Despicable Acts of Unknown Parties.
THE TRIBUNE has been called upon, lately, to note some despicable acts, but nothing madder has come to our notice than those of Decoration day, when flowers, vases, set pieces etc. were stolen and removed from graves by unknown, cowardly and despicable characters. Among those reporting such acts at this office are A. W. Utter and George Beck. Both had flowers stolen and removed from graves of dear ones. Mr. Beck states in this connection that he will pay $10 for information leading to conviction of the parties and $15.00 additional upon conviction. It might be helpful for the cemetery authorities to add a material sum to this offer.

New Firm—But an Old Favorite.
The Odell general merchandise store, this week, passed into the ownership of Ed Huber, who for years has been with M. E. Knipple. Mr. Huber takes with him into his newly purchased business experience, push and lots of get-up-and-go, and by these together with an active desire to please his customers by the most liberal and courteous treatment and the sale of the best the market affords at the lowest prices consistent with best grades of goods, he hopes to merit a continuance of the fine trade Mr. Odell has enjoyed and the gradual enlargement of his circle of pleased and contented regular customers.

Almost Its Silver Anniversary.
With this issue THE TRIBUNE enters the twenty-fourth years of its existence. While the paper has not realized all its publisher had intended and hoped for, it has achieved a fair measure of success and has the confidence of an increasing number of readers. The publisher will meet every demand of the people of McCook and Red Willow county for a better equipped newspaper plant. Try us with your patronage and meet a ready and prompt and effective response.

It Saves You Money.
Dr. Howard's Dyspepsia Specific: Regular Price 50c. Lon Cone & Bro. Price 25c. The special half price sale of Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by Lon Cone & Bro. means the saving of a few dollars on every family's yearly bill for medicines.

Each 50 cent bottle (Lon Cone & Bro. sell it for 25c) contains sixty doses of a medicine that is pleasant to take and which can be depended upon to cure the worst case of constipation, dyspepsia or liver trouble. Lon Cone & Bro. have so much faith in the superior merit of this medicine that they say: "If Dr. Howard's specific does not cure you, come back to our store and we will return your money."

If you are troubled with constipation, headache or dizziness, or if your food does not digest naturally and easily, you cannot afford to let pass the special price that Lon Cone & Bro. are making this week on Dr. Howard's specific.

Agricultural high schools, such as have made Denmark a shining light in the farming world, are being established in many of the states of this country. One of the most interesting and important of the newer agricultural high schools is that of Waterford, Pa.; and western farmers will read much interest in this week's Homestead, of Des Moines, Iowa, a special article by H. O. Sampson describing this school and the work; the development of interest in the agricultural course among the students, both city and country; the courses of study; the subjects taken up; the essays by students at stated intervals; the text books used; conferences with farmers of the locality, so as to combine practice with theory, etc. The Homestead's special articles are raising farming to a high plane, but they are only one of many admirable editorial and departmental features of this great farm paper. THE TRIBUNE is always glad to accept and forward subscriptions for The Homestead, which cannot be too widely circulated. The farmers of Red Willow county are thoroughly up-to-date, and capable of appreciating and utilizing such publications.
