SHOES

We Want a Partnership with You!

You want shoes, we have them, good ones, too. Why can't we get together and transact business; you will be benefitted and it will benefit us. We will give you the benefit of our knowledge, a large stock to choose from, give you prices that are as low as good business principles will allow us to make and give you a quality, style, and fit in footwear that you do not get when you go into a department store or from a mail order house. Don't forget we are here to make good any defect in the shoes you buy of us.

RAILROAD NEWS ITEMS.

Conductor Harvey Miller of Denver is now running out of McCook.

William Grabowski of the force of boilermakers will shortly go east to be married.

Henry Gates is off duty, a few days, while his left hand recovers from a recent injury.

R. V. Walls, engine inspector, has returned to work, after a layoff of a few weeks on account of sickness.

Harry Rogers of Galesburg, Illinois, is wrestling with the trainmasters' clerk proposition now. And having exercise galore.

Conductor Jack Curran entertained his twin brother Tom of Boulder, Colo., close of last week. The boys are as near alike as two peas and there was fun going all the time Tom was here.

Dispatcher T. B. Campbell arrived home, last Saturday night, from Chicago and Wisconsin points, where he spent a week or so visiting relatives and friends, and having a fine time.

Conductor A. G. Bump has retired from the train service and will engage in real estate and brokerage business making his office with J. E. Kelley. He will take up the business actively after his return from a business visit to Mexico.

For the first time in the history of the McCook division the pay rolls were not ready by the first of the month, in their entirety, and the rolls had to be sent in on the first without the train and engine men's rolls. Cause, too much work and insufficient help.

Engine failures are reported as being unusually frequent on Nebraska roads just now. Doubtless chargeable to lack of repairs and extraordinary demands for service on all motive power. That man is a patriot now who can make one engine do the work of two.

Frank Ball is a new boilermaker's helper.

John Flinn is a new helper in the boiler gang.

Engine 1240 got some new cylinder packing this week.

Agent T. E. McCarl of Red Cloud was at headquarters, yesterday.

The 1018 is in the shop for a new piston head, to replace her broken one.

John W. Boyd is a new addition to the boilermakers. His family is with him.

The boys of the timekeeping department expect to get the rest of the rolls in yet this week.

W. E. Keating, foreman of the boiler gang, was in Havelock, Monday and Tuesday, on company business.

Conductor W. A. Turley and family have moved to Orleans. He is now running on the Orleans-St. Francis branch.

The nine R4s on the McCook division are now being given new flues, and Keating and force are seeing to it that the big fellows are getting good ones.

Ernest E. Harvey, who was married to Miss Eva Cott, formerly of our city, a few weeks ago, was killed at Newcastle, Wyoming, last Sunday by being run over by a freight train. Both legs were cut off. Harvey was a car inspector and was highly esteemed.

Foreman C. L. Walker of the paint gang has received orders to paint the entire McCook division—at any rate all the switch posts, cattle guards, whistling posts, switch stands etc., and he expects to start out some time next week with an assistant to do the job, which will take several weeks in the doing.

President Harris and Director Perkins are expected along any time now from the west on their annual hunt on Perkins' ranch over near St. Francis, and preparations are being made here in the line of providing coal and wood and other needed things for their special train's use over on the branch during their stay and hunt.

The Word "London."

What is the derivation of the word "London?" The usually accepted one is the Celtic "Llyn-Din," or lake city, referring to the historical fact that the city was built on a river that overflowed at full tide and half surrounded it. Other philologists have derived it from "llawn" (full) and "dyn" (man), others again from "lon" (a plain) and "dun" (a hill). But the derivation London, or "grove city," seems more probable than most of these. The name occurs in wooded parts of Scandinavia to this day.

The Reigning Princess.

Every girl who has married and moved to another town learns in course of time how it feels to be a monarch who is deprived of his kingdom. She is a princess before marriage and has the front room upstairs. She marries, moves away, her sister next in years becomes the reigning monarch, and when the married woman returns home on a visit some years later she finds herself relegated to a back bedroom, with her sister, the princess, on a throne in the front room.—Atchison Globe.

The Queer Part.

"Mary," said a Kansas City (Kan.) man to his wife recently, "I had a queer dream last night. I dreamed you had a pair of wings St. Peter had just given you and I was trying to fit them on you. Wasn't it queer that your wings didn't fit you?" "Yes," she replied, "but that wasn't the queerest part of it." "What was?" "The fact that you were there," she replied.—Kansas City Times.

What an Old Timer Says.

