A "Wishing Shower."
 Mrs. Leroy Kleven and Miss Stella Fuller entertained the Owl-O's, Wednesday evening, at the Kleven home, at a "wishing shower" of cleverest particulars in honor of Miss Jeannette Dutton. The house decorations were especially notable. The parlor in pink, with a bell of pink chrysanthemums over the chandelier and pink crepe paper festoon from the chandelier to the corners of the apartment.
 Pink and white were the dining-room color scheme. A bisque cupid was pendant over the table, to which white ribbon streamers attached at the four corners from the chandelier. Pink paper festooning also was suspended from the chandelier to corners of the room. Wish bones attached to ribbon fell from the cupid to the table. Punch was served in a corner of the dining-room and hearts were the special decoration here.
 Paper hearts and cupids gave a grille effect to doorways.
 Guests were provided with paper hearts and thereon were composed wishes for the bride-elect. Miss Nellie Smith's skill was rewarded with a place at the table of honor with Miss Dutton.
 In the search for the ring, dime and thimble, Miss Aimee Menard, Miss Nellie Smith and Mrs. G. H. Thomas were the respective winners and occupied places with Miss Dutton at the table.
 J. F. Forbes' muse poured forth an appropriately sentimental lay, which was orally interpreted by Miss Elizabeth Bettecher and done in water colors by Mrs. W. H. Dungan.
 A FEW LINES TO MISS JEANNETTE DUTTON FROM THE "AWL-O'S."
 There's nothing so rare as some day in June,
 With buzzing of bees and flowers all a-bloom;
 When humming of insects must surely imply
 The days, too, of picnics and smearsy cream pie;
 When nature is smiling and life is a dream,
 And small boys keep dangling a worm in the stream,
 With earnest endeavor and most ardent wish,
 That somehow or other they'll land a big fish;
 There's nothing so rare then as some day in June,
 With buzzing of bees and flowers all a-bloom.
 And so that's the reason one's thoughts turn to rhyme,
 With songs that bear singing of "Good Summer Time;"
 There's music by bands in pavilions and parks,
 There's the song of the robin and carol of larks,
 There's the sunshine and shadow in woodland and brook,
 And sometimes the caw of a raven or rook;
 But all tell of Summer and summery skies,
 And mating of song-birds and shooting of flies;
 And so that's the reason one's thoughts turn to rhyme,
 With songs that bear singing of "Good Summer Time."
 We meet in the gloaming 'mid scent of the rose,
 And toast thee and roast thee like friendly Awl-O's.
 It seems quite auspicious, this mating of birds,
 While Father Time's finger points oft to June Third,
 And songs of the robin and carol of larks,
 And bands in pavilions, resorts and the parks,
 Make music melodious, while rhythm and tune
 Are telling the story of one day in June,
 That's why in the gloaming 'mid scent of the rose,
 We toast and roast thee like friendly Awl-O's.
 We toast thee for happiness while we're a-wishin'
 You'll never regret having metaphysician,
 For Psyche the goddess and ruler of mid,
 Has often made Cupid just go the thing blind,
 But Spring-time and Summer and song of bird
 Are humming in harmony, "Look at June Third,"
 The small boy is ancling—we echo his wish—
 That both of you land such an excellent fish.
 We toast thee for happiness, still all a-wishin'
 You'll never regret having metaphysician.
 May songs of the Summer and scent of the rose,
 Go with thee and bless thee, as do the Awl-O's.
 The poem-booklet, vase and set of solid silver teaspoons were club gifts to the guest of honor.
 A lunch in two courses was served. The color scheme in pink and white was indicated in the refreshments.
 Tiny gilded wish bones with small hearts attached at end bearing initials of bride and groom to be and small sacks of rice were souvenirs of the occasion.
 In the contest with a large wish bone between Miss Dutton and Miss Smith the former held the longer end of the argument.
 A satisfactory feature of the occasion was the initiation of ten new members into the club.
Buried Here Today.
