James J. Hill says the greatest difficulty the railroads of America have in moving the enormous freight business of the country is in inadequate trackage and terminals—not in lack of cars.

Three carloads of machinists, boiler-makers, etc., from Glasgow, Scotland, passed through McCook for San Francisco, last Sunday night. They came in on No. 5 and went west on No. 3.

A 42-inch engine lathe, a monster new machine, has just been added to the equipment of the machine shop. It is brand new, up-to-date, with all the latest attachments, and is a splendid addition to the equipment of the backshop. As soon as belting, etc., is received it will be installed, adding largely to the scope and amount of work the shop can turn out.

Chairman Perkins of the board of directors, General Manager Holdrege and General Superintendent Byram inspected the McCook-Imperial branch, Saturday. The party traveled in Chairman Perkins' special train, which came down from the west as far as Culbertson, Friday evening, remaining there over night. Saturday evening, Chairman Perkins and a small party left for his ranch between Ludell and Herndon, Kansas, for a short hunt on the Perkins preserve. Mr. Holdrege left, the same night for Omaha, and Mr. Byram for Lincoln.

DIES FROM POISONING.

Mystery in the death of George Wilhelm, after Suffering Two Days, at County Hospital.

Lying unconscious for two days in a bare, chilly attic at 3114 Market street, George Wilhelm was found last night. But help came too late, and the unfortunate man breathed his last a few moments after he was taken to the county hospital. He did not recover consciousness. Appearances point to poison as the cause of his death.

Deep mystery surrounds the death of this man who, for twelve years has been a character in the lower part of the city. When found he had been unconscious for two days and bore evidences of suffering from poisoning. Whether the poison was administered by his own hand because life had palled upon him or whether it was given by another, is the mystery that troubles the physicians who attended him.

Wilhelm was discovered by the county physician and removed at once to the county hospital, where he died.

Very little was known about Wilhelm. He was of German birth and apparently educated, and about 45 years old. He eked out a meager existence by fitting kegs which he dug from ash heaps. He had no family and few friends. It is understood that a brother resides in McCook, Nebraska.

It was believed at first that the man was suffering with morphine poisoning, but this theory was eliminated when it was learned that he had been unconscious for two days, a condition impossible in morphine poisoning. What the subtle poison was that held the unfortunate man under its influence puzzles the county hospital physicians.

Wilhelm's remains will be turned over to Coroner Rollins.—Denver Post, Nov. 7, 1906.

INDIANOLA.

NORTH SIDE.

Lots of rain this fall has caused some excitement among the farmers in this town. Several are still sowing wheat.

Corn shucking has commenced here where people can get anyone to shuck. Hands are scarce.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bandy, who were visiting in Missouri a couple of weeks, have returned and report that they bought a farm near Hubble in Republic county, Kansas.

Earl Patterson of Muscatine county, Iowa, who came here a couple of months ago for his health, and has been working for Con Eckhard, has been very much benefited by the change of climate, is now staying at H. H. Bandy's and going to school.

There is a literary society every Wednesday night at the Coleman school house. Everybody invited to come and have a good time.

The box supper at the Coleman school house last week, was a decided success. The proceeds go to get a dictionary for the school. The mystery is where the school marm had her box hid to keep the wrong fellow from getting a chance to buy it.

While on the way home from the box supper, last Wednesday night, Ernest Hamilton's team took fright at something and ran into the fence which scared them into a runaway. One of the lines broke and let the team run in a circle, after running through the fence five or six times, they ran into the fence again, broke the buggy pole and came to a standstill. The team was cut considerably by the wire. Miss Hester Spurgin who was with Mr. Hamilton, received a sprained ankle in getting out just before the team came to a stop.

Clarence Rozell went to Grand Island to finish his course in business college there, the last of last week. Clarence is one of the excellent young men of Coleman precinct and liked by all that become acquainted with him.

Mat and John Droll have bought a fodder shredder and have tried and found it to be an excellent way to take care of feed. It will pay any farmer that lives in a reasonable distance, to go and see the work the machine does. It shucks the corn, puts it in a wagon, puts what shells off in a sack, and cuts the fodder all fine and puts it in the barn all ready to feed, and it will go almost twice as far as it is all used. Get a corn binder and cut all your corn, shock it up good and as soon as it is good and dry, it is ready to shred. I think if you see Mr. Droll's machine at work, you will set to work to get the most out of your corn crop, as about one-third of your crop is the fodder, and you lose most of it; by turning your cattle in the stalks, you often lose enough cattle to buy a corn binder and pay for cutting and shredding. I have known some men to lose eight or ten head of cattle in one night after being in the stock field. It will pay any farmer to look into this as cane is too hard on ground.
