One Experience Enough.

Art Panteburg of the McCook Electric Co. force had an experience, last Thursday afternoon, which nearly robbed him of two syllables of his name. He was engaged on the main supply lines between the plant and the round-house, when he came in contact with live wires carrying 2,300 volts of the fatal juice. To the fact that he only touched the wire and his fingers or hand did not grasp the wire, he likely owes his present good health. The experience gathered is sufficient for a long while. His fingers were not severely burned, and his neck still more slightly burned.

THE HAND BEAUTIFUL.

Most hands are attractive if they are properly cared for and the care given shows prompt and satisfactory results. Have the necessary equipment handy and make use of it for a moment or two once or twice a day. No matter what you lack, we have it: SCISSORS, BUFFERS, FILES, ORANGE STICKS, ENAMELS ETC. This is the season when the hands are apt to need special attention. This is a good time to remember that we have manicure goods here for you.

L. W. McCONNELL, Druggist.

Principal Leavitt Preached.

Principal Leavitt of Franklin academy occupied the Congregational pulpit, last Sunday morning and evening, delivering two excellent sermons. He reports school opening at the academy with bright prospects—though the attendance expected has been reduced slightly by crop shortage. He forecast that the academy would shortly require an additional building, and that an effort would soon be made to secure needed funds.

"A GIRL AT THE HELM."

Which Will Be Presented at the Temple Theatre on the Opening Night, October 19th.

This is a musical comedy with unique characters and situations quite as rigid as those used by the best known plays without music. It would be interesting if there were not a song in it, but with a pleasant accompaniment of attractive music sung by well trained voices, vivacious dances and a dainty chorus introduced legitimately. The play has all the attractive features of both musical and legitimate comedy. During the long run at the La Salle theatre in Chicago, it was witnessed by many of the so-called "first nighters", who boasted of never having witnessed a musical comedy before. It was a daily occurrence to hear some one say, "I must see 'A Girl at the Helm' again before it closes", and if asked how many times he had witnessed the performance, the chances were that he would reply, "Well, really, I'm ashamed to say."

There is always a reason and a cause for success and popularity, which in this case is that the authors struck a new idea and the producer developed it with unusual skill.

A Lady Said:

"Show me your better prints, your 6c and 7c ones, I always buy the best." Her hand rested on a piece of Simpson's print as she spoke. We sell them and Americans and all the best prints made, for 5c. Her trouble was that she neither knew quality nor brands. Her criterion of value was simply price. She had always paid 6c or 7c or more and she thought a print offered her at 5c must be inferior. Pleased to say that we helped her to see "through" and a nice bill was the result. Our cash prices will benefit all who have the cash. The Thompson D. G. Co. Utmost value.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

SAMUEL SNOKE.

Samuel Snoke passed away, last Thursday afternoon, at his home in this city, after a long illness, the closing months of it being that of absolute helplessness with paralysis. Deceased was born in Walnut Bottom, Cumberland county, Pennsylvania, July 1st, 1840. He was united in marriage with Miss Caroline Ewing, January 2, 1865. He resided in Hayes county for many years, going there in 1885, and removing to McCook about a year since. For over three years he served his country in the 3rd Pennsylvania cavalry. He is survived by his beloved wife and three children, two daughters and one son. Eight children were born to this union.

Funeral services were briefly conducted at the residence on 5th street east, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. M. B. Carman officiating after which the remains were borne away and interred in Riverview cemetery, where repose the bodies of most of the veterans of the civil war interred in this city. Many friends filled the home at these services.

Some handsome flowers were the tributes of love and respect. The pall bearers were members of the order of engineers to which the son belonged.

To the bereaved wife and children much tender sympathy goes out from many friends and neighbors.

A CARD OF THANKS.

For assistance and sympathy during the long illness of our departed husband and father and after death had claimed him from his sufferings we are most grateful and thankful.

Mrs. C. G. SNOKE AND FAMILY.

GEORGE F. PRONGER.

The tragic death of Engineer George F. Pronger on his engine at Herndon, Kansas, last Thursday afternoon, was related in last week's TRIBUNE. There are no additional details to relate. While his engine was taking water at that station, the Angel of Death came unannounced and unbidden—he died at his post of duty, without as much as a word of farewell to dear ones or friends. Nothing of an unusual nature had transpired. The human engine quit beating and George F. Pronger had passed on before the way of all flesh.

George F. Pronger was born in Utica, New York, September 28th, 1857. At the tender age of two years he was taken by his parents to Plattsmouth, this state. Here he afterwards railroaded for three years, coming to McCook in 1887, and since which time has been an engineer on the McCook division.

