of U. S. Senator Warren, of Wyoming.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

MANY WOMEN WHO MAKE LIVING "ON THE ROAD"

There are more than half a hundred women in the United States who earn a living, and a good one at that, by acting as "drummers," or commercial travelers, for business houses. One of the most successful of these saleswomen is not of the opinion that all members of her sex could do as well as she has done. "The women who have made a success on the road," she said recently, "are the women who would have made a success in any line of work they took up. There is the rank and file in every business, but I think that fewer women go on the road now than did a few years ago.

"Men do not regard the woman commercial traveler with favor, and many houses employ them simply as an advertisement to attract attention to their goods and make them talked about in the small towns. Other houses refuse to have a woman represent them on the road, and there are still others who find that the per cent of sales by their feminine representatives is as large, if not larger, than by the men who made the same territory.

"The work is hard, but less hard than that of a clerk who stands still all day behind a counter, and the pay is better. Most traveling saleswomen can make at least $1,000 a year, and few clerks receive more than $15 a week. Some routes are pleasanter than others, and it is not always agreeable to make towns of less than 8,000 inhabitants, as the hotels are likely to be poor, and there is nothing to do for amusement after the day's work is over."

There are a number of Minneapolis women who have made a success as traveling saleswomen, but they were endowed with the ability to make a success of anything they undertook. They have shrewd, capable, business brains, they are not afraid of work, and they deserve the large checks they receive in payment for the equally large orders they send in to their houses. Miss Pettibone, who formerly made Minneapolis her home, and who now represents a corset house, with headquarters in Chicago, receives a salary of about $7,000 a year. Miss McCue formerly traveled for Washburn, Crosby & Co. and was one of the few women selling flour. She has recently abandoned breadstuffs for soap.

Among the traveling saleswomen who are well known to buyers are Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Allen, who sell baking powder; Miss Louise Ames, who has a dry goods line; Miss Augusta Asher, infants' wear; Miss Heintzman and Miss Annis Burr Porter, mousetraps.

Most of the traveling saleswomen represent some branch of women's wear. The women who sell soap and flour and salt are not bothered with large trunks or samples, and they can make their sales at once if the buyer is in the humor. A man can sometimes coax him into a purchasing disposition with a cigar or a drink, but a woman has to depend on her wit, which does not always answer the same purpose.

PRACTICAL BREWER TELLS OF DISCOVERY OF LAGER BEER

Two practical brewers as they conversed the other day had an argument over the invention of lager beer. A third brewer joined them and said: "Lager beer was not invented. It was discovered—accidentally discovered. Here is the story as my grandfather handed it down to my father:

"A saddler of the German town of Bamberg sent his apprentice one morning in the Middle Ages for a bottle of the beer they used in those days—a vile beer that was drunk as soon as it was brewed. The apprentice bought the bottle, and on the way home with it met a practical joker. The joker said to him:

"Your boss is looking for you. He says you have spoiled three days' work and he is going to baste you with a cart whip."

"At this news the apprentice was so scared that he buried the beer under a tree and ran off and enlisted in the army. He prospered in the army. In time he became an officer and got the cross of honor. Then he thought he would return to his native town.

"When, with a long furlough, he drew near the town, he recalled the bottle of beer he had buried and he dismounted from his charger on reaching the well-remembered tree and dug up the bottle and carried it to his former master.

"Old man," he said, "you sent me after a bottle of beer five years ago. Here is the beer now."

"The master embraced him, congratulated him on his success in life and opened the bottle to share with him its contents. Such excellent beer neither had ever tasted before. It was like old wine. The master, as soon as he learned that it was burial that had so much benefited it, bought 1,000 bottles of beer, buried them, and five years later sold them at a great profit, for everybody that tasted the new drink loved it.

"In time the secret leaked out. Breweries everywhere came to know that beer, by lying, improved. So they all adopted the lying process, and they called the new drink 'lying' or 'lager' beer, for 'lager' means 'lying,' as you know.

"In the past centuries they let beer lie longer than we do now. This is a fast age, you know."

JUST AN INCIDENT IN LIFE OF A PROMOTER

Henry Wollman has a story of how he once came near to being a millionaire.

"About a year ago," said he, "my office boy brought me a card reading, 'Mr. Joseph Montague,' one hundred and something Broadway. When this Mr. Montague entered, I recognized a man I had seen in the west. He told me he was about to get up a corporation to utilize the water power of the Missouri and Kansas rivers at Kansas City. He had already agreed upon contracts with all the pork packers and other utilizers of power in Kansas City, according to his story. A large quantity of blue prints and other formidable looking things he carried under his arm. There was going to be three million dollars clear profit in the transaction, he asserted, when he told me he had decided to make me counsel of the company, and would give me a million dollars for my services. I could not quite see why he should have two million and I only one, but he finally persuaded me that I ought to be satisfied with the million dollars.

