The sawdust filling in the wooden box covering the steam and air pipes over the space between the roundhouse and backshop caught fire, last week, and gave the company fire department a little practice. Slight damage.

Last Friday in the Burlington yard in Sheridan, Wyo., westbound freight 45 collided with a switch engine drawing a string of cars. Both engines were badly damaged as well as the rollingstock. Fireman Hanson Anderson was severely injured. A blizzard was prevailing.

At an informal smoker in Master Mechanic Culbertson's office, close of last week, F. W. Schultz, ex-general foreman, was presented a good watch and fob, Colonel Ed Howell, orator. It was a handsome recognition on the part of the railroad boys of a competent, progressive and energetic young foreman.

The Burlington has purchased thirty-five acres of land northeast of the Platte river and Thirty-first street for $300,000. The land was purchased from Crawford Hill and the Denango Land company for the purpose of erecting a new roundhouse, shops and for additional yard purposes. The capacity of the shops now being used by the Burlington is inadequate. These shops will be supplemented by larger and more commodious ones across the Platte river on the strip of land recently acquired by the Burlington. About $200,000 will be expended in the erection of a new plant.
