Jumped Off of a Moving Train.

Miss Lena Reimers of our city had a narrow escape from serious injury, if not death, last Sunday evening, in jumping off of passenger train No. 5, as the train was approaching this city. It appears that she is not familiar with travel by rail. She got on the train at Red Willow, coming to the city from a visit home south of that place. About a mile east of the city, when the brakeman called out the name of the station the young woman promptly got up from her seat and hurried to the door of the coach jumped off while the train was moving at quite a rate of speed. Fortunately her injuries were not serious, but consisted in a severe shaking up, a bad cut in the head and minor cuts on the face. Her neck was evidently considerably injured by the fall. This was the girl's first ride on a railroad train and when the station was announced she thought she had to get off immediately and gathering up her bundles hurried forth. When she got to the steps she missed the top step and plunged forward from the train striking on her head and shoulder. The brakeman grabbed for her as she fell outward but did not succeed in reaching her. The train came on to town and trainmen announced the accident. A number of citizens at once started out to find the girl whom they located in the darkness by her groans along side the track just south of East McCook. By this time the switch-engine arrived from the yard and the girl was brought to town. She was at once taken to the office of Dr. S. C. Beach, where she received medical attention and remained during the night. Monday morning, she was moved to the home of James McAdams, where she is now improving satisfactorily.

"At Home" to Many Friends.

Mrs. F. G. Westland was "at home" to a large company of lady friends, Wednesday afternoon, adding another delightful number to the social affairs of a gay week. She was assisted by Mrs. J. F. Kenyon and Mrs. C. M. Bailey as ushers, and Mrs. James Hatfield, Mrs. G. R. Snyder, Mrs. W. B. Mills and Mrs. J. M. Trammell, who served chocolate in upstairs apartments. High-five of the military brand was played, Mrs. W. S. Perry and Mrs. A. L. Knowland winning for Fort Robinson, and receiving handsome bouquets of roses and white chrysanthemums. An elaborate 4-course luncheon was served. The house was profusely decorated in patriotic colors. The flowers were red roses and white chrysanthemums.

A Farewell to Mrs. C. E. Pope.

Tuesday evening of this week, the members of the order of Lady Macabees held a farewell party at the home of Mrs. H. P. Waite in honor of Mrs. C. E. Pope, who this week, departed for her new home in Saint Joseph, Missouri. The guests played "Flinch" as a pastime. Refreshments were served. A remembrance of two beautifully hand-painted plates was a feature of the gathering. The Pops have been for years highly esteemed citizens of McCook and their departure is a source of very keen regret to a wide circle of friends and admirers. It is a general hope that St. Joe may prove a pleasant and satisfactory home for them.

They Painted the Barn.
Tuesday evening, about fifty citizens of McCook repaired to the ranch of James Hatfield, a few miles east of town, put on the finishing touches—paint—and dedicated the large, fine structure to the comfort and protection and feeding of his fine herd of blooded cattle.
The day laborers and artists carried with them all the essentials for a gay time—edibles, paint, musicians and joyous spirits. At about 9 o'clock, after everybody and everything belated was reported present, a grand lunch was spread in the barn, and there has been nothing like it on earth since old Belshazzar's time.
Thereafter until midnight, Terpichore had the floor together with her votaries.
Following is the form of invitations issued and it is a matter of pride with those interested that the letter and the spirit thereof were followed:
"Yourself and ladies are cordially invited to attend the grand dedication of James Hatfield's new barn, just recently completed (all but the painting), on Tuesday evening, October 27th, 1908.
"Bring your lunch baskets well filled. Supper at 6 p. m., sharp; immediately after which will occur the grand midway parade. Grand march at 8 o'clock in the hay mow.
"Full dress suits, red hose and cigarettes barred.
"If you are not in the mood to paint, don't come.
"By order of committee appointed to invite you."

