

The McCook Tribune.

TWENTY-SEVENTH YEAR

MCCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY EVENING, AUGUST 14, 1908

NUMBER 12

It Is Up To McCook.

As the time approaches for the opening of the McCook chautauqua it becomes more and more evident that if McCook desires to continue in the chautauqua circuit another year she must do her very best to make good this year. We are willing to pour our money into sports without stint, and we can truthfully say, without profit; but we are just as willing to pay a few dollars as compared with the expenditures for sports in something elevating, instructive and entertaining? It is up to McCook right now to determine. THE TRIBUNE hopes the verdict will be overwhelmingly in favor of the chautauqua and that the sale of season tickets to this most commendable enterprise shall rapidly increase, the short time intervening before the season opens, Saturday, August 22nd.

THE TRIBUNE encourages legitimate, lawful sports, indulged in lawfully and in reason; but there is more in life, even to the youth, than merely having a "good time". The chautauqua gives the opportunity of having a rational good time and at the same receiving something enduring and elevating and instructive and worthwhile.

THE TRIBUNE appeals for the better things of life. Let us not waste too much of our valuable time and hard-earned money in frivolity. Let us get something out of life for the mental and spiritual man. Let us feed our heads and hearts and souls a little while we journey along.

Buy a season ticket for the chautauqua today.

Not From Missouri.

You naturally and properly want to know the quality of the pudding. Chewing the string is not the most satisfactory means of ascertaining. It's eating the pudding that tells the whole story. Same with meat. It may make your mouth water to read about juicy, tender, corn-fed meat. But complete satisfaction and realization comes only with the eating of the meat, and it is here that Marsh, the meat man gets into the game. His steaks, roasts, cutlets in all the kinds of meats have the quality of showing you, notwithstanding they do not come from Missouri. He wants an opportunity to make good. Try the Marsh meat market for anything reasonable in his line.

Are Putting in the Footing.

The building committee of the temple-opera house are engaged now in putting in the concrete footings for the big structure, and the water connections will be made and other arrangements perfected in anticipation of the commencement of work on the brick superstructure.

Plans for much of the building have already been received and are in hands of several contractors. Bids will be opened on August 31st, and it is the hope of the committee that work may be commenced shortly after this date.

A Big Job.

The state board of equalization made only a small reduction in Red Willow county's farm land assessment, but County Clerk Skalla says it will take one clerk nearly a month to make the changes and corrections on the books.

As To City Free Delivery.

Postoffice Inspector Grogan of the department spent several days in McCook, this week, looking over ground and making arrangements for city free delivery, to which this city is now by reason of its postoffice receipts entitled under the postal laws and regulations.

The city has been separated into three districts and three carriers will serve when the system finally goes into effect, and tentative provision is made for a fourth carrier when the demands of the system require it.

On account of practically entire absence of sidewalks in both East and West McCook these additions to the city will not at present receive free delivery. The same is true of South McCook, on account of its inaccessibility. But East and West McCook can remove their disability by laying the required sidewalks. The necessity of sidewalks has been urged by THE TRIBUNE.

In anticipation of free delivery the department suggests that all persons at once begin the use of their street and house numbers in writing and urge that all mail sent them be addressed to their streets and house numbers. This is important. Get the habit.

Then again beware of the letter-box fakirs. Pass them all up. Local dealers can and will supply at reasonable rates. You will be deluged with fakir advertisements. Remember this warning.

Letter boxes will in time be placed at the depot, hotels, at numerous points on Main avenue and at necessary points all over the free delivery section of the city.

Weak places in the paving of the city in this connection are 3rd street W. from B to K streets, and 6th street E. from B to G streets. These it is confidently expected will be made good at once by the property-owners, who of course are anxious to secure the free delivery service. Get busy, brethren.

Worth the Entire Bill.

The four musical companies that will furnish two concerts daily at the McCook chautauqua which will open Saturday, Aug. 22, are worth more than the entire cost of a season ticket. The Kirksmith Concert company is composed of four beautiful young ladies, three of them sisters. They are all instrumentalists while one of them sings soprano and another contralto.

The Hesperian Male Quartette was the Chicago University Male Quartette of twelve years ago. They are all men of affairs, and have won laurels in other lines, but they have maintained their organization all of these years and have been together every summer. Naturally they have a wide selection of songs and their voices have become beautifully harmonized. They are excelled by no quartette in America.

The Sterlings are the strongest company of colored artists obtainable. The peculiar timbre of their voices is especially adapted to out of door singing.

The Royal Hungarian orchestra consists of eight superb artists and soloists. There is no better orchestra on the platform.

An Open Letter.

As has before been stated in these columns, Viersen & Standish have something new to tell the readers of this paper every week. The following will prove beyond a doubt that in the short time they have been in business, since June 1st, they have firmly established themselves, not only at home, but among the manufacturers of the country as well, as the leading shoe store, conducted upon the most approved, up-to-date methods, and carrying nothing but the best specialty lines that can be bought.

