Cured of Chronic Diarrhoea After Ten Years of Suffering.

"I wish to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Mattie Burge of Martinsville, Va. "I suffered from chronic diarrhoea for ten years and during that time tried various medicines without obtaining any permanent relief. Last summer one of my children was taken with cholera morbus, and I procured a bottle of this remedy. Only two doses were required to give her entire relief. I then decided to try the medicine myself, and did not use all of one bottle before I was well and I have never since been troubled with that complaint. One cannot say too much in favor of that wonderful medicine." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

Doctors Said He Would Not Live.

Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to I had better attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it and after taking three bottles I began to get better and continued to improve until I was entirely well." Sold by A. McMillen.

MOTHERS, DO YOU KNOW the many so-called birth medicines, and most remedies for women in the treatment of her delicate organs, contain more or less opium, morphine and strychnine?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not take internally any medicine for the pain accompanying pregnancy?

Do You Know that Mother's Friend is applied externally only?

Do You Know that Mother's Friend is a celebrated prescription, and that it has been in use over forty years, and that each bottle of the genuine bears the name of The Bradford Regulator Co.?

Do you know that when you use this remedy during the period of gestation that you will be free of pain and bear healthy, hearty and clever children?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts. Of druggists at $1.00. Don't be persuaded to try a substitute. Our little book, "Motherhood" free. THE BRADFORD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

NOT BENT ON CRUSHING UNIONS.

Omaha Business Men's Association Corrects a False Impression.

Omaha, June 9.—An impression seems to have gone out through various channels that the Business Men's association, recently organized in Omaha, is bent on crushing out the labor unions of this city and is affiliated in some way with a national body similarly inimical to organized labor. A statement recently issued by the authority of the Omaha Business Men's association denies this completely, and further shows that even in the closed meetings of the association the speeches of members have always been marked by the most respectful attitude toward the laboring man, and not a word has been said that would suffer from public repetition.

The conference between the labor leaders and the special committee of the Business Men's association that was called by Governor Mickey brought out a clear and emphatic statement of the position of the two bodies, as shown by the stenographic report, which has just been transcribed. It has been claimed in some quarters that this conference was barren of results, but the exact alignment of positions obtained through it should afford considerable satisfaction, even if no advance was made toward arbitration of the dispute.

This conference seems early to have settled down to an effort on the part of Hon. T. J. Mahoney, the attorney at law, Business Men's association, to put the representatives of labor to a definite and explicit statement of the position and aims of the strike then on in Omaha. In this he seems to have succeeded very well, though at times calling upon himself expostulations from Mr. Bell, did not result in forcing all employees into union ranks, thus in reality driving out the nonunion men, the reply was made that they had no desire to crush him, they "only wanted to get hold of him and talk to him and make a man of him."

It was finally brought out, however, and in most unequivocal terms, that the representatives of the labor unions present would never be willing to submit to arbitration the three salient points of the dispute: (1) The right of the employer to hire both union and nonunion men without discrimination; (2) the use of the boycott and (3) the sympathetic strike. They insisted that these were their weapons and perfectly legitimate weapons in their warfare against the nonunion man; as they expressed it, "warfare against the man who resists the onward march of organized labor." It was further maintained with considerable show of effrontery that in the laboring majority it is to be found that the minority must eventually yield. Finally Mr. Bell declared, quite hotly, "The time has gone by in this community when the individual has any very material rights left."

On the part of the Business Men's association, on the other hand, the point was very clearly made that they do not refuse to grant to the unions that much sought for "recognition," if such recognition implies simply an acknowledgment of their legal existence, or even an agreement to settle questions affecting wages and hours with the officers or committees representing such unions; but the association, in common with similar bodies of business men in Denver, Kansas City, Chicago, New York and other cities, does refuse to "recognize" the unions if that recognition can be accomplished only by signing contracts in which the employer is pledged to employ union men exclusively and to refuse supplies, merchandise or service to any individual, firm or corporation that may be pronounced at any time "unfair" by the unions.

The kernel of the whole dispute seems to lie in this. The union men believe and pretend they believe that their unions are in danger of disruption if they concede these principles to their employers. The latter, while absolutely refusing to surrender to such dictation, have endeavored to point out that they will still be left much for organized labor to accomplish in this world without trying to run on union lines both the employers' and the employees' ends of the entire business of the community.

This point was voted recently by a well known business man of Omaha, who said: "Where would this sort of thing lead us, were the unions to win out in their strike? It would result in a form of oligarchy, in which the dictators would be a small group of men behind a table in Labor Temple, a little government within the government, issuing their mandates to the business men, the statesmen of Nebraska. A laborer could find work who did not belong to a union; nor could he, on the other hand, belong to a union unless he agreed to abide by all the rules that the union might make, and the employer of which the union should be the sole arbiter."

The daily press of Omaha has attempted to cloud the issue. By skillful use of headlines and juggling with the facts these papers have given out the impression, for reasons best known to themselves, that in many cases the strikes had been won by the men, and that in other instances the "scale" had been "signed up" by the employers. Such defections have only occurred among the smaller establishments and have not in any way affected the general result. The terms on which the vast majority of strikers have returned to work in Omaha indicate a complete surrender of their demands. Indeed, there have been no terms at all, except that the men take their places and continue their employment as before, wages not having seemed to cut much figure in this altercation. The Business Men's association has not been jarred in the least. It is by all odds the most representative body of employers ever gotten together in Omaha for any purpose, made up much along the same lines as the famous Knights of Al-Sar-Ben. So far it has been very ably manned, developing from day to day greater wealth of purpose and a clearer knowledge of what it is about. The meetings are maintained with regularity, secrecy and strict attendance. The business men of Omaha seem to have adopted as their working principle the now famous declaration found in the report of the anthracite coal strike commission, as follows:

"The right to remain at work when others have ceased to work, or to engage anew in work which they have abandoned, is part of the personal liberty of a citizen that can never be surrendered, and every infringement thereof merits, and should receive, the stern denunciation of the law."

TESTIMONIAL

Delmont, S. D., Dec. 17, 1902.

I used L. K. for hog cholera and it was all right. It cured my hogs. I had three sick ones and they all got well and done fine. I also used it for chicken lice and mites and it is all you claim for it. It is the only Medicine for hog cholera, I think.

GUTHER, JERKE.

Harrington, Neb., Dec. 11, 1902.

I am using Liquid Koal and am well pleased with it. I am sure I saved my hogs with it last year, and am going to keep it in stock all the time as it is the best thing I ever had on the place for everything it is intended for. It is the best for chicken cholera, lice on stock, insects of all kinds; it will destroy all kinds.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St., CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.

I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. I tried to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maud Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.
