A Taste For Dogs.

Mark Twain was once talking of war and of the hardships and privations of sieges.

"A Frenchman," he said, "called one day on a woman who had two dogs, They were ugly little brutes, and when they came near him the man pushed them out of the way with his foot.

"'I perceive, sir,' said the woman coldly, 'that you are not very fond of dogs.'

"The man started in surprise. "'I not fond of dogs!' he exclaimed. Why, madam, I ate more than twenty of them during the siege of Paris!""

A Patlent Man.

The endurance of the music lover who sits out one of Wagner's long "Ring" operas has often been commented upon, but perhaps not more forcibly than in London. Well up above the stage was a burly figure in homespun, evidently a Scottish farmer who had come to London to see the sights and hear the sounds. After sitting through three long acts he murmured audibly. "'Twas a patient mon that wrote all this!"
