Important Newspaper Ruling.

A ruling recently issued by the post-office department and which went into effect, January 1st, is of deepest moment to both publishers of newspapers and the reading public.

So far as THE TRIBUNE is concerned it means absolutely that all subscriptions to THE TRIBUNE MUST BE PAID WITHIN THE YEAR, that is, that no paper can be admitted to the mails at the pound rate if more than one year's subscription is owing. Three months' time is given publishers to adjust their lists to this ruling, and the publisher will begin at once to notify any who are delinquent. All delinquencies over a year must be paid, or the paper must be discontinued at their addresses.

The ruling provides that subscriptions must be collected up within a certain time limit; otherwise the matter will not be accepted at the postoffice at the second class postage rate of one cent a pound, but may be mailed at the transient second class postage rate of one cent for each four ounces or fraction thereof, prepaid by stamp affixed.

The rule says that to come under the provision whereby the publication may be handled as second class postage at the former rates, subscriptions to dailies must be within three months, weeklies within one year, semi-weeklies within nine months, tri-weeklies within four months, semi-monthlies within three months, monthlies within four months, bi-monthlies within six months, quarterlies within six months.

Wednesday, January 8th, 1908, was Grandma Ashcraft's 77th birthday and her friends to the number of about 36 gathered at her home and gave her a regular old fashioned surprise party.

The ladies brought well filled baskets, and the men each brought their ax and saw and kept busy on the wood pile until dinner was announced when all repaired to the dining room and sat down to a feast fit for kings and it is needless to say that all did ample justice to it. After dinner all gathered in the parlor and O. L. Thompson in a neat little speech in behalf of the company presented Grandma with a fine mantel clock as a token of the love and esteem in which she is held by all who know her. Grandma responded in a few heartfelt words of thanks. It was a very pleasant affair and all after wishing Grandma Ashcraft many happy returns of the day, left for home feeling that it was good to have been there.
