Governor Mickey has decided to appoint a woman superintendent of the Geneva Industrial Home for Women, in place of Horace Clark, who recently resigned to return to farming. Several applicants for the vacancy are under consideration. The governor has decided not to hasten the appointment, but to carefully choose a woman he is satisfied will be influential, sympathetic and firm.

Miss Grace Walker, who has been stenographer for Governor Mickey for several years, has returned to Plattsmouth, and rumor says she is soon to wed a Burlington engineer.

Senator Thomas of Douglas has outlined a bill, senate file No. 125, that will make it extremely hard for negligent parents, should the measure become a law. The bill has been jestingly designated as "the chaser" for the juvenile court bill. According to its provisions parents responsible for the condition of delinquent children or who are negligent of their duties may be fined not to exceed $1,000 or imprisoned in the county jail for a term not to exceed