The barn is one of the finest in the country, being 40x96 feet, two stories high, on stone foundation, shingle roof, match flooring etc. It will house about one hundred head of cattle and store 130 tons of hay, besides has quarters for horses and feed. It is an ornament to one of the greatest ranch properties in Red Willow county.

Prof. W. J. McGillin and J. G. Schobel provided the music for the dance.

An Extensive Social Function.
Messdames H. P. Sutton, Vina Wood, J. F. Kenyon and G. R. Snyder were hostesses at an extensive and successful social affair, last Friday, in which a large company of guests participated.

Both affairs were in the nature of card parties—military high-five being played at each. At the afternoon party there were about thirty-five ladies present. A four-course breakfast was served at high noon, Messdames F. G. Westland, W. S. Moran, A. L. Knowland and C. M. Bailey and Miss Margaret Evans assisting. Fort Crook, defended by Mrs. R. M. Douglass and Mrs. Anna Colfer won the prize.

In the evening there were about fifty ladies and gentlemen present. A three-course luncheon was served, Messdames A. L. Knowland, F. G. Westland, W. S. Moran, C. M. Bailey, Miss Margaret Evans, Miss Bessie Bosworth, Miss Lettie Knipple, Dare Kenyon and Harold Sutton assisting in the serving. Fort Riley, defended by Mrs. W. B. Mills and Dr. C. L. Fahnestock, were the prize winners.

The decorations were patriotic, flags and bunting being utilized over the house tastefully.

TO THE VOIERS OF REDWILLOW CO.

I am told that it may be of interest to some to know of my plans for the schools should I be elected county superintendent. I have not formulated any plans in detail, but of this much I am sure: My entire time shall be devoted to the duties of the office, and it shall be my purpose to bring the work of the rural schools up to where it shall more nearly fit into that of the city schools, at all times endeavoring to work for the best interests of patrons and teachers.
This cannot be done in one year, nor in two, for it is a matter that has been and must be of gradual growth. It can be hastened by the liberality of our state in providing for the training of its teachers. The Junior Normal in this county is a factor that should receive the hearty support of all educators. With its help the character of the work in our schools should show marked improvement.
I believe that the successful teacher must study, and the Junior Normal offers an opportunity of inestimable value to the teachers of this county. Summer study means a sacrifice of pleasure, often, and of money always, but the teacher whose heart is in her work knows that it pays, and to such teachers alone the schools should be given.

Pade's Undertaking Rooms Scorched.

Fire last Friday afternoon damaged Pade & Son's undertaking rooms on West Dennison street to the extent of about $300. The fire evidently was communicated to the building from a defective steamstack in the McCook steam laundry adjoining it. The flames were confined between the roof and ceiling, and were soon controlled by the department. The goods in the rear end of the building were moved into the front of the building, hence there was no loss of stock.
It was at first thought the fire was in the laundry, but later the undertaking rooms were discovered to be on fire and a second alarm was turned in.

Came Home on Their Shields.

The members of the high school football team went down to Franklin, last Saturday, determined to win a victory from their larger and heavier antagonists of the academy at that place or come home on their shields—or words to that effect. We are compelled to state that the shields had to be utilized, as the academy placed on the gridiron a team which averaged about 170 pounds, against which our lads with an average of less than 140 pounds were too light to pull out a victory, although they did succeed in holding them for two downs in the last half. The score was 42 to 0.

The opinion entertained by a few early in the year that Monte Carlos would have a further run this fall and winter has been effectually dispelled, and the fitting-back jackets are receiving the patronage of all dress purchasers and occupying the attention of the manufacturers exclusively. The up-to-date garments are shown by The Thompson Dry Goods Co.

When the merchants of the given community awake to the importance and necessity of intelligent and persistent and liberal advertising the mail-order business will decline accordingly. The local merchant who has "too much business already to advertise" is not liable to be progressive and wide awake and liberal enough to offer much competition to the advertising, enterprising, up-to-date department store and mail-order house.
