PUBLIC LIBRARY NOTES.

"Literature is the greatest of the fine arts, and the novel holds a high place as a life teacher."

So says Newell Dwight Hillis, the successor of Henry Ward Beecher as pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, New York. He also adds, "Blessed are the books that take us back to the days when the world and the heart were young."

Several new novels have been added recently, some by gift, and some by purchase. Among them are: "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," by John Fox, Jr.; "Lewis Rand," by Mary Johnson; "Peter, A Novel of Which He is Not the Hero," by J. Hopkinson Smith; "The Leaven of Love," by Clara Louise Burnham. Mrs. Burnham's recent novels all carry a strong flavor of Christian Science. They are wholesome stories and much called for among our readers.

The juvenile department has received "The Story of a Wireless Telegraph Boy," "Brave Little Peggy," "Marty Ware, The Little Colonel's Chum," and "Rover the Farm Dog." Other books are ordered and will soon be here. Among them is "The Perfect Tribute," which should be read at every Lincoln celebration.

The Youth's Companion is printing a story entitled "A Lincoln Conscript," in eleven chapters, of which the ninth is now in.

An article in the February Century by Richard Watson Gilder, "Lincoln the Leader," reveals the wonderful capabilities of a wonderful man.

The same number contains a drawing in color of "Abraham Lincoln Reading Law in a Grocery Store" which, looked at in the light of what he afterward became, must strengthen the faith in himself, of anyone who is struggling through adverse circumstances, for higher and better things.

Here is a wealth of good literature, easily at hand. Make it yours.

The report for January shows the largest number of visitors and the largest number of books loaned of any month since the first of June. The number of visitors for the month is 2368; books loaned 1981.

Visitors from outside of McCook speak invariably in terms of praise, of the library as a whole; its beauty, the quantity and quality of its books, and its usefulness.

C. L. DeGROFF & CO.

We were surprised at the sale we have had on our roofing paint, and want to say a word about it this week. We do not claim it will cure corns or help the baby cut teeth; but we do claim

1. It will cover shingle, felt or paper roofs, making a coating like rubber.
2. It will bake or japan when exposed to the heat.
3. It sets quickly but dries slowly.
4. It can be used on any kind of material.
5. It is acid and alkali proof.
6. It is thoroughly elastic.
7. It is chemically free from acids.
8. It is water, weather and sun proof.
9. It does not settle in the package.
10. It is odorless when dry.
11. It cannot crack, peel or blister.
12. It does not discolor nor give taste to rainwater.
13. It spreads freely and easily.
14. It has a high fire test.
15. It is always ready for use, requiring no thinning.
16. It makes roofs watertight.
17. It dries with a glossy finish.
18. It is cheap in price only.
19. It will give satisfaction.
20. It is for sale by Stansberry.

One gallon covers 350 square feet on metal, 100 to 200 square feet on shingles, 200 to 300 square feet on paper and composition roofing.

FIVE YEAR GUARANTEE

WE GUARANTEE this roofing paint to contain no acids or injurious substances of any kind. When two coats are applied according to our directions, we GUARANTEE this paint to wear perfectly for a period of FIVE YEARS, and agree to furnish free sufficient paint to repaint any surface where it has proved defective.

Just unloaded a car of Western Cedar Posts from Ymir, British Columbia. They speak for themselves,—for you to see them is all we ask.

REPUTATION

IS a legitimate asset in every up-to-date business man's capital and success. But reputation and success are only achieved by square-dealing and having and selling goods absolutely right. It is not enough to sell right—you must first buy right and be able to meet every demand of the trade. Through his cash system this is accomplished by of teeth arouses an interest to discover that which appears to be a secret. Regular, constant attention that becomes a habit at an early age is a great financial as well as personal gain. This effort, united with an occasional visit to a dentist who gives you more than a financial interest, is one secret that produces teeth that cause more than ordinary surprise. One reason why teeth that get my attention win a wide popularity—the workmanship is the kind that endures and pleases the purse.

A Catchy Appearance