"His face lighted up with satisfaction. Suddenly it changed, and he said: 'Something awful happened to me last night; a burglar broke into my room and stole my trousers with all my ready cash, and although it is nearly noon, I haven't had breakfast yet.'

"Naturally I said, 'Mr. Montague, it is necessary for the success of our great enterprise that you should keep in good physical condition; here's a half dollar; get your breakfast.'

"Montague departed, and that is the last I ever saw of my half dollar or my million-dollar fee. This is no joke. It actually happened, and something like it is happening every hour in New York."—New York Times.

GOOD OLD CUSTOMS OF THE WEST IN DISFAVOR

A brief note in a Russell paper states that Judge "Jim" Reeder, of the District court, has informed the members of the local bar that they will no longer be allowed to appear in court in their shirt sleeves, according to the Kansas City Journal. Probably Judge Reeder is not to blame for this. He seems to be simply the helpless instrument of that effete civilization of the East which is overwhelming the primitive democracy of the boundless prairies. But nevertheless this order will sorely try the souls of a few remaining members of the ancient Western bar who did not consider themselves equipped for business until coat was off, suspenders down and shirt thrown open at the neckband. Coats, indeed! Time enough has not yet elapsed to make us forget the picturesque G. Polk Cline, who used to come to this self-same court in overalls, army shirt and bare feet, often giving slight annoyance to his brother attorneys by working the mud from between his toes while his extremities were elevated above the common table. And neither can we reconcile this pert order with the fashions of not so long ago, when bluff old Sheriff Lanahan used to convene court in this short but emphatic formula:

"Take off yer gins and hats, ye bums and sports! The honorable court is now in session!"

NERVE WORN KIDNEYS.

Doan's Kidney Pills make freedom from kidney trouble possible. They carry a kind of medication to the kidneys that brings a bright ray of hope to desperate cases.

Aching backs are eased, hip, back, and loin pains overcome. Swelling of the limbs and dropsy signs vanish. LOCK HAVEN, PA.—Mrs. C. W. Ammunen writes: "A few weeks ago I sent for a trial box of Doan's Kidney Pills for myself, and they did all they are said to do. My husband was kicked last fall by a horse and badly hurt—his hip was fractured—and after he recovered he was in such misery that he could hardly walk, and to stoop caused him such distress that he thought he would have to quit work—also, he affected his bladder, and he was unable to make his water without so much distress. I insisted on his getting a box of your pills and trying them, so I went to Mason's Drug Store and got a box. The first box helped him so much that I got the second and also the third, and now he is entirely well."—Mrs. L. W. AMMUNEN, LOCK HAVEN, PA.

It Converted the Moonshiner. The fate of those Arkansas farmer boys who poisoned themselves with "whisky" made from wood alcohol made such an expression on John H. Brumley, moonshiner, that he loaded his still into a wagon, drove to Hot Springs and surrendered it and himself to the United States commissioner. His whisky had always been pure stuff, he said, but he wanted to get out of the business.

Russell Sage's Brick. Russell Sage boarded a Sixth avenue elevated train at Rector street one day last week. He carried under one arm a sample brick wrapped in a newspaper. It was one that the builder of the Emma Willard seminary had taken to the financier's office. Repairs to Mr. Sage's hall are to be made and Mr. Sage wanted to see the brick that is to be used. It was worth perhaps 2 cents. At Twenty-eighth street a sporty looking youth, who evidently knew the great man, reached down, seized the brick, dashed to the door, was down stairs and away before Mr. Sage, much annoyed, could get to the door and breathlessly explain to the guard what had happened. "I felt sorry for him," said the latter, when he told of the experience. "He looked real sad at losing that brick, but I'd have given a dollar to have seen the face of the other fellow when he cut the string."

A Good Story. Frederika, Ia., July 13th.—Mr. A. S. Grover of this place tells an interesting story showing how sick people may regain their health if they will only be guided by the experience of others. He says: "I had a very bad case of Kidney Trouble, which affected my urinary organs so that I had to get up every hour of the night. I could not retain my urine and my feet and limbs began to bloat up. My weight was quickly running down. "After I had tried many things in vain, I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills, a medicine which had cured some other very bad cases. "This remedy has done wonders for me. I have gained eight pounds in two months. The bloat has all gone from my feet and legs, and I don't have to get up at night. I took in all about ten boxes before I was all sound. "Those who suffer as did Mr. Grover can make no mistake in taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, for they are a sure, safe and permanent cure for all Kidney urinary disorders.
