MCCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 22, 1904.

NUMBER 8

Died From Injury Sustained.

Lebanon mourns the death of one of her earliest citizens L. F. Nichols. Thursday of last week he was kicked in the bowels by a horse. Saturday morning he died and on Sunday afternoon was buried at Lebanon.

Mr. Nichols had driven some horses into the barn from the pasture. One horse got in the wrong stall, and it was in driving out this animal that the fatal kick was delivered.

No special danger was at first feared from the injury, but inflammation set in and death quickly ensued in spite of all efforts made to save the life of the patient.

Frank Nichols was one of the most highly esteemed citizens of that section of Redwillow county and his sad death is much regretted and deplored. He moved into the Lebanon neighborhood in 1878.

Prowlers in the Night.

Two unknown men attempted to make an entrance into Police Judge Berry's home, early Tuesday morning. They approached the screen over the window in the bedroom occupied by Elbert Berry, who was awakened by the noise and asked what they wanted. Receiving no reply he at once ordered them away, and they departed hastily. It is probable that they thought another member of the household was in the room, as was the custom, and had sinister designs against money they supposed this party had in the room, but which in reality is safely deposited where it should be—in a bank.

The Case Was Dismissed.

Monday was Police Judge Berry's busy day. One of the cases tried by him was that of J. H. Campbell, charged with being intoxicated. He was convicted and fined. Campbell then claimed the statutory right to divulge where he got the strong drink, it being Sunday when the law is alleged to have been fractured. M. U. Clyde was charged in his complaint with violating the Sunday law, but Clyde was found not guilty as charged and the suit against him was dismissed.

Wearily Willies Wouldn't Work.

Four weary willies were arrested, Monday, and appeared before Police Judge Berry, Monday, under charge of being drunk and loitering about the city with no visible means of support etc. They were each and all convicted and fined and collection of the fines was suspended, the willies being admonished to get busy and leave town or go to work. They left town.

Next Sunday Evening at St. Alban's.

A feature of next Sunday evening's service at St. Alban's chapel will be a solo by Prof. C. H. Miller, "A Dream of Paradise," and a selected vocal number by Prof. S. H. Martin, both of the Junior Normal teacher corps. Miss Anna E. Caldwell, also of the normal force, will be the accompanist.

Will Be Here Next Monday.

C. V. Rundle writes that on account of bad weather he was unable to ship his car of apples, Monday of this week, but that he will positively be on hand with a carload of apples next Monday.

The Service Was Faulty.

The Indianola saloon case had another brief hearing in chambers here, Tuesday, before Judge Orr. The judge held that the service of the remonstrators was faulty and the case was continued until next Monday.

WILLIAM HIERSEKORN drove over from the farm between Danbury and Lebanon, Sunday, bringing his daughter Miss Mattie over to enter the Junior Normal, Monday.

J. E. LOVELL is here from Kentucky on a tender mission, arriving close of last week. He was formerly in the employ of D. W. Loar, druggist of this place, now of Stamford.

Miss NELLIE SMITH entertained the "Aul-O's," Tuesday evening, at the home of her sister Mrs. W. T. Coleman, after the manner of the happiest traditions of those gay nocturnal birds.

EDWARD BRADY was down from Denver, Sunday, a guest of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brady. Edward is employed in the Denver Dry Goods Co.'s great establishment in the "Queen City of the Plains."

Mrs. FRANK S. VAHUE departed, yesterday, for Allegan, Mich., her health requiring a change of climate. Mr. Vahue expects to join her sometime about the middle of August. Many admirers and friends will regret their removal from our city and state.

Mrs. F. E. BEACH, Misses Elizabeth and Belle Beach, mother and sisters of Hubert Beach of Box Elder, arrived in the city, last Saturday on No. 1, from Adrian, Michigan, and expect to be the guests of Hubert up on the farm for the next year, on a long recuperative visit. Miss Elizabeth is a teacher by profession.

MR. AND MRS. GRIFF J. THOMAS of Harvard, Neb., came up to McCook, last Friday, and were the guests of their son and wife Sup't and Mrs. G. H. Thomas till Tuesday. Mr. Thomas is Uncle Sam's postal representative at Harvard and at spare moments takes a hand in the conduct of his newspaper The Harvard Courier.

Mrs. S. L. GREEN and Mrs. Cora Kelly were hostesses to a company of about forty lady friends, last Saturday afternoon, at a lawn Kensington at the home of County Judge and Mrs. Green. It was a social affair of pure delight. The residence was lavishly decorated with nasturtiums and sweet-peas. A toothsome three-course luncheon was daintily served, Mrs. Albert McMillen, Mrs. A. G. Bump and Mrs. A. L. Knowland assisting. Music from a graphophone out on the lawn gave a tone color to the event.

Great Times At the Picnics.

The Knights of Pythias and their friends in great numbers enjoyed all and severally the bright particulars of a sure-enough picnic in the park at Cambridge, yesterday, going down on No. 12 and arriving home on 5, making the day just long enough not to weary. A special coach was provided by the company and the boys tastefully decorated it with knightly words and emblems and colors. Grand Chancellor Commander Kildew of York was a member of the party. The day was dedicated to having a good time and nothing was allowed to break into the occasion.

