Adelbert Le Roy Allen.

Adelbert Le Roy Allen, of this city, at the home of the family on South First street, died on Tuesday, May 11, at 7 o'clock p. m., of heart failure. The deceased had been failing rapidly for several months and retired from business. He passed peacefully, with but little pain.

Mr. Allen was a native of Washington county, New York. He received good schooling and engaged in railroading early in life serving in various capacities. He was promoted from time to time and became quite proficient in railroad operations. For sixteen years he was engaged in Wisconsin and afterward was in Nebraska for as many years. He subsequently came to California and finally located in Alhambra, engaging in the grocery trade.

Mr. Allen was a quiet, mild mannered man of an obliging disposition, but energetic and strong willed. In business dealings he was honorable in the highest degree. He was conservative and painstaking. His sunny temper and genial manner won him many friends. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, and all during his manhood life took an active part in church service. This community will miss his familiar figure on the streets and in social circles.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. W. F. Lawson.

The funeral occurred yesterday at 2 o'clock p. m. Services were held at the home, and were conducted by Rev. S. T. Montgomery of the Presbyterian church—Alhambra-Advocate, Alhambra, California.

A. P. E. O. Ceremonial.

One of the most felicitous of the P. E. O. initiatory assemblies was held at the cozy home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ebert, Friday evening, May 21.

After the regular convocation of Chapter X, P. E. O., convened for the purpose of initiation, Chapter A. U. K. of the B. I. Ls., duly adorned with the proper stellar emblem, was admitted to the P. E. O. reception parlor, there to witness the due reception of three candidates into the mysterious workings of the A. U. K., B. I. L.

The ritualistic work for this initiation—unusual in conception and performance, full of good points and permeated with humor of the drollest kind—was from the brain and pen of Miss Carrie Budlong.

It was certainly a flattering tribute to the author's versatility.

Dainty and satisfying refreshments were served terminating an evening of instruction, enjoyment and amusement.

All parted about the hour of midnight with hopes of a future equally pleasurable P. E. O. family gathering. *

Servant Girls In Defoe's Day.

It is evident from the comment below, found in "Gleanings After Time," that there is nothing new to be said on the servant question: Defoe, castigating the extravagances of his time, fell foul of the downward spread of fashion. His theme was a familiar one—the heinousness of a servant girl's attempt to imitate her mistress's costume.

"Her neat leathern shoes," Defoe's amusing indictment runs, "are now transformed into laced ones with high heels, her yarn stockings are turned into the woolen ones with silk clocks, and her high wooden pattens are kicked away for leathern clogs. She must have a hoop, too, as well as her mistress, and her poor linsy woolesey petticoat is changed into a good silk one, four or five yards wide at the least. Not to carry the description further, in short, plain country Joan is now turned into a fine city madam, can drink tea, take snuff and carry herself as high as the best."
