

Miss Hapgood tells how she escaped an awful operation by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAB MES. PINKHAM: - I suffered for four years with what the doctors called Salpingitis (inflammation of the fallopian tubes and ovaritis), which is a most distressing and painful ailment, affecting all the surrounding parts, undermining the constitution, and sapping the life forces. If you had seen me a year ago, before I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and had noticed the sunken eyes, sallow complexion, and general emaciated condition, and compared that person with me as I am today, robust, hearty and well, you would not wonder that I feel thankful to you and your wonderful medicine, which restored me to new life and health in five months, and saved me from an awful operation."- MISS IRENE HAPGOOD, 1022 Sandwich St. Windsor, Ont. - $5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Ovaritis or inflammation of the ovaries or fallopian tubes which adjoin the ovaries may result from sudden stopping of the monthly flow, from inflammation of the womb, and many other causes. The slightest indication of trouble with the ovaries, indicated by dull throbbing pain in the side, accompanied by heat and shooting pains, should claim your instant attention. It will not cure itself, and a hospital operation, with all its terrors, may easily result from neglect.

Theory Regarding the Moon,

The novel theory of Dr. Voight, a German astronomer, is that the greater part of the moon's craters represent work of coral insects in longvanished seas. He finds that if the earth's tropical ocean were suddenly dried up the bed would resemble the face of the moon, the coral formations appearing exactly like the craters of the extinct volcanoes.

Mosquito Cause of Death.

A Jersey mosquito caused the deata of a barber named Rosho Dorso at Harrison, N. J. The barber was shaving and a mosquito lit on his nose. The razor was directly under the barber's chin, and in making a slap to drive away the mosquito, he cut a deep gash in his throat. A physician arrived too late to save him.

Belated Weddings.

The love of independence and the freedom and pleasure of to-day make girls less and less anxious to marry before they are past five and twenty. Perhaps it is better that there should be that disinclination, for our modern life may fit a woman better to marry late than early.-Lady Jeune in London Opinion.

The story of how Standard Oil set about getting the control of banks and trust and insurance companies; how it juggled their funds so as to extend its operations; the process of the "trustification" of corporations as they practice it, and the upbuilding of the greatest financial power in America today, makes a revelation of the most startling significance.

Mrs. Burnett's English Home.

Frances Hodgson Burnett, the author of "Little Lord Fauntlercy," whose story of childhood, "In the Closed Room," is now appearing in McClure's Magazine, has returned for the summer to her English country home, Maytham Hall, in Kent. Mrs. Burnett's estate is a very old one, lying in the most beautiful part of England's most picturesque county. Among American artists one of the most talked-of and most appreciated foreign paintings in this country is the pertrait of "A Woman in Black," by Degas, recently added by Mrs. Gardner to her Fenway Court collection. One of the leading American portrait-painters has called it "the greatest masterpiece in portraits of the last century." A reproduction of this canvas, made by permission of Mrs. Gardner, will appear in the September Century, and the editor takes this occasion to make a new protest against the application of the principle of Protection to works of art.

A gigantic chestnut tree, with a girth of about twenty-five feet, and un der whose branches in 1777 Washing ton and Lafayette held a council col war and ate their meals while camp ing on the place when the American army was marching from Baltimore to Philadelphia, is one of the many objects of interest shown to visitors on the McCormick farm, near Baltimore. This is not a tradition, but a well authenticated fact, as is abundantly attested by the archives of the McCormick family.

The first owner of the old manor was George Councilman, who obtained possession of the farm through a grant from Lord Baltimore. The grant is in possession of Mr. McCormick, who prizes it as a precious heirloom. Mr McCormick became a member of the Councilman family by marriage with Miss Martha Councilman, daughter of George Councilman, who recently diea at the advanced age of 96 years. The grant is beautifully engrossed on parchment and is well preserved and perfectly legible. The place was named Mark Alexander's Range in honor of Mark Alexander, Lord Balti more's agent at that time. It is situ ated on the old Blue Ball road, a short distance east of Pokorny's Four Solving the Difficulty.

Ex-Senator Pritchard of North Care lina, whose marriage to a Washington woman occurred just before the last Christmas holidays, recently related this incident to one of Mrs. Pritchard's schoolgirl friends:

Having an engagement with some politicians at the New Willard hotel, the senator asked that dinner be had a little earlier than usual, whereupon Mrs. Pritchard gave orders that it be served at once.

One of the meat courses was baked chickens, of which the senator is particularly fond. After making a gallant effort to masticate a piece of chicken breast, Mr. Pritchard placed his knife and fork on his plate, and, smilingly looking up at his wife, said: "My dear, this chicken is but half

An English student tells that when he was attending school at Leipzig the feeling regarding the Boer war ran high, the Germans eagerly exulting over any news of British defeat. One of the university professors was the most rabid pro-Boer.