At the waterworks park, of our city, the same day, the Workmen and Degree of Honor people and their friends also participated in great and happy numbers in a picnic. About ten o'clock in the morning the goat was let loose and the drum corps, uniformed junior and senior drill teams, and people set forth for the park, the drill teams maneuvering down Main avenue, the while. The day passed all too quickly in playing games, hearing speeches, seeing that the provisions did not spoil, etc. It was voted a great success in every respect.

Union Sunday School Meetings.

An all-day union Sunday school meeting will be had Sunday, July 24. The primary departments of all Sunday schools will meet at 10 a. m. at the Baptist church, in charge of Miss Haines. The main schools will meet at the Congregational church at 10 a. m., superintended by H. M. Steidley, field secretary for the Nebraska Sunday School Association. Miss Haines is primary superintendent of the state association. Union service at the M. E. church at 11 a. m., Rev. T. L. Ketman, D.D., preaching the sermon. At the Congregational church the following will be the afternoon program:

2:30—Prayer for the Sunday school. Rev. M. B. Carman
3:00—Children's meeting. Miss Mamie Haines
3:15—The Teacher and Teaching. H. M. Steidley
3:40—Primary Plans. H. M. Steidley
At the park, at 8 o'clock, Echoes from the Jerusalem Cruise.

Nothing to Be Desired.

The completion of the jail and plumbing in the court house, this week, leaves nothing to be desired, and Redwillow county can now point with pride to one of the best appointed, neatest and prettiest court-houses in the western part of the state. The steel cage has been established in a large, airy and well lighted cell in the basement, affording safety and all comfort a prisoner can claim. Besides a large corridor has also been provided, in which prisoners can exercise and enjoy such privileges as may be allowed. With electric lights, steam, city water and excellent sanitary arrangements provided the county jail is in every respect a proper and suitable place for those who may forfeit their liberty by infractions of the law.

Dedicated New County Bastle.

James Quigley and John O'Brien, two pilgrims sojourning in our city temporarily, last week, attempted to get a corner on pants, and they are now occupying the new county jail awaiting trial at the next term of district court. Eight pairs of trousers were stolen from C. L. DeGross & Co.'s clothing department, last week, and part of the plunder was found on the person of one of the prisoners. They were given a preliminary hearing before Squire H. H. Berry, Monday, and were bound over to the next term of district court in the sum of $300 each. Not being able to give bail they were both placed in the keeping of Sheriff Crabtree for their appearance in court.

JUNIOR NORMAL NOTES.

Rev. Loughran was a normal visitor, Tuesday.

August 5th is the date settled upon for presenting "Queen Esther."

Congressman Norris and Rev. Earle were normal visitors, Monday morning. Miss Caldwell gave instruction in music at the Monday chapel, song drills etc.

The model school, this week, dealt with children of the second and third grades.

County Sup't Quick examined fifty teachers, last Saturday, in the east ward school building.

County Sup't Miss Dick of Chase county, has been in attendance at the normal, this week.

Frank Nelson, ex-sup't of public instruction for the state of Kansas, will lecture on "Books and Men" in the Congregational church, July 29th, next Friday evening.

The physics class went with Miss O'Sullivan to the McCook electric light plant's power house, Wednesday evening, to see some of the laws of electricity in practical application.

Montaville Flowers occupied part of the afternoon assembly hour, last Friday, under the heading of reading, giving an interpretation of Lowell's "Bobolink," of which he distributed among the teachers printed pamphlets. It was an instructive delight.

The total enrollment to date is 183. Sixteen new members have been added this week. Last Friday's total enrollment was 166. At Alliance on the same date the enrollment was 158. At North Platte 140. Holdrege 171. This makes McCook's attendance second among the various normal schools of the state and gives McCook the largest comparative gain of all.

The new enrollment this week is as follows: Vira Burgess, Ida Redford, Hazel Hatcher, Dora B. Porter, Indianola; Alice Marquissee, Mollie Ryan, Hattie Green, Palisade; Mabel E. Wilcox, Mrs. Dora Johnston, McCook; Grace Roop, Grace Ford, Culbertson; Christina Nelson, Maywood; H. H. Gallatin, Bartley; Mattie Hierskorn, Lebanon; Emma J. Burrows, Fond du Lac, Wis.; Nellie Dick, Imperial.

The following program was given in the assembly this morning:

Montaville Flowers' "Ben Hur" Great.

Montaville Flowers gave an interpretive recital from "Ben Hur" in the opera house, last Friday evening. Perhaps no other word of praise need be penned than that he held the close attention and undivided interest of a full house on a sweltering night for fully two hours. Mr. Flowers' work is that of an artist well-informed and inspired by his theme, and he had a subject of large, undying interest in "Ben Hur."

Mr. Flowers divided his recital into four acts; giving at the outset a brief foreward of the entire book and covering the intervening years and happenings of note adequately. Much of his recital followed the charming and inspiring text of the author, whom he faithfully and intelligently interpreted to his audience.

