Miss Lillian O'Donnell and Mr. Oviatt Kellogg were victims of an accident at Stratton, Sunday last, of quite painful and severe particulars. Miss O'Donnell fell on her forehead and was rendered unconscious for two hours. Her injuries are quite severe and she is still compelled to remain at home in Stratton. Mr. Kellogg's injuries were of a minor nature.

Disperse the Jail Loafers.

It is no uncommon sight, any day, to see individuals, male and female, young and adult, loafing about the county jail windows and engaging in conversation with the prisoners. It seems to THE TRIBUNE that this is so palpably wrong from every point of view that the authorities would promptly put a stop to this practice. All persons whomsoever should be prohibited access to those windows and any one found loafing there and talking to the prisoners should be arrested and fined. Certainly no one should be permitted to talk to prisoners except those legally entitled so to do, and then only in the presence of officers.

The Republican county central committee met in McCook, Wednesday, and transacted an amount of regular business, being pretty well attended by committeemen from all over the county, Chairman Skalla presiding. Our attention was called to one case where the merchant paid $3.75 freight on apples that had been on the road until all but three bushels had rotted.
