The wise, safe and equitable solution of the corporation question, next to the labor problem, is doubtless the most important matter now up to the people of these United States. Judge Peter S. Grosscup of Chicago is responsible for the following paragraph on that question. "The main object to be aimed at is not general and promiscuous publicity, but is a repopularizing of the industries of the country and this can only be accomplished by a corporate policy under which a corporation dishonestly conceived cannot be organized at all, and a corporation dishonestly administered will pass at once, before the evil is irremediable, into the hands of the courts or some department of the government."

Created Wealth.

Something from nothing—a garden from a desert. Such is the history of irrigated sections. Take land that sells for 50 cents an acre, put water on it, and it sells for—what? There are quarters of land in irrigated sections of Colorado that cannot be purchased for $20,000 and which earn a remunerative interest on that valuation.

And yet you can purchase irrigated lands where the soil is perfect beyond belief, where the water supply is plentiful and inexhaustible, where climatic conditions are healthful and exhilarating, where fuel is abundant and cheap, for from $15 an acre up.

THE REASONS.

The North Platte valley, extending from Bridgeport, Neb., to Guernesey, Wyo., and the Big Horn Basin, Wyoming, have been but recently made available for settlement by the extension of the Burlington railroad into those sections. The irrigating companies must have settlers along their ditches and they offer substantial inducements in shape of low priced water rights and lands.

HOW LONG WILL THIS CONDITION CONTINUE?

None may say surely, but it won't be for long, and the sooner you invest the cheaper will you be able to do so, for the advance is just as sure as has been the advance in the price of similar lands in other sections.

For further information write to J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Burlington, Omaha.—1-22 5ts

COLEMAN.

Mr. Griffiths of Dodgeville, Wisconsin, who bought the R. J. Traphagan farm, last fall, has arrived with his young wife, has taken possession and set up housekeeping. We extend them a hearty welcome and wish them a long, happy and useful life. His mother came along and will spend a few weeks with them.

James Kelley is hauling off wheat. Will buy hogs Tuesdays and Saturdays. F. S. Wilcox.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their "teens" are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

HANDLING ANIMALS.

Done Properly, Hardly the Most Violent Will Resent It.

"There is hardly a living creature," said a naturalist, "that will not permit a human being to touch it if it is done in the right way. It is necessary to be gentle and patient and at the same time without fear. I have seen natives scratch the heads of tigers and lions within a few days after they were trapped. Hunters of wild elephants often crawl among a herd and rub their legs. The great brutes, although they are on the alert, will permit the carcass and stand still until the plucky hunter is able to slip a rope around the leg of the animal he wishes to capture.

"In our own country I have seen many men who can creep to a trout stream and gently place their hands under a trout. Very softly they rub its belly, and the trout will lie quite still until with a sudden jerk it is landed on the bank.

"I have also seen professional rat catchers put their hands, palm upward, before a rat hole when the ferrets were driving them. As a rat ran out it would sit still on the rat catcher's hand. Then with his other hand he would stroke it delicately, and in three times out of four he would manage to lift the rat without alarming it and drop it into his bag.

"I have even known a man who could handle the salt water blue crab, the most belligerent and vindictive creature in the sea."

Gretna Green in London.

There is one "chapel royal" which is really not a royal chapel at all, says the London Tatler. This is the one known as Savoy chapel, which pertains not to the crown, but to the duchy of Lancaster. Properly speaking, it is the chapel of the Hospital of St. John the Baptist, if one must give it the only title that is historically correct. A couple of centuries ago it was a kind of ecclesiastical Gretna Green in London, with "five private ways to it by land and two by water," as the touting advertisement put it, and runaway lovers were clandestinely united there "with the utmost privacy, decency and regularity" at the nominal expense of one guinea inclusive. The old ways have been reformed by act of parliament, but the famous chapel is still a favorite with those who fancy a quiet wedding. You can drop in casually and unostentatiously and after the ceremony adjourn to a neighboring restaurant, in accordance with the latest custom of the best society.

Thomas Jefferson, Farmer.

Like Washington, Jefferson delighted in farming. "The hope of a nation," he wrote in his youth, "lies in the tillers of the soil." In his final retirement at Monticello a guest addressed him ceremoniously as "President Jefferson."