To those familiar with the story of the Christ and who remembered the text, the recital was especially interesting and refreshing; none failed of entertainment and instruction, however. All were thrilled. It was all the superb work of a superior man. We will greet him warmly another time.

The next time Samuel Randolph comes to McCook he will find the red standpipe more red. A force of men is at work repainting that familiar landmark, this week.

Messrs. Boyle & Eldred now occupy the front office rooms over the postoffice, C. F. Bohm having accommodatingly moved into the rear room formerly occupied by Mr. Boyle. This gives the new firm the more room needed.

Republicans Name the Winner.

The Republicans of the Twenty-Ninth senatorial district met in convention in this city, Thursday afternoon, and after a sharp skirmish unanimously placed in nomination Albert Wisley of Moorefield, Frontier county, for their candidate for state senator. He is a winner.

Secretary Hollingsworth of Cambridge called the convention to order in the absence of Chairman Stevens in Chicago. He read the call and Charles Skalla of Indianola and Charles L. Allen of Stratton were made temporary chairman and temporary secretary of the convention. Stephen Bolles of Redwillow, John Sanders of Frontier, and John Gull of Hayes counties were appointed the committee on credentials. They found Chase county the only unrepresented county in the district, and no contests. Their report was adopted and the list of delegates as returned by them was accepted as the delegates of record of the convention.

The temporary was made the permanent organization of the convention.

The first informal ballot resulted as follows:

Wisley.....	23
Hasty.....	14
Korb.....	8
Hathorn.....	3
Chase—not represented.....	2
Dundy.....	2
Frontier.....	1
Furnas.....	1
Gosper.....	3 1/2
Hayes.....	4
Hitchcock.....	5
Redwillow.....	8
Totals.....	31 1/2 16 1/2

The nomination of Wisley was made unanimous, and then the convention listened to short addresses by both Wisley and Hasty.

Candidate Wisley was accorded the privilege of naming the chairman and secretary of the central committee.

A committee on resolutions was named as follows: Ed Allen of Furnas, Frank Israel of Dundy and W. D. Mackechnie of Red Willow.

The roll of counties was called and the Senatorial central committee was named as follows:

Chase—not represented.
Dundy—J. M. McCorkle, Benkelman.
Frontier—John Sanders, Stockville.
Furnas—John Rankin, Cambridge.
Gosper—B. M. Allen, Holdrege.
Hayes—J. H. Christner, Hayes Center.
Hitchcock—F. M. Flansburg, Stratton.
Redwillow—W. D. Mackechnie, Indianola.

After a short address by Ex-State Senator Allen of Arapahoe the convention adjourned.

Should Have Been Mrs. Anna Colfer.

In mentioning the purchase, last week, of the Menard & Zint millinery stock and fixtures by O'Donnells & Colfer THE TRIBUNE inadvertently named Mrs. Mary Colfer as one member of the new firm, when Mrs. Anna Colfer is the party in the transaction. The Misses O'Donnell came from Stratton, where for the past six years they have been successfully engaged in the millinery trade. The new firm proposes to give McCook a first-class millinery establishment and will have more to say in good season.

Passed On to Her Reward.

After several months of gradually failing physical powers, Frank Kendien's aged mother passed on to her reward, last Friday evening, at the home of her son in our city. Grandma Kendien was 89 years of age. Rev. J. J. Loughran conducted the funeral services in St. Patrick's church, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, and the remains were interred in Calvary cemetery immediately thereafter.

Notice.

August 2nd, in the First Baptist church, McCook, at 8 p. m., there will be a Piano Recital, given by Edea M. Barr of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, Mass., assisted by Mr. C. H. Miller, instructor of vocal music at the McCook Junior Normal School. The program for the same will appear in next week's TRIBUNE. Everybody welcome. Admission 25 cents.

The location of the sanitary arrangements of the court house will soon be removed to a less conspicuous location in the south end of the basement hall running north and south.

MCCONNELL, Druggist.

The Burlington announced, through its local agent, first of the week, that stock shipments would not be received for eastern and southern markets, on account of the strikes in the great packing-house centers. The company, however, has been handling small shipments for the west.
L. H. Lindemann wishes to announce to his friends of McCook and vicinity that the coal proposition in Colorado does not justify his opening up the coal business until the Routt county coal is placed on the market, which according to the best advice of the officials of the Moffat road, will not reach the Yampa coal fields before the middle of the winter. Mr. Lindemann took a trip over the Moffat road, saw the track laying and says it is done with wonderful rapidity. Upon timing them he saw they laid two steel rails per minute and asking the foreman, learned they covered a distance of two miles per day. They were at work laying the switchback over the continental divide. He also visited the Yampa fields in Routt county and declares that few people of today have any conception of the unlimited amount of coal, iron, oil and gold that will in time be found in those fields. Mr. Lindemann wishes to state that he will busy himself in the real estate business, being special agent for the world famous Wm. Ostrander of Philadelphia. Any who wish to invest in valuable property will do well to call and see him. He will be pleased to have his friends list their property with him, which will receive the best of attention.
