JUNIOR NORMAL SCHOOL NOTES.

Fred Eggert, a former Junior Normal School student, who has been teaching in Wisconsin the past year, spent Wednesday among acquaintances here. He was on his way to his former home in Chase county.

Instructor C. W. McMichael went down to Arapahoe Friday night to spend Saturday and Sunday at home.

Sup't Jas. O'Connell transacted business at Trenton Saturday.

Under the leadership of G. A. Gregory a number of the teachers enjoyed an impromptu picnic in the city park last Friday night.

Rev. A. A. Cressman, of Red Cloud, visited the normal school Tuesday morning and delighted the teachers with a wholesome, enlivening and inspiring chapel hour talk. As a former county superintendent and field secretary for Doane college, Mr. Cressman has long been in touch with the teacher and her work.

Examinations for county certificates were conducted at the east ward school building last Friday and Saturday. About seventy applicants were present.

Total enrollment at the close of the first week was 113. There were 12 additional enrollments up to Wednesday night of this week.

Dr. A. J. Jenison, representative from Clay county in the last legislature, and there a supporter of all State Sup't McBrien's educational bills, visited the Junior Normal school, Thursday, and addressed the students both at the chapel hour in the morning and in the evening. In the morning he spoke on the teacher's responsibility, and the part they played in shaping the destinies of the men and women of tomorrow. In the evening he talked upon the better and developing course of study for the public schools and the duty of the teacher respecting the health of her pupils. Both addresses were earnestly delivered and were full of inspiring and profitable help for the teachers. Several unique songs and school yells added to the enjoyment of both occasions. Dr. Jenison left, last night, for Alma, where he is to address the students at the Junior Normal school there, today.

Large interest has been aroused in the work conducted by Mr. Gulliver in drawing. His afternoon class became so large and unruly that it had to be divided in two classes.

Additional class instruction has been provided in book-keeping by Mr. McMichael so that now the first section for beginners meets at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, followed by the class for advanced students at 1:40.

The class in agriculture under Mr. Colebank's direction has secured a plot of ground through the kindness of Judge LeHew and will conduct experiments in model school gardening.

Sup't J. L. McBrien was unable to keep his appointment here as announced. No new date has been set for his visit.

Sup't G. A. Gregory, who has charge of the music classes this year, is securing excellent results from the teachers. The assembly chorus singing has never been more enthusiastic and inspiring than it is this summer.

The entertainment course for the McCook Junior Normal School is as follows: O. J. Kern, Tuesday, July 2.

University of Nebraska Glee Club, Saturday, July 6, with a sacred concert Sunday, July 7.

Chicago Glee Club, Tuesday, July 16.

U. S. Senator Norris Brown, Friday, August 2.

In addition to the above numbers, Gov. George L. Sheldon will visit McCook and address the teachers and people of the community, though no date has yet been set.

Senator C. H. Aldrich, of Butler county, will be present for an address Wednesday, July 24, and Miss Charlotte Tuesday, July 23.

The number and variety and worth of these attractions will make the season tickets, which will be sold by the commercial club, well worth the small charge the citizens of McCook will be asked to pay.

Mr. O. J. Kern, who will lecture at the Bixler opera house next Tuesday night, July 2, comes from Winnebago county, Ill., where he is recognized as one of the most successful superintendents in the United States. He has done distinctive work in improving the work of rural schools. His delightful book, beautifully illustrated, "Among Country Schools," is the outgrowth of his own experience in Winnebago county. His lecture is fully illustrated. He carries with him an excellent stereopticon using electric light and a skilled assistant who operates it. Mr. Kern is a prominent benefactor of the public schools and it is hoped that his audience will be large and appreciative.

Next Saturday night occurs the second number of the summer entertainment course, a concert by the University of Nebraska Glee Club. This organization of college boys appeared before the State Teachers' Association at Lincoln last winter and delighted the vast audience that assembled to hear them. The glee club annually makes a tour through the larger towns in the western part of the state. This is the first visit of any college glee club to McCook and interest in their program will therefore be at high pitch.

All entertainments and lectures, unless otherwise announced, will be held in the Bixler opera house.

A. L. Overman's windmill went down in the storm of Monday night.

Quite a number of old neighbors and friends gave A. L. Overman a little surprise last week, on the occasion of Bert's natal day. Ice cream and cake were served and all joined in wishing him many happy returns.

Last Friday evening at the home of W. S. Fitch on the Driftwood, about twenty five invited guests were present at a surprise and celebration of the fifty-seventh anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Nettleton, who are now here from Colorado on a visit to relatives and old scenes. The Nettleton's settled on the south side about thirty-five years ago. Music, speeches, refreshments filled the evening happily for all guests and the object of their visit.

RED WILLOW.

The farmer's picnic, held in W. C. Randel's grove was a decided success. There was a large crowd. This is a pleasant way of the farmers and their families meeting socially and is an annual affair.

Whirlwind

Will make the season of 1907 at my Farm two miles east of Box Elder.

Price $10.00

TO THE FARMERS OF BOX ELDER AND VICINITY:—I wish to call your attention to the Jack Whirlwind which I sold Mr. A. T. Wilson a short time ago. This is one of the best bred jacks in the state of Nebraska and will produce the best mules you have ever seen. Nothing pays so well as to raise a few good mules. Mules are bringing much higher prices than horses, and when horses are high mules are still higher. This has been the case since the settlement of America and it will never change. Of course we cannot raise all mules; we must raise more horses than mules, but it will pay every farmer to raise a few good mules. Weanling mules the past season sold readily at from $80 to $140 each at four months old. Good heavy three and four year old mules are now bringing $100 to $200 per pair every where. One gentleman from Mobile, Ala., came here a few days ago and he says you cannot buy a pair of mules in Mobile for less than $800, even though they were aged and not very sound. I will buy all mules sired by Mr. Wilson's Jack, delivered at McCook at weaning age during the month of November, next year, that are of fair quality, sound and in reasonably good condition, at $85 each. I make the delivery late so as to get the late mules. All those who are in position to do so should patronize Mr. Wilson's stock. You cannot make as much money in any other way as live stock.

W. L. DeCoy, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.