He is survived by his wife and four children. The daughter, Mrs. Myrtle MacKain lives in Helena, Montana. The three younger children, Arthur, Robert and the baby James Frederick, live with the mother on the farm near Trenton, Hitchcock county. Deceased has a sister, Harriet, living in Omaha, and two brothers, James T. of Denver now visiting in England, and John E. of Sydney, Nebraska.

The remains were shipped here for burial where he had spent the most of the years he had worked on this division and on Sunday afternoon at half past one o'clock, brief service were held by Rev. M. B. Carman in the Methodist church, after which the body was buried in Longview cemetery.

Departed was not without his faults, but by his friends and those who knew him well and best he will be remembered as a big-hearted fellow with a rough exterior.

Though formerly a Mason, he retired from the order some time since.

A CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the friends who so kindly aided and comforted us in our late bereavement.

A Farewell Social.

The farewell social tendered their retiring pastor Rev. M. B. Carman by members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church, last Friday evening, drew a large and enthusiastic company of parishioners, friends and admirers to the church. The occasion disclosed a strength of friendship for the retiring pastor perhaps never before entertained for any pastor in the history of the church.

The league parlor was prettily and appropriately decorated and arranged for the occasion, and in this room was given the music-literary program of the evening as follows:

Piano solo.....Mrs. W. B. Mills
Vocal solo.....Miss Minnie Viersen
Vocal solo.....H. Floyd Miles
Vocal solo.....Miss Lenora Dougan
Piano solo.....Miss Deborah Heckman
Vocal solo.....Miss Florence Rosebush

These were followed by brief talks by Rev. Edger Burton of the Baptist church, H. E. Culbertson, O. E. Pearson, Sup't C. W. Taylor, F. M. Kimbell.

After this brief program, Rev. Carman responded briefly to the friendly sentiments expressed by the speakers of the evening, and refreshments were announced in the basement.

One of the incidents of the evening was the presentation to the retiring pastor of a purse of generous proportions.

In toto it was a splendid expression of the high regard of many friends within and without the church, a compliment to any citizen.

E. C. Hill served graciously as chairman of the evening.

NOTICE.

Parents knowing their boys to have this material in their possession will do well to see that it is returned, otherwise they will be arrested, and examples made of them.

DRAW BACK THE SHOULDERS.

Do it gently and gradually, but do it. Round shoulders are a menace to health. In children especially the tendency to stoop should be promptly corrected, because lack of lung capacity means retarded development and lower vitality. We carry a line of shoulder braces we believe to be the best on the market. They draw the shoulders easily, firmly and gradually into the proper position.

Praise From Chicago Dailies.

The most marvelously enthusiastic notices ever given by the Chicago newspaper critics to any play since the first theatre was built in the Windy City, are accorded the musical comedy, "A Girl at the Helm," which was presented to capacity audiences for 300 performances at the La Salle theatre. The book and lyrics are Robert B. Smith's and Raymond Hubbell's, authors of "A Knight for a Day."

Percy Hammond of the Evening Post and Chicago's foremost critic, said: "A Girl at the Helm" is far and away ahead of the copious output of the Adams, Hough and Howard outfit, authors of "A Stubborn Cinderella" and "Honey-moon Trail." Its characters are more attractive, its story being more interesting and consistent and its wit more spontaneous. The piece is beautifully dressed in silk and satin, and its dancing numbers, thanks to Mr. Al Holbrook, are without exception poetic and graceful.

Mr. Burns Mantle, of the Chicago Tribune, agrees with Mr. Hammond in the following words: "A Girl at the Helm" is in every way a decided advancement upon any other musical comedy born in Chicago. Its story is charming, the girls were gorgeously arrayed in a series of costumes that would shame anything but a rainbow, and all in all the grand old word "gorgeous" is none too good to use in referring to it."

"A Girl at the Helm" will be seen at the Temple theatre, McCook, Oct. 19th.

His Farewell Sermon.

Rev. M. B. Carman addressed his people and friends, last Sunday morning and evening, in the capacity of pastor for the last time before departing for his new field of labor as pastor of the Methodist church of Minden. Upon both morning and evening the church was well filled—the evening audience crowding the edifice. The sermons were naturally of a most feeling sort—especially that of the morning, when the pastor found himself too full for utterance. The evening sermon was a characteristic and earnest one. THE TRIBUNE joins with a host of friends in wishing him a full measure of success in his new field.
