New Postmaster In Charge.

Stuart B. McLean was ushered into the McCook postoffice, Sunday morning, the old postmaster F. M. Kimmell retiring on Saturday night, having completed a service covering ten years, and having resigned in order to devote himself exclusively to the publication of his newspaper THE McCOOK TRIBUNE.

Alonzo Cone is the new assistant postmaster.

E. J. Brady, late assistant postmaster, takes a clerkship under the new postmaster, succeeding Miss Sadie Coyle, who becomes recording clerk in the county clerk's office under Charles Skalla.

Miss Hattie Woolard continues in the position of general delivery clerk.

THE TRIBUNE expects the service to be up to the most reasonable expectations of the public—prompt and efficient.

SHIELD YOUR HANDS FROM HARM.

Cold weather brings distress to the housewife in the form of chapped, reddened and roughened hands. The chief cause is the many ways in which the hands must be immersed in water and then exposed to the air, which causes contraction and chapping of the skin. The practical remedy is the use of our household

The Rowland-Wootton Wedding.

A happy event of which THE TRIBUNE had knowledge, but which was in a regrettable manner overlooked, last week, was the wedding of Albin E. Rowland and Miss Carrie Mae Wootton, two estimable young people of our city, which took place on New Year evening, under happiest auspices, Rev. E. R. Earle of Saint Alban's church performing the ceremony, in the use of the ever-impressive ring ceremony and in the presence of about forty relatives and invited guests, at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wootton of our city.

The presents were numerous and fine, among them being one of exceptional beauty and value, of hand-made Mexican linen, the gift of the bride's brother H. E. Wootton of Douglas, Arizona.

After the ceremony a wedding supper of bounteous proportions and culinary excellence, was served.

The affair was one of joyousness and happy prospect.

To The Aid of Publishers.

The United States government has evidently taken over the job of the newspaper publishers that has ever been their most difficult task—namely, that of making subscribers pay for their newspapers, the government, through the recent order of the postmaster general, says that newspapers, to secure admission to the government mails, must be paid up, in the case of weekly papers, at least, within the year.

An Ugly Scalp Wound.

James Cleveland, an employee in Steve Wilson's livery barn, sustained an ugly scalp wound, Wednesday afternoon, in being thrown out of a vehicle by a team which he was unable to manage. A crescent shaped wound about four inches long was cut over the ear, which demanded the surgeon's skill and attention. No bones were fractured.

The New Officers in Charge.

January 9th, the first Thursday after the first Tuesday in January, the new county officers were duly installed in office, the old officials' accounts and records having first been inspected and verified and an accounting had and made with the county commissioners.

The new officers are:

COUNTY CLERK.

Into this office Charles Skalla was introduced. THE TRIBUNE believes that Mr. Skalla will make good and that his conduct of the office will be prompt, efficient and courteous. Miss Millie Elbert will be his deputy. She was recently advanced to that position under County Clerk E. J. Wilcox from that of recording clerk and is well qualified. Miss Sadie Coyle, for five years a clerk in the McCook postoffice under Postmaster Kimmell, will give a good account of herself as recording clerk.

COUNTY TREASURER.

This important office of trust falls into the hands of Clifford Naden, an excellent young man of fine qualifications of business and heart. We expect nothing but good report from him—reliable, steady, experienced as he is in business affairs and courteous as he is by nature. He is also to be congratulated upon his choice of deputy, in selecting and securing H. W. Conover, the present deputy under County Treasurer Cochran. Herb is accurate, rapid, genial and reliable, and has been a very satisfactory deputy.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT.

Miss Claudia Hatcher will fill this place with credit and profit to the system and educational matters in Red Willow county. She succeeds an energetic and efficient administration and will bring all of the qualifications necessary to advance the work in the office, having had experience in teaching in both city and country schools, which coupled with the necessary educational qualifications and fine administrative capacity, open the way for a term of success and usefulness in the office of county superintendent of public instruction.

DISTRICT COURT CLERK.

Chester A. Rodgers, who has been virtually the occupant of that office for the past year, on account of the absence of R. W. Devoe at school, steps in as chief in fact. He has had valuable experience during his incumbency of that office and with his careful attention to business and fine personal attainments will carry on the work of the office with success and credit. He is also clerk of the U. S. district and U. S. circuit courts.

COUNTY ASSESSOR.

T. A. Endsley follows Charles Skalla into this office. He has served as precinct assessor with credit and will not doubt fulfill the duties of the larger place with success and satisfaction, keeping in mind the growing importance of that position in the county's business system.

The other new officials are Dr. W. A. DeMay, county coroner, and Andrew Barber, who will be equal to any emergency.

PRESENT INCUMBENTS.

Of the rest of the county directorate, County Judge J. C. Moore, Sheriff H. I. Peterson, and Commissioner C. B. Gray are at present holding offices they continue in, and of them nothing need be offered. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. They have administered their several positions and offices to the satisfaction of the people, a fact which is finally determined by their election by large majorities for new terms.

In fine, it is fair to expect that Red Willow county will enjoy the services of efficient officers during the ensuing term.

Tooth Brushes.

No matter how particular you may be as to tooth brushes we can provide precisely what you want. All sizes, all the new styles, all shapes and all grades of bristles. Whether you are particular about wide choice or not, you might as well have it. All our better brushes are guaranteed and the prices are right through out.

Worthful Evening Service.

Last Sunday's evening service under the auspices of the Men's club of the Congregational church was of fine interest and worthful. Besides the sermon by the pastor on "Spiritual Brotherhood," there were two stirring anthems by the choir and the usual items of worship. A number of the club members were present.

For next Sunday evening, the sermon topic will be "Every Man's Lot." Besides there will be special music numbers.

The club extends a special invitation to the public to come and enjoy these services.

A. McMILLAN, Druggist.

The citizen who takes advantage of the times to stand off creditors, when he has the means at hand with which to liquidate, can never stand high on the roll of honor of the country's patriots.

Patrons in northeastern part of school district No. 1, this county, are considering the advisability of building another school house in their part of the district to save their children going several miles to school.

On account of the schools remaining closed none of the teachers have returned from their holiday vacation. Miss Temple, we understand, will not return at all, and her place in the corps will have to be supplied.