"Farmer Jefferson," the distinguished statesman interposed. "I would rather be Farmer Jefferson than to have all the titles of Europe."

His garden book, covering a period of half a century, shows the precision with which he farmed at Monticello. Here, for example, is an excerpt from his memoranda for July of one year: July 15.—Cucumbers came to table; planted out celery; sowed patch of peas for fall; planted snap beans.

July 22.—Had the last dish of our spring peas.

July 31.—Had Irish potatoes from the garden.—Leslie's Monthly.

A Ruse.

Mrs. Rangle—I've advertised for a servant for a whole week with no results.

Mrs. Cumso—Well, I advertised for a good looking lady help and had thirty-four to select from the first day.—Baltimore Sun.

Escaped An Awful Fate.

H. Haggins of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by L.W. McConnell, druggist. Price 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Unequaled For Constipation.

A. R. Kane, a prominent druggist of Baxter Springs, Kansas, says: "Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are, in my judgment, the most superior preparation of anything in use today for constipation. They are sure in action and with no tendency to nauseate or gripe. For sale by all druggists."

GRANTING A FAVOR.

Do It Gracefully—Do Not Make the Recipient Feel Contemptible.

The essence of truest kindness lies in the grace with which it is performed. Some men seem to discount all gratitude, almost make it impossible, by the way in which they grant favors. They make you feel so small, so mean, so inferior; your cheeks burn with indignation in the acceptance of the boon you seek at their hands. You feel it is like a bone thrown at a dog instead of the quick, sympathetic graciousness that forestalls your explanations and waives your thanks with a smile, the pleasure of one friend who has been favored with the opportunity to be of service to another. The man who makes another feel like an insect reclining on a red-hot stove while he is receiving a favor has no right to expect future gratitude; he should feel satisfied if he receives forgiveness.

Let us forget the good deeds we have done by making them seem small in comparison with the greater things we are doing and the still greater acts we hope to do. This is true generosity and will develop gratitude in the soul of him who has been helped unless he is so petrified in selfishness as to make it impossible. But constantly reminding a man of the favors he has received from you almost cancels the debt. The care of the statistics should be his privilege; you are usurping his prerogative when you recall them. Merely because it has been our good fortune to be able to serve some one we should not act as if we held a mortgage on his immortality and expect him to swing the censor of adulation forever in our presence.—From "The Power of Truth," by William George Jordan, Published by Brentano's.

In the Streets of Benares.

Through a narrow street lined with shrines, temples and shops the way leads toward the sacred river. Here and there it is necessary to pick one's steps. One of the first sights to attract the eye is a dead rat festering before the door of a dwelling, and the rats are said first to have spread the plague at Bombay. A moment later a dirgelike cry breaks upon the ear. It is "Ram, Ram, Ram" in memory of the saintlike prince of ancient India. Four bearers are carrying a body to be burned. So narrow is the street that it becomes necessary to crowd back against a temple wall to let the dead pass by. The body is wrapped in muslin, and the face is covered. The pall is sprinkled with drops perhaps of rosewater, perhaps of the sacred Ganges. This is the path of the dead. No guide is needed except to follow in the hurrying footsteps of those who were carrying the corpse to their resting place upon the pyre.—Professor A. V. W. Jackson in Traveler.

The Smiles Faded.

A pretty American girl traveling in England was sorely tried by the annoyances and stares to which she was subjected on account of her American "peculiarities." She went into a shoe shop in London to buy a pair of shoes, and the clerk tried on innumerable pairs of veritable 'boats,' as she called them, much to the amusement of two Englishwomen customers seated near by, who regarded her through their 'starkers' as if she were some strange animal in a menagerie.

Finally the clerk said apologetically: "We haven't anything narrow enough for you, miss. You see, miss, our ladies have wider feet because they walk so much, miss."

The two Englishwomen smiled with the air of superiority that she had met for so long, and she felt she could stand it no longer. "Do they walk on their hands, too?" she flashed out.

Found His Place.

Two men were discussing the friends of their boyhood and in the course of the conversation mentioned one old schoolmate who had been the possessor of a most unfortunate disposition.

"I wonder what became of him?" said one man. "It always seemed to me that it wouldn't be possible for him to get any enjoyment out of life or find any sort of work that suited him."

