MCCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 28, 1904.

NUMBER 22

How The Boys Did It.

The McCook boys came in on No. 2, Saturday morning, and were taken to the homes of our team. They spent the remainder of the morning in seeing the town and looking over the foot ball grounds.

The teams came to the grounds promptly at 2:30, where they were greeted by a good crowd.

Both teams were well matched. The game started with McCook's kick-off, Holdrege securing the ball and making a big run towards their goal. Then came the line work of our boys in which they succeeded in pushing the McCook boys within McCook's five yard line and by some mishap, lost the ball.

Our boys held McCook pretty close to goal and finally got the ball which resulted in a line smash by Paul Nelson, who went through the line and made a touch-down.

Next came the Holdrege kick-off, which ended in a touch down for McCook, but instead of McCook's being unlucky at kicking goal, it scored, making our boys one behind.

Thus the first half ended with a score of 5 to 6 in favor of McCook.

The second half was a play for life. It had been necessary for McCook to put in substitutes. Both sides were hitting the lines hard, when McCook, by one of her trick plays, scored again.

Our boys were playing hard in the last half and were gaining on their goal when the whistle blew and all attempts were in vain, the game being stopped with a score of 11 to 5.

It was a hard game and it was only by the good interference and team work that the McCook boys won.—Holdrege Progress.

Council Considers Some Matters.

The city fathers were in regular session, Monday evening, with a full board present.

A resolution was passed ordering the construction of a sidewalk along the north side of Dodge street from Marshall street east to Melvin street.

The members of the council expressed satisfaction at the fact that the legal department had commenced appeal proceedings in the case of James McAdams vs. The City of McCook, damage, which was determined adversely to the city in last term of district court.

The matter of the removal of the body of Luther Nettleton from Longview to Riverview cemetery was discussed and left to cemetery committee. The body was removed some time ago, May last, without full authority it is alleged. The city may go into court to determine the matter.

The following claims against the city were examined, allowed and same ordered paid by warrants on proper funds:

GENERAL FUND.
McCook Loan & Trust Co., rent	$ 75.00
L. P. Moore, laying crosswalks	8.50
E. E. Rogers, eight loads stone	4.50
Thomas Clapp, laying stone	4.54
Barnett Lumber Co., stone	157.15
OCCUPATION FUND.
Johan Ekstedt, salary	$ 63.30

Degree of Honor Resolutions.

Whereas it has pleased the Supreme Protector to suddenly call from this life our brother James V. O'Connell; therefore be it

Resolved that in the death of Brother O'Connell this lodge has lost a respected member, his family a generous and loved father and husband and McCook a good citizen. And

Resolved that we commend the bereaved family to the tender care of "Our Father which art in heaven;" that a copy of these resolutions be spread on our records and that a copy be given to the family of our deceased brother and to the city papers for publication. Signed by the committee: Mrs. A. L. Knowland, Mrs. J. H. Bennett and Mrs. Maurice Griffin.

Reconsidered Their Former Action.

At their meeting on Monday night of this week the members of the local A. O. U. W. reconsidered their action of Monday night of last week, relative to cooperating with F. C. Kellogg in building a lodge hall, and their former action was rescinded. There seems to be considerable opposition to the lodge's engaging in such a project and it was thought best under the circumstances to drop the matter entirely, harmony being an essential element in successfully carrying out such an enterprise.

So the People May Know.

Inasmuch as the new revenue law has been the subject of much discussion in regard to taxes, we have had the following comparative statement taken from the county treasurer's books, showing the 1903 and 1904 taxes covering the same tracts of land.

These names were taken at random from the books, and in every instance it will be found that only the bottom land is higher in 1904.

In some cases an unusually heavy levy for school purposes has kept the tax up. The schedules of personal tax being not yet completed, it is impossible to publish these at this time.

The Railway Company's tax in this county is increased 70 per cent.

Another of the small buildings used by the painters will be held in readiness for use at any point where an emergency may require a station building temporarily.

Just as we think we have a dead cinch on Tom Wilburn and family for permanent residents in comes the boss and says, move Tom. This time he will go to McCook, where he will be more centrally located for the responsibilities that the company has heaped on his shoulders. Tom is a first class man, and what is better the railroad bosses know it. Some day we hope to see him superintendent, a position that he could hold to the satisfaction of the company. Red Cloud people will be sorry to learn that he and his estimable family have to move again.—Red Cloud Advertiser.

A good story is told at the expense of Superintendent Calvert. One of the rules posted for the benefit of the chair car porters was that smoking on duty or in the cars was prohibited. One night Mr. Calvert walked through a chair car in a train at Oxford. It had been vacated for the time being by the passenger and but one person was in the car. That was the porter, a new colored man from the Missouri lines. He was enjoying a smoke. Mr. Calvert tapped him on the shoulder gently and asked him if he did not know that it was against the rules of the company for porters to smoke in their cars. The belligerency of the colored man was in evidence at once. He said: "I guess it is none of your business so long as the officials of the road do not catch me at it." It is said that Mr. Calvert smiled and went on.—Lincoln Journal.

The city teachers met with Miss Stangland, Monday evening. They read and discussed Washington Irving's "Bracebridge Hall."

The music program of last Friday morning consisted of an instrumental selection by Miss Cora Garby, a reading by Miss Storer and a song by Miss Alice McKenna.

The effects of narcotics, judging from the number of pupils who indulge in tobacco, should be taught in all the high school grades, where many of the pupils seem to be entirely unmindful and fearless of the effects of tobacco. It is rather incongruous and remarkable to see lads even below the high school grades going to and returning from school smoking the nastiest and foulest pipes imaginable. Perhaps the teaching might be made more practical,—at any rate an effort might be made to prohibit smoking to and from school, in the interest of a good example to the small boys who may be led to the false imagination that smoking is some way connected with greatness (of the sophomore sort.)

Once upon a time an eminent French lady was moved to remark that "The more she knew of men the more highly she regarded them." And one who ever has the misfortune to be placed in a position to overhear some of the vile profanity and disgusting vulgarity not uncommon with men and even youths on our streets betimes is compelled to admit that the lady aforesaid had large room for her judgment. It is one of the most inexcusable vices to which men become habituated.

The service in the Methodist church, last Sunday morning, for the old folks attracted a large congregation. The service was enjoyed by the special guests of the unique occasion, and certainly was not without interest and instruction to the younger members of the congregation. Rev. A. J. Clifton preached an appropriate sermon, and Miss Gertrude Storer sang a solo. There were present 29 persons between 50 and 60 years of age, 12 between 60 and 70, 4 between 70 and 80, and one 85 years of age—William Weygint.