Standing in a class by itself, preeminently "For the Man Who Cares", is the "Florsheim Shoe", which enjoys the reputation the country over as being the best that years of experience and honest effort can make it. The Florsheim Shoe Co. of Chicago, the manufacturers of this famous shoe, only establish one agency in each town and the retailers who are fortunate enough to secure these agencies, are certainly to be congratulated on being the choice of a firm like the Florsheim Shoe Co., to act as their representative in their localities. So this young firm, Viersen & Standish, have good reason to feel proud in making the announcement to the readers that they have secured the exclusive agency for the "Florsheim Shoe" and have received the first shipment for fall, embracing the newest styles and leathers, and extend to their many friends a cordial invitation to call at their store, 113 B street west, and see the latest. Don't forget the hospital that is being run in connection with the Shoe Parlor.

Saving the Boys.

Under the above head the following tribute to the able work being done by Judge Lee Estelle in the juvenile court of Omaha is paid by his old friend Richard L. Metcalf in Mr. Bryan's Commonwealth.

No one expects perfection at once in the administration of juvenile court laws, but the marked success of Judge Lee Estelle of Omaha in reaching and saving the boys is an evidence of what great results may be achieved in this great work. So long did society enact laws to protect itself from the individual that it overlooked the necessity of enacting laws to protect the individual from society. But of late the protection of the individual has been given attention with the result that we now have child labor laws, employers' liability laws, safety appliance laws and other laws of similar character. At the very foundation of all these laws, however, is the law protecting the children from the greed and carelessness of society. The old plan of herding delinquent and so-called "incorrigibles" in the same "bull pen" with old and seasoned criminals was only a plan for the propagation of crime. It made criminals instead of protecting society. The new and saner plan is to prevent boys and girls becoming criminals. They are not only protected from the greed that would rob them of their childhood and chance in order to profit by their toil, but they are protected by being taken from bad environment and put in the midst of proper surroundings.

It requires not only a knowledge of boys, but the knack of interesting them and gaining their confidence, in order to successfully prosecute this great work. Judge Estelle possesses these attributes in rich measure, and his work in Omaha is bearing rich fruit. It is gratifying to know that such men are growing more and more in demand as chautauqua lecturers. When men of great legal learning, like Judge Estelle, tell society how to handle the "boy problem" great results may be expected—results that will be of incalculable benefit to society. Those who have heard Judge Estelle are a unit in endorsing his work as a judge and as a lecturer. His years of experience in the work, his warm and tender sympathies, and his magnetic personality, combine to make him markedly successful in this great work. Our people will be glad to know that Judge Estelle will appear on our Chautauqua platform for one or more addresses.

Fire in an Ice House.

About two o'clock, Sunday morning, the ice house in the rear of Mitchell Clyde's saloon was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was sounded by the engineer of the electric light plant and the fire was soon under control. The structure is an old shell of wood covered with tin; the wooden part of the building was pretty well consumed, together with a quantity of ice.

Being within the fire limits the question of repairs is a troublesome one, and this may be the chief item of expense, although the damage and loss will total $200. The time and place were both favorable for a serious fire in the business district and the result is a matter for congratulation.

STRONG FRESH SPICES

The National Corn Show a Big Farmers' Institute.

Experiment station enterprise will establish a veritable school in agriculture at the National Corn Exposition at Omaha, during the big show in December. It is the purpose to have as full and complete an educational exhibit as can be made by the various state agriculture colleges and experiment stations. This is planned to be of such a character as will give the visitor to the exposition an intelligent and comprehensive idea of the experimental work being carried on at these state institutions.

There will be with each of these exhibits an instructor who will co-operate in any plan of lecture or demonstration best suited to instruct the public on the soil and climatic conditions of his particular locality and the crops and varieties of grain best suited to that section. The diseases of grains such as rust and smut in wheat and oats, the corn root louse and corn root worm, and the numerous insect pests that have proven a menace to crop growing in various localities over the great grain producing districts will be discussed from a practical and scientific point of view, with definite information as to their origin, their life history and remedies that influence toward their extermination.

There will be lectures and discussions on the composition and value of grains. Such topics as the composition and characteristics of heavy and light weight wheat, oats and barley, showing that the heavy weight grains are desirable because they contain a larger total amount of food. This with a more matured germ gives the heavy weight kernel the advantage for seed purposes. Starchy and glutinous properties in grains; uniformity in composition of wheat grown from a uniform lot of seeds, showing superior individuality in both head and kernel; these with scores of other important experiments and tests that have been worked out by the experiment stations will be in the line of instruction that will be put forth by agricultural colleges at this exposition.

Henry George, Jr.

The Redpath Chautauqua System was very fortunate in getting Henry George, Jr., of New York City, to fill the season's dates for Dr. Peter McQueen, who was taken sick while in Africa preparing material for a new illustrated lecture. Mr. George has two great lectures, both illustrated with stereopticon slides. In his "Wonders of the New Japan" he has not kept in the beaten path of the tourist, but has taken some elegant pictures which he explains with telling effect. But it is in "Princes of Privilege" that he is at his best; not so entertaining perhaps but vastly more instructive. In this address he points out the difference in the modes of life of New Yorkers very rich and very poor.
