TO REPUBLICANS:

We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional Committee in favor of the election of a Republican Congress.

The Congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and, that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscriptions of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign Text Book and all documents issued by the Committee.

Help us achieve a great victory.
JAMES S. SHERMAN, Chairman.

Democrats and Populists Fuse.

The conventions of the Democratic and Populist parties in this city, Tuesday, resulted in a fusion of the two parties on the nomination for state senator for the 29th district of Nebraska, and the nomination of Israel A. Sheridan of Indianola, Red Willow county, as a standard-bearer.

The conventions were both poorly attended, not half of the counties of the district being represented, but there was enough present to make a nucleus for a pretty bit of jockeying between the two conventions before a conclusion was reached.

The nominee is well known in this county, which he represented in the lower house of the state legislature in the early days of the Populist supremacy in Nebraska. He has been and is regarded as a Populist.

C. J. Ryan of McCook was chairman of the Democratic convention and Charles E. Reed of Arapahoe, secretary thereof.

The central committee chosen by the Democratic convention is composed of the following:

Chase.....Clayburg, Imperial
Dundy.....L. C. Walker, Benkelman
Frontier.....R. D. Logan, Stockville
Furnas.....E. A. Peterson, Arapahoe
Gosper.....not represented
Hayes.....C. C. Hatch, Hayes Center
Hitchcock.. W. A. Stewart, Culbertson
Red Willow, Ephraim Benjamin, McCook
Candidate Sheridan was accorded the privilege of naming secretary and chairman of the committee, which was authorized to fill vacancies in committee or ticket.

The Populist convention was held in another room contemporaneously with the Democratic convention, but we were not given the particulars.

Driving Park Association Heir.

Some years since the Southwestern Nebraska Industrial association came into being in this city, and a small sum of money was raised for expenses etc. of the association. Of this money most has been disbursed as the occasion arose, leaving a small balance in the hands of the treasurer I. H. Wasson. Recently, the executive board of the association J. A. Schmitz, Walter Hickling, J. E. Kelley, C. H. Meeker and I. H. Wasson were called together and the matter of converting this balance to the aid and support of the McCook Driving Park association was successfully and satisfactorily adjusted. To make the sum—$45.75—even, Treasurer Wasson added from his own pocket enough to make it the round figure $50.00. The meeting to negotiate this matter was held at J. E. Kelley's office, September 15th at 3 o'clock. As it is the hope to convert the park association into a fair association eventually, the people will come into a full participation in the money thus converted to the park.

Tickling Human Vanity.

Few people realize how profitable the trade of tickling human vanity is and how many different forms it employs. There are obscure newspapers and nominal magazines that live by it and provide good incomes for their editors. It is quite common to find upon center tables luxuriously bound and printed volumes whose contents consist entirely of fulsome puffs. Each profession, trade, avocation and association has its library of memorabilia of persons of the kind who, in Lovell's phrase, were created to fill up the world. The writer remembers seeing in the "best room" of a remote farmhouse a morocco bound, gilt edged volume upon the notabilities of the country, which contained a biography and engraved portrait of rusticus horribilis himself. The original volunteered the information that his niche in the local pantheon had cost him a sum, which, on later conversation, was disclosed to be larger than a year's interest on the mortgage encumbering the farm.—Wilbur Larremore in Atlantic.

The Dramatic Flavor of Wall Street.

It is the speculative side of Wall street that most appeals to the imagination. If we were dealing with that side of Wall street we should not lack for authenticated cases of high dramatic flavor, as, for example, that of a youth of eighteen who ran $2 into a fortune of $200,000 in a few months and was last heard of trying to pawn his wife's engagement ring for $25; or that of the farmer who made several millions of dollars from a very modest beginning, slipped a check for $300,000 under the breakfast plate of each member of his family one morning, tore the checks up because within an hour the riches had become a matter of domestic strife and was last heard of when one day he brought a load of hay across the ferry from Staten Island to New York and begged his brokers to take it in lieu of margins for one more "trade."—Success Magazine.

Plague of Inventions.

Human ingenuity is a plague to modern life, and there is some excuse for the view of a great man who regarded the inventor of railways as a curse to his race. The truth probably is that no invention is at first perfect, and we have to suffer from its transitory imperfections.—London Lancet.