 Matt Healy, formerly a resident of McCook for many years, died at the home of a relative in Diller, this state, Wednesday. He has been living with his daughter in Omaha, but recently started for here on a visit. He passed away very suddenly. The remains were shipped here, arriving last night, and burial was made, this morning, in Calvary cemetery, after services in St. Patrick's church, conducted by Rev. W. J. Kirwin. Among those present of the relatives were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bennett of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Miller of Denver.
To Insure Prosperity.
 Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture says that the unbounded prosperity of the agriculturist is not due to chance, but is the result of intelligent, scientific business methods. A reader of The Weekly Inter Ocean has placed before him each week the practical and approved methods to which Secretary Wilson refers. It is a good investment. Only $1.25 for The Weekly Inter Ocean and this paper one year.
An Eleven-Inning Game.
 The McCook high school base ball team played an 11-inning game at Cambridge, last Saturday, with the local high school team there, and finally wrested victory from the Cambridge boys by a score of 5 to 4. A fine game.

Obituary.
 Mrs. Sarah J. Wilson was born in Newton Falls, Ohio, March 10th, 1844. Was united in marriage with John Wilson March 10th, 1871, at Rockville, Mo. Four children were born to them, one son and three daughters, all living. Deceased came to Hayes county, this state, June 14th, 1885, and with her husband was a pioneer of that county, one particularly active in G. A. R. circles. She departed this life at the home of her daughter Mrs. Mary Hahn near Norton, Dundy county, May 13th, 1908.
 The remains were brought to McCook for interment, Wednesday evening of last week. Services were held at the home of her daughter Mrs. Joe P. Kummer of West McCook, Rev. G. B. Hawkes officiating, after which the remains were interred in Longview cemetery, this city. The husband and children accompanied the remains and were present at the burial.
CARD OF THANKS.
 We, the husband and children of Sarah J. Wilson, deceased, wish to express our heartfelt thanks to the kind friends and neighbors who so greatly comforted us in our loss. To the Sunshine club and the Royal Neighbors of America for their floral offerings, and to our former Hayes county friends and neighbors.
 JOHN WILSON,
 JAY P. WILSON,
 MARY HAHN,
 HATTIE CHRISTNER,
 ZETTIE KUMMER.

Seeking Her Erring Husband.
 Mrs. Lillie Clark of Denver was in the city, Thursday morning, seeking her erring husband, Homer D. Clark of that city, in the hope of having him return to Denver and to the support of herself and two little girls.
 Clark, who is manager of the American Stock Co., left Denver, she claims, on No. 14, Sunday morning, and that a Miss Palmer of that city, a sourestie in his company, left the city on Sunday afternoon on No. 2. Both, she claims, came to McCook. The register of the Palmer house on Sunday night shows the presence of Mr. Clark in the house, that night, and his departure on No. 2, Monday morning, on the same train. Miss Palmer is said to have arrived from Denver. Check records at the depot show that he checked two trunks and a dog to St. Joseph, Mo., on that train, and bought two tickets for that city. Mrs. Clark states she thinks they went together to that city.
 Mrs. Clark says that he left her two years ago in Chicago, and that she followed him to Denver, and they apparently patched up the matter, but that he carried on this affair with Miss Palmer within three blocks of their own home. She also claims that Clark is carrying on his theatrical company on her money.
Before Referee Keyes.
 The case of Bradford Kennedy Co. against William DeMay was heard before Referee H. W. Keyes in our city, Monday and Tuesday. E. B. Perry of Cambridge appeared for the company and Starr & Reeder for Mr. DeMay. The case involves a lumber bill. Referee is having the evidence type written for his perusal before making a report and decision to the district court.
O'Connell--Stevenin.
 Miss Kate O'Connell and Mr. E. A. Stevenin were united in marriage in Denver, last Saturday. From there they went to Kansas City on a short visit, going from that point to Chickasha, Oklahoma, where they will make their home. The bride grew into womanhood in our city. The groom was formerly employed by the Burlington here. Congratulations.