"Railroading in Nebraska is not like it used to be," remarked W. H. Davis, of York, now in the life insurance business. Mr. Davis, is an old time agent of the B. & M., for nineteen years having been employed by that road. "There remains but very few of the old time promoters and builders of the B. & M. in Nebraska now, and it looks very much like the days of the few here are numbered. Instead of the stones rejected by the builders becoming the head of the system, they are being rejected by Jim Hill's management. Many of the old time employees who begun with the B. & M. in the seventies and earlier eighties have watched the building of the line grow from 200 miles or less to several thousand. It has been with a feeling of pride on the part of many. Many commenced in our early twenties and our hair turned gray in the service. Many of the old timers have been removed by death, many more by Jim Hill, with others to follow. There are many landmarks in Nebraska to remind us of some of the promoters and builders. For instance the names of many towns—Holdrege, Calvert (since changed to Auburn), Marquette, Dewese, Campbell, Marsland, Birdsell, Belknap, Berks, Gillette, Loomis, Phillips, Castor (changed to Tobias). I travel around over Nebraska a great deal. There is one universal howl from the public in general about the service, both in passenger and freight traffic. Unless conditions radically change for the better I fear there will be some stringent measures passed by the next legislature so severe that Nebraska railroads will meet with a great injustice at the hands of a much abused public, because they will not stop to consider the mitigating circumstances. Never at a time heretofore have Nebraska railroads, and especially the Burlington, had so great a volume of all kinds of traffic. Motive power and equipment is taxed to its utmost capacity to handle the business, and the company is doing the best it can with what it has to do with. These things, with climate and other conditions, a clamorous public will not stop to consider. I think present methods of railway management far superior to old ways of doing things. It should not be presumed for one official to have to tell another anything which he is supposed to know about his department. If he don't know he is not on his job, and may have to give way to someone else that is up to date. Jealousy in authority among officials has kept them a guessing for some time and it seems the end is not yet. It appears that they are as likely to get the "grand bounce" as a fifteen cent hour section hand, only difference is the name. The section hand is told he is fired, while the other fellows have been "asked to resign."—Lincoln Journal.

Shortage in Rural Teachers.

Red Willow county in common with other western counties is suffering the inconvenience of a shortage of teachers in the country districts. Eleven districts in the county are without teachers and in the county forty are from without the county, many of them coming from the eastern part of the state.

RED WILLOW.

Louis Longnecker lost a fine colt from a mysterious cause.

Mrs. John Longnecker has been quite sick and still is unable to sit up.

Mrs. L. Myers is visiting her sister Mrs. Lillie Ernest at Benkelman.

Mrs. Holton Longnecker is visiting the farm before returning to her home in Colorado.

Red Willow keeps up its old reputation for pleasant entertainments. There was a surprise on Mrs. Sexson which kept up to the record. Mr. and Mrs. Sexson certainly know how to entertain.

While the "cat is away the mice will play". Will Meyers gave a stag party, Monday evening, to which the old bachelors of the neighborhood were invited. It was too tempting to some of the young married men who acted bachelors for that night. A first class time was enjoyed.

COLEMAN.

B. F. Wilson took off two loads of hogs, last Monday.

Geo. Howell and son Jacob have got back from Thayer county.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wales visited in Hitchcock county recently.

We hear that George Howell has bought a half section near McCook.

A wagon load of young folks attended church in McCook, Tuesday evening.

J. W. Corner and daughter Miss Emma were in this township, close of last week.

Women in India.

It will be many years before the caste prejudices of India are sufficiently broken down to give any sort of freedom to the Indian woman. From a bride she is unmercifully overworked, but from the day she gives up her childhood to the day of her death—it may be for sixty years—she is secluded and sees nothing of the world outside the walls of her family inclosure. Her happiness or misery, indeed, entirely depends on the manner in which the affairs of the family are conducted. The Indian woman, isolated from the outer world by custom, is again by custom isolated as far as practicable from all the male members of that little inner world to which she is confined. Free intercourse, even with her own husband, is not permitted her while yet her youthful capabilities for joyousness exist. No wonder, then, that absence of jollity is characteristic of the Indians generally, for the happy laughter of a home is denied them by custom in the most persistent manner.

Syrian Name Customs.

In Syria the names of children are very odd. They suggest those of our Indians, inasmuch as the child's name is apt to be something which occurred at the time of its birth—something which interested the parents. For instance, if you were a child of this country your name in all probability would be "Stuffed Cabbage," or "Hotel," or "Civil War," or something akin to these. If a child falls sick his name is immediately changed. Instead of his parents thinking that a piece of pie or too much pudding disagreed with him they attribute his sickness to the fact that his name did not agree with him. When one understands what these names are one does not wonder that the child may have fallen sick because of them.—Philadelphia Press.