"He has," said the other. "I saw him out west last year, and he has a job that suits him to a T. He's station master in a place where there are forty trains a day coming and going, and he sees somebody miss every one of them."

Civic Pride.

"I don't know what we're goin' to do about them two leadin' citizens," said Broncho Bob. "They're lookin' fur one another with six shooters from mornin' till night."

"Has an insult passed?"

"No; it wasn't any insult, but some doubt ariz as to which was the oldest inhabitant, an' they're both determined to settle the question fur good an' all."—Washington Star.

Busy.

"Loadley tells me he hasn't been so busy for years."

"Nonsense! That job he has is a cinch. He never has to work hard there."

"That's just it. He's been fired, and he's chasing around after another job now."—Exchange.

The Belle.

"If Jack Nospud should ask you to marry him," sniped Maude, calling up a blush, "what would you do?"

"What I have always done," said Maude. "Send him to you."—Chicago Tribune.

Great Exercise.

"Is he fond of exercise?"

"Yes; he walks in his sleep."—Detroit Free Press.

Fire and sword are but slow engines of destruction in comparison with the babber.—Steele.

Discovered Baked Snuff.

A Limerick tobaccoist of the name of Lundyfoot, doing a comparatively small trade, was unfortunate enough to have his establishment destroyed by fire. On visiting the ruins next day he saw some of his poor neighbors among the debris gathering the half baked snuff from the canisters which had not been entirely destroyed by the fire. He tasted what he considered the worthless article and to his surprise found that the heat from the fire had added pungency and aroma to the snuff. Profiting by the discovery, the shrewd Irishman at once set about baking his snuff in ovens, and the fame of the "Blackyard snuff" was established and an immense fortune soon made by Lundyfoot, founded upon a mere accident and growing out of a misfortune.

Stropping a Razor.

A correspondent of the Scientific American thus describes his method of stropping his razor: "Every one knows that metal expands with heat. I put my razor, handle kept out, just before stropping in boiling water and leave it until it has absorbed as much heat as I can stand in handling. While the blade is hot I strop it well. The metal cools as I strop. In about twenty-five strokes the edge is sharpened and is keener when cold, for the metal contracts while sharpening."

How to Check Coughing.

Here is a remedy by which the worst fit of coughing can be checked in church or theater: Pour about a half teaspoonful of good, pure cologne into your handkerchief and hold this before your open mouth. Inhale a deep breath or two of the perfume impregnated air, and the coughing attack will be neatly and agreeably nipped in the bud.

A Difference.

Miss Utaplace—I don't know. Are they going to have music or is Gwendolyn going to sing?—Exchange.

Chance For The Tribune Readers.

In order to test THE TRIBUNE'S great circulation and its superior advertising value, we have made arrangements with Cone Bros., the popular druggists, to offer one of their best selling medicines at half-price to anyone who will cut the following coupon and present it at their store.

COUPON.

This coupon entitles the holder to one box of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price. We will refund the money to any dissatisfied purchaser.

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia is not an unknown remedy. It has made many remarkable cures right here in McCook and so positive are Druggists Cone Bros. of its great superiority in curing dyspepsia, constipation, sick headache and liver troubles that they will, in addition to selling it at half price, refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

If you cannot call at their store, cut out the coupon and mail it with 25 cents, and a 50 cents box of the specific will be sent you by mail, charges paid. Do not put it off. "One today is worth two to-morrows."

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months; the doctors stated he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and it cured him. That was six years ago, and since then we always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds, it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1 bottle at A. McMillen's.

Mysterious Circumstance.

One was pale and sallow and the other fresh and rosy. Whence the difference? She who is blushing with health uses Dr. King's New Life Pills to maintain it. By gently arousing the lazy organs they compel good digestion and head off constipation. Try them. Only 25 cents at L. W. McConnell's, druggist.

Early Risers

THE FAMOUS LITTLE PILLS.

For quick relief from Biliousness, Sick Headache, Torpid Liver, Jaundice, Dizziness, and all troubles arising from an inactive or sluggish liver, DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled.

They act promptly and never gripe. They are so dainty that it is a pleasure to take them. One to two act as a mild laxative; two or four act as a pleasant and effective cathartic. They are purely vegetable and absolutely harmless. They tonic the liver.
