

Mrs. Mary E. Meserve, of Salisbury, Mass., was cured of Anemia, a disease in which there is an actual deficiency of the blood, by the use of

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

She says: "The first symptom was an unusual paleness. Later the blood seemed to have all left my body. I had shortness of breath and fluttering of the heart; was depressed, morose and peevish. I suffered for two years. Physicians did me little good but I am now a well woman because I took twelve boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These pills really make new blood and have cured obstinate cases of rheumatism, scrofula and erysipelas. They are especially useful to growing girls.

A GREAT INSTITUTION.

It is unusual that a single institution in a city of 8,000 people will overshadow in importance every other interest, but such is the case with the American School of Osteopathy, and A. T. Still Infirmary at Kirksville, Mo.

A stranger in Kirksville is immediately impressed with the idea that the town is sustained by this institution, in fact, Kirksville has been made what it is to-day by Dr. Still and his famous School and Infirmary. It is the largest patronized unendowed institution of its kind in the United States.

Dr. Still's school enrolls over 700 students yearly and each student is required to attend four terms of five months each before completing the course of study. There are over 2,000 graduates and they are practicing in every state and territory of the Union. About two-thirds of the states have passed special laws legalizing the science.

This school teaches every branch taught in medical colleges except "drugs" and osteopathy is substituted for that. So thorough is the teaching in anatomy that over one hundred human bodies are dissected yearly by the students.

At the infirmary, patients from every part of the country and with almost every form of disease are constantly under treatment. For the past fifteen years almost every train coming to Kirksville has brought some new sufferer hoping to find relief by the science of Osteopathy. By the thousands who have left the institution benefited by the treatment, the science has been heralded to the world as a safe and rational method of cure. Several years ago a free clinic was established in connection with the practice department of the school and this is still in operation. Hundreds of the worthy poor, who are unable to pay for treatment, are treated every afternoon by the senior students free of charge.

Golf is World Game.

At Bagdad there has been a golf club for nearly ten years. The eighteen-hole course, which is laid out in the desert some three miles from the city, is said to be of "a decidedly sporting character"—which means, according to some that one loses an immoderate number of balls there. Golf may be played at Zanzibar, Benin ("the city of blood," it will be remembered), Crete, Bangkok, Honolulu, Perak and also at Wei-Hai-Wei.—London Times.

Black Kerchiefs for Sailors.

All sailors in the British navy are obliged to buy a black silk handkerchief. They get it from the government stores, and the price, about $1, is deducted from their pay. This year the Admiralty has ordered 160,000 handkerchiefs from the largest silk manufacturers in the world. This number is 40,000 more than has ever been required before. Each handkerchief is thirty-five inches square.

To Utilize the Shark.

The shark, which is so abundant in the waters of Central America, is to be utilized in commercial products. A company has been formed which converts sharks' fins into jelly and tinned soup, makes fine machinery oil from their livers, handsome leather, equal to alligator's, from their skins, walking sticks from their backbones, and numerous articles from their jawbones and teeth.

Unable to Distinguish Red.

The most common form of color blindness is an inability to distinguish red. Last year thirty-four officers and would-be officers of the British mercantile marine service failed on their color tests, twenty-three being red blind and the remainder unable to distinguish green. The 4,600 candidates for certificates were also submitted to the form vision tests and twenty-two of them failed to distinguish the form of the object submitted.

Man's Love Easily Lost.

When a woman has won the love of a man, however devoted he may appear, it is usually necessary for her to take some pains to hold fast to his love if she wishes to keep it. There are exceptions, but most men's love is a fire, which easily dies for lack of fuel.—Exchange.

CAVALRY HORSES IN STAMPEDE.

Mounts of English Soldiers Run Miles in Wild Disorder.

During recent army maneuvers in England a stampede of cavalry horses occurred which is believed to have been without precedent in times of peace. In the camp near Southampton a horse broke a leg during the night and a veterinary surgeon shot the animal as it stood in the horse lines. The flash and report so terrified the remainder of the animals that they dashed through the camp, trampling upon tents filled with sleeping men and scattered over the whole country. Some made their way through another camp, communicating panic to the horses there, and they joined in the stampede, over 1,000 animals breaking away.

Most disastrous was the result to the animals. Many fell, breaking their legs and necks, while scores were injured by barbed wire fences and iron-bed picket posts which they carried off with them. One drove of about 200 dashed toward the sea and plunged into the water of the harbor. Men in boats put out and turned back as many as possible. Landing stages had to be broken down to get the horses ashore. Several animals were drowned.

