TWENTY-FOURTH YEAR

MCCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 25, 1906

NUMBER 52

High School Commencement.

The high school graduating exercises will occur Thursday night, May 31st, at the M. E. church. Dr. Thomas E. Green, who has been chosen as the speaker, will use for the subject of his address, "The Key to the XXth Century." We doubt if any man ever came before the wide public of the lyceum world with such rapidity, or met such a universal welcome as has greeted him. Just a year ago, obedient to what he considered a call to a wider ministry, he resigned a pastorate he had held for fifteen years over one of the largest Episcopal Churches in the United States, and stepped upon the platform. Today he is recognized as the head and leader of the present generation of popular orators. He has lectured practically, every available night of the winter and spring. On his second trip into New England he was given such a reception as to be an ovation. No one on the platform today so nearly represents the high intellectual and oratorical standards of the older school of Beecher, Phillips and Brooks as does Dr. Green. He unites ripe and broad scholarship with vital magnetic personality. He not only talks as few men can, but he talks about something, so forcefully, so exhaustively, so convincingly, that his lecture is stronger after weeks of recollection than in the immediate charm of its delivery. He is a man with a message—and he spells it in syllables of lambent flame.

Narrow Escape From Death.

Little Charlietto, daughter of Mrs. Mayme Blanding, had a very narrow escape from death, last Saturday afternoon, under the cars in the McCook yard. A lady, another little girl and herself were passing between cars, when the switch engine gave one end of the string of cars a slight impulse. In her hurry to draw her little friend to safety, the Blanding child fell and the car wheel caught her leg above the ankle, bruising the leg very severely. Had the car moved another inch her leg would have been mashed and her life probably lost. The car had to be "pinched" away from the spot before the little one could be liberated—so tightly was her leg squeezed under the wheel. She is getting on nicely, however, and will doubtless be able to be about as usual soon, with no ill effects of the accident.

Such accidents but emphasize the urgency of the need of a foot bridge over the tracks in the McCook yard.

THE WORK OF FIREBUGS

McCook Visited by Three Incipient Fires, Friday Night.

HAPPILY NONE SERIOUS

The Franklin Block Occupied by James McAdams is Only Building Damaged to Any Extent—Others of No Moment.

McCook had the very unusual experience, last Friday night, of being visited by three fires. That none of them amounted to a large damage is no fault of the party or parties responsible for them.

The principal fire was in the Franklin block occupied by James McAdams. Here the damage to the building was about $200, while Mr. McAdams's loss will be less than $100. The fire was practically confined to the area-way and started at the foot of the steps leading down from West Dennison street. The steps, some of the timbers under the sidewalk, the door and window in the basement of the building were all damaged more or less at this point. The fire just made entrance into the basement, when the department got busy, so that the damage to goods stored there was small.

The department's activities were somewhat deterred at the outset by the inexplicable actions of some unknown person, who shut off the water once at a fire hydrant and again disconnected the hose during the progress of the fire. The party was finally rapped over the head with a hydrant wrench, but disappeared and could not be identified or found afterwards, when there was more time to devote to him.

The other fires were confined to out-houses in the rear of the Fleischmann saloon and of the Ludwick furniture store, and the damage was practically nil. The city authorities have taken action to more thoroughly protect the city in this regard at night.

It was mysteriously destroyed by fire, Tuesday night, with some of its contents. And the query arises, and what naturally, what next?

High School Graduation.

The graduating exercises of the high school which will mark the conclusion of the public school work of the class of 1906, will occur next Thursday night, May 31st, at 8:30 o'clock, at the Methodist church. Dr. Thomas E. Green, one of the most interesting and notable lecturers upon the lyceum platform, will be the speaker of the evening, and will use as the subject of his address, "The Key to the XXth Century." A large orchestra will also play several numbers in the course of the evening's program. In order to accommodate impartially all who will desire to attend these exercises, a careful plat of the church has been made, and a reserved seat ticket has been provided for each sitting. These tickets may be secured at McConnell's drug store, beginning Saturday night, May 26th, at 7 o'clock. A merely nominal fee of 15 cents will be charged, which will insure the purchaser the seats be selected and enable him to see and hear with comfort. No greater number of tickets will be issued than there are seats in the church.
