WHERE GIFTS ARE

EASILY SELECTED.

The line of gift goods in our stock all represent desirable things. That's why selecting is easy here. It's impossible to fully appreciate what our careful buying means to the Christmas shopper until you see our goods and get our prices. See if there isn't something that interests you in the few lines we name: Books, music rolls, games, dolls, safety razors, cards, shaving supplies, novelties, phonographs, fancy china, stationery, perfumes, fountain pens, kodaks, pictures.

L. W. McCONNELL, Druggist.

Pathetic—Not Humorous.

Hearts attuned to sympathy and humanity felt the pathos of a scene offered in front of the postoffice, last Friday afternoon, in the vision of an elderly man sleeping the stupor of quite helpless inebriety, the while numerous priest and levites passed or paused in unconcern or derision and laughter. A minion of the law finally aroused the man and took him to a less public place. He calls Arapahoe home, THE TRIBUNE understands.

Common-Sense Giving.

This Christmas will no doubt be celebrated in quite a sensible way by the majority of givers, who will find their gifts more appreciated if consisting of furs, gloves, scarfs, mittens, handkerchiefs, cloaks, shawls, skirts and such items as fill a use in addition to possessing beauty. No better place to secure the right thing can be mentioned than The Thompson D. G. Co. You are cordially invited.

Just a Word

in regard to our holiday perfumes. Each odor has been selected because of its delicate and lasting fragrance. We carry only the specialties of several American and French manufacturers so you can't help getting the best.

WOODWORTH & CO., Druggists.

Sporting Houses Closed, Tuesday.

The subscription will be as heretofore STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.
F. M. KIMMELL, Publisher.

Every Kind of Gifts Here.

Our assortment provides an almost limitless selection of desirable gifts. To attempt a description of the various lines would be doing them an injustice, and we prefer to have you see them rather than to try to tell about them.

Gifts of Universal Quality.

Next to the magnificence of our assortment the chief characteristic of our stock is its universal high quality. Whether the price of a gift be high or low its quality decides its acceptability and we make you safe in this regard.

THIS IS THE WEEK TO BUY.

In all your Christmas thinking, keep this thought uppermost,—BUY EARLY,—there is every possible disadvantage in putting off the choosing of gifts until you have to pick from a depleted stock, in a crowded store, and amid all the bustle and confusion that attends the last few days before Christmas. The goods that would please you most are here now, but a little later may be sold. Every day will count from this—every day things you would have liked best will be leaving the store. Don't delay seeing them. Come at once and as often thereafter as you can.

L. W. McCONNELL, Druggist.

For Treatment.

The condition of Mrs. S. J. Miller, (who has been ailing for several weeks with a severe case of nervous prostration,) became so baffling and extreme, last week, that it was thought advisable to remove her to Hastings for treatment in the state institution at that place. She was accompanied by that point, Friday night last. It is sincerely hoped her physical well-being and mental poise may quickly be consummated.

A Little Accommodation.

As has been our custom always, we now for the tenth successive holiday season in McCook make this serviceable proposition: Any dress pattern cut off for a gentleman, to be given as a present may afterwards be exchanged by the recipient for any other in the stock if done by January 5th. You see how thoroughly this secures satisfaction. We invite your consideration of this plan. The Thompson D. G. Co.

Three Ladies in a Runaway.

Last Saturday the horse of Engineer F. E. Whitney became frightened and ran away throwing Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Whitney and her sister Mrs. Longhagen violently to the ground. It was thought at the time no one was hurt, beyond a bad shaking up, but later it was found Mrs. Longhagen had sustained a badly sprained wrist. She is doing nicely at the present time at her brother's home in West McCook.

City Authorities Put On the Lid.

The city authorities put the lid on the social evil, Tuesday, by closing the several houses in the red light district. On Wednesday night, the inmates to the number of about a score departed the city, going both east and west, there departure calling for the presence at the train of the police force, not to mention several and sundry admirers from the city and from adjoining points. It was a sad sight, my countrymen.

In the Library Basement.

For the present the basement of the Carnegie Library building is being utilized by the public schools to accommodate one grade of the system—the Sixth, which has been made up from the overflow of other grades. Miss Claudia Hatcher is in charge and will teach until the first of the year. This relieves the situation temporarily.