Another drove of seventy horses passed through Winchester, apparently making for Aldershot. Several men were injured by the animals; dashing through the camp. Fifty horses were killed, while a trainload of wounded animals was sent back to Aldershot for treatment.

TOO GOOD FOR A DOCTOR.

Decision Which Saved New Englander for the Fish Trade.

The fisherman drove into the yard a few days after the new summer residents had taken possession of their home, and seeing an open door he stepped in and confronted the mistress of the house.

"Gettin' settled, I s'p'ose," he said agreeably, allowing his gaze to wander from two half-unpacked trunks to a table loaded with miscellaneous articles. "Well, take your time, take your time; there's plenty of it up here! I understand your husband's a doctor, ma'am?"

"Yes, he is," said the summer resident, who in spite of warnings from city neighbors that she had better display no haughtiness of spirit under questioning, was unable to put much cordiality into her tone.

"Well, now, I come near bein' a doctor," said the fishman, still with a wandering gaze. "My folks wanted I should be one, all exceptin' of an aunt that had money, and was looked up to help me out financially if I took up with a profession." She spent one summer here, and she made a regular study of my character an' parts, and at the end of the season she up an' told my folks that 'twouldn't do, I must go into business.

"That boy has got too much intellect to be have away on a doctor," she said; those were her very words. Now, how would you like a couple of good mackerel all slit up an' ready for the briler?"—Youth's Companion.

Watchman's Complicated Task.

A watchman who has been engaged by the directors of an Australian bank had brought with him good recommendations. The chairman of the board sent for him and proceeded to "post him up" as to his duties.

"Well, James," he began, "this is your first job of this kind, isn't it?"

"Yes, sir."

"Your duty must be to exercise vigilance."

"Yes, sir."

"No stranger must be allowed to enter the bank at night under any pretext whatever."

"No, sir."

"And our manager—he is a good man, honest, and trustworthy; but it will be your duty to keep your eye on him."

"But it will be hard to watch two men and the bank at the same time."

"Two men? How?"

"Why, sir, it was only yesterday, that the manager called me in for a talk, and he said you were one of the best men in the city, but it would be just as well to keep both eyes on you, and let the directors know if you hung about after hours."—London Answers.

A Woman and a Secret.

The secret she has sworn to keep—Why should it ever seem uppermost within her mind, why should it leap And frolic like uneasy ghost Adown her brain's dark cloister where She meant that it should slumber deep; It seems to cry "Give air! give air!" The secret she has sworn to keep.

She's ill at ease, and troubled sore, Alone at home, abroad with friends; She tries to lose it o'er and o'er, But e'er the stalking ghost attends, So where, do what she will, by day, By night when wrapped in dreamful sleep, Its thrilling cry rings out: "Make way!" The secret she has sworn to keep.

Some there may be—I cannot say— Brave women who will battle thus For more than one dread night and day. The while they worry, fret and fuss; But not a maid or matron dwells On this broad earth who sound can sleep.

Until—ah bliss of bliss—she tells The secret she has sworn to keep. —Roy Farrell Green, in Brooklyn Life.

Nation's Bill for Soda Water.

The soda water season is closing. A simple statement, but few know all that it means, or how great a commercial feature the soda water season is. In the United States alone 75,000 merchants sell soda water, averaging sales of $730 a year, or a total of $54,750,000 per annum. The average price of drinks is 6 cents, giving the number of drinks as 910,000,000. Could the glasses required to serve these many drinks be placed side by side they would reach to within a day's travel of once around the world.

Japanese Belief in Dreams.

A fanciful race, the Japanese people set great store by dreams. The native astrologer is usually very busy in the early part of the year delineating the meaning of the many visions brought to him for solution, and foretelling events to come. If you dream that you are struck by lightning, it means you will grow suddenly rich; but to dream of frost means a feast; of wind, it denotes that sickness is coming.

Living on Flirtation.

While there is no doubt that men understand the art of flirtation a great deal better than women, it is doubtful whether they get quite as much enjoyment out of it as the latter do. A man may, and generally does, get excellent sport for his pains, but he cannot live, as so many women do, on flirtation. A man flirts when he has no more exciting occupation.—Ladies' Field.

Insects and Snakes as Food.

In Arizona Indian children may be seen catching ants and eating them and in Mexico the honey ant is eagerly sought after by the natives, who eat the well-rounded, currant-like abdomen. In South America the large lizard, the iguana, is a delicacy, not to speak of the larger snakes, which in taste are like chicken. The ordinary rattlesnake, it is said, is very good eating if one can overcome the inborn prejudice.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, proved by their failure. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful, I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, MRS. MAY FAIRBANKS, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn."
