MRS. FAHNESTOCK DIES.

Passed Away This Morning in a St. Louis Hospital.

Mrs. N. E. Fahnestock, widow of the late Jacob K. Fahnestock, died at 5 o'clock this morning in a hospital on Grand avenue, St. Louis. The body will be brought here tonight on the Wabash and transferred to the branch run and taken to Wanda. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, the service to be held in the Wanda Methodist church and the interment to be in the Wanda cemetery. Rev. T. B. Sowers of Bethalto will conduct the service.

Mrs. Fahnestock was a member of one of the oldest families about Wanda.
Her husband died in fall of 1899 and since then she has resided principally with her daughter, Jennie, wife of E. T.
Kendall, of Staunton. There is one other child, Charles, who is a physician, located at McCook, Neb.

For some time past Mrs. Fahnestock has been ailing, and it was seen that an operation was necessary. She was taken to St. Louis two weeks ago to have it performed. The operation itself was regarded as successful, but her advanced age and failing strength were insufficient to meet the demand and she gradually sank.—Edwardville Intelligence.

Mrs. Fahnestock was born in Hopkinsville, Ky., June 1st, 1847. She spent several years of her life in our city and many friends will learn of her death with regret. The funeral occurred at Wanda, Ill., last Saturday. Dr. and Mrs.
C. L. Fahnestock of our city attended the burial.

The Lincoln State Journal is certainly going after new business when it offers to send that big daily paper without Sunday from now until January 1, 1910, for only 50 cents, or with Sunday for 75 cents. Almost every family in the state will want to take advantage of this big cut in price in order to compare The Journal with any other daily they know about. This is just what The Journal folks want and why it makes such a cheap price. Its publishers feel that if a family gets the Journal habit no other paper will ever fill the bill after that. The Journal not only is a great newspaper in a strict news sense, but stands for many of the principles that are being fought for by Nebraska. Its in the forefront of the battle against the saloon and refuses to print liquor or nasty medical advertising. Send in a half dollar and see what a lot you get for your money. They guarantee to stop the paper when the time is up.
