Gus Budig Severely Hurt.
 The eastern one of the two large company ice houses at McCook was set afire by a locomotive, Friday afternoon last, but the fire was subdued by the company and city departments before much damage was caused.
 The accident to Gus Budig, the company's air and electricity expert, was the only unfortunate accident. A man in front of him was struck by the flow and force of water from a line of hose and falling against Mr. Budig, knocked Mr. Budig from the roof of the ice house to the ground—a distance of 15 or 20 feet. The condition of the injured man was rather grave for several days, but is improving at this writing, and his entire recovery is expected in due time.

A MARRIAGE OF MILLIONS.

The Coming Wedding of Count Szechenyi and Miss Vanderbilt. The Breakers, the splendid Vanderbilt villa at Newport, will be the scene of most interesting functions on Dec. 4, the day on which Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, youngest daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, will become the Countess Szechenyi. It was in August last that Mrs. Vanderbilt cabled from Europe an order for the opening of the long closed home on the cliffs, and on the return of mother and daughter thither the Newport gossips were not long in discovering that something was in the wind. When the Hungarian count appeared on the scene and Miss Gladys met him at the station all Newport was waiting to get a glimpse of the latest titled foreigner to win an American heiress.
 The wedding was carried on in Europe, and it was conducted so quietly that the affair had progressed to interesting conclusions before the general public had discovered that another international alliance was impending. The count is entitled to the name of Laszlo Szechenyi von Sarvar and Felso-Videk, and the history of the family goes back about 1,000 years. The title of count has been in the family about 300 years. Its members are rich in landed estates, and Miss Vanderbilt's fiancé is supposed to have property of the value of about $5,000,000 in his own right, while she herself inherits some $12,000,000. The count holds a seat in the upper house of the Hungarian parliament, is tall and handsome and well educated, and his father, the late Count Emerich Szechenyi, was very influential at the court of Emperor Francis Joseph and was at one time ambassador to Berlin.

WESTON'S WALK.

Veteran Pedestrian Who Hopes to Repeat a Feat of His Youth.
 Edward Payson Weston, who started on Oct. 29 to walk from Portland, Me., to Chicago, did the same feat forty years ago, and though he is now almost threescore years and ten, he hopes to beat the record he made in his younger days. The distance he expects to cover is 1,260 miles. On Oct. 29, 1867, when twenty-nine years old, he began the journey which won him laurels as the "great American pedestrian." At that time he did not travel on Sunday. He adheres to the same plan now and is so hale and hearty that he is confident of being able to clip a little off his former record. He follows the post roads. Walking matches were much in vogue from thirty to forty years ago. One of Weston's old time rivals was Dan O'Leary, who is still alive and able to do a thousand miles in as many consecutive hours. A walking match of novel character was that recently arranged over a course from Newark to Philadelphia between vegetarians and meat eaters, to test the relative merits of the two respective plans of diet.

EDWARD PAYSON WESTON IN 1867 AND IN 1907.

The Whirling Dervishes.

Those spirits on the hunt for "sensations" in Constantinople will wish to "take in" the dervishes. The whirling clan have a convenient convent on the Grand Rue, where their circumnavigations may be witnessed at 7:30 o'clock on Friday evening for the admission of 10 cents. This weird performance personifies the solar system and is exactly ordered in all its phases. After preliminary circuits of the ring in single file to the discordant accompaniment of flute and tambourine the robed and turbaned dervishes commence their turning. With arms outstretched, the right palm upward to beseech blessings, the left depressed to signify mercy bestowed, the head is bent upon the right shoulder. The rapid revolving upon the right heel is effected by employing the left toes as motive power. As the circling accelerates, the long white skirts dilate until they stand out stiff after the manner of the attenuated garment of the premiere danseuse. Very little space is allotted to each priest, and it seems strange that there are no collisions. The dance ceases in an hour or so with the men exhausted.

Boys' Use of Barometers.

Every English schoolboy who can afford it has a barometer that he keeps hidden under his bed or in his trunk, for in all English schools barometers are strictly forbidden to the pupils. Why should they be forbidden? Why should they be desired? Through the autumn and winter the English schoolboy plays football every afternoon, weather permitting. He must play two hours each clear day. These two hours are taken off his recitations. They make his school tasks two hours lighter; hence when he knows beforehand that the next day will be clear he may spare himself two hours of useless study the night before. His barometer pointing to "fine" saves him a lot of toil. But when the instrument points to "change" then the schoolboy knows that there will be no football. Thus a boy with a barometer has a big advantage. He often sells weather predictions at a penny apiece.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Giants Not Long Lived.

Giants are not long lived, says Dr. Woods Hutchinson in the American Magazine. "Of nearly 100 names recorded I have been able to find the ages at death of only eighteen, as follows:

America's First Book.

The first book printed in America was "The Eccele Spiritual Fara Fiegur al Cielo" (Spiritual Ladder For Reaching Heaven). It was printed in the City of Mexico in the early part of 1537 by Juan Fabelos on a press brought from Europe by Fra Julian de Zumarraga, first bishop of Mexico. The first attempt at a newspaper in America was the Mercurio Volante (Flying Mercury), Mexico, 1633. The first Indian school was founded in 1524, and industrial schools for Indians date back to 1543. "Half a century before our overland pony express was inaugurated there were regular monthly mails the length of Spanish-America—from Paraguay to San Francisco, a little matter of 5,800 miles."—M. A. Lamburg in Scottsdale Independent.

Howler and Healer.

Rokitansky, the father of the well known operatic singers, was professor of pathology at the Vienna university. Besides the two singers he had another couple of sons, who had acquired a certain celebrity as medical men. One day when the old professor was asked how his sons were getting on he replied, shaking his head:
 "You see, friends, two of them heal and the other two howl, and the howlers earn four times as much as the healers!"—London Standard.

The Philosophical Father.

The old man had finally succeeded in marrying off two of his seven daughters.
 "Your girls have been blessings," said the officiating clergyman after the double ceremony.
 "Yes," the old man huskily asserted, "they are the sort of blessings that brighten as they take their flight!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Couldn't Take the Job.

An inland graduate came to New York to seek employment. Through a friend he received an offer of a place as shipping clerk to a certain firm. In reply he wrote as follows: "I regret that I cannot accept your kind offer of a position as shipping clerk, but the fact is that I am always sick when on the water."—Success Magazine.

Persuasion.

"I can't marry you," she said. "You are old enough to be my father."
 "Don't hesitate on that account. Ten years from now nobody will suspect it."—Chicago Record-Herald.
 There is always reason in the man for his good or bad fortune.—Emerson.
