A STEADY DRAIN.

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole Body—Make You Ill, Languid and Depressed.

Weak kidneys weaken the body through the continual draining of life-giving albumen from the blood into the urine, and the substitution of poisonous uric acid that goes broadcast through the system, sowing the seeds of disease. Loss of albumen causes weakness, languor, depression. Uric poisoning causes rheumatic pains, nervousness, nausea, cricks in the back, gravel and kidney stones. The proper treatment is a kidney treatment, and the best remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

William Parks, living in Red Cloud, Neb., says: "For about three years my kidneys were in a disordered condition and I was obliged to get up three or four times at night to void the secretions. I was also subject to dizzy spells. I have now used Doan's Kidney Pills for some time and have the greatest relief therefrom. My kidneys give me no further trouble and the dizzy spells are a thing of the past."

Plenty more proof like this from McCook people. Call at McConnell's drug store and ask what customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TOWER OF LONDON.

The Picturesque Old Structure on the Banks of the Thames.

The Tower of London is one of the most picturesque places in all England. It is located on the north bank of the Thames and just east of the business district of London. It occupies about twelve acres and is surrounded by a broad and shallow moat. In feudal days it was one of the strongest fortresses in the country and was deemed impregnable. It is now a government storehouse and armory and, above all, one of the sights of London.

The moat, which, with the battlement and towers, makes the stone structure such a hoary antiquity, is bordered within by a lofty castellated wall. At frequent intervals of this part of the structure there are massive flanking towers.

Within this wall rises another of similar construction, but of greater height. Here are the various barracks and armories. In the center of all is the lofty keep or donjon known as the White tower. This was erected in the days of William the Conqueror and contains one of the most charming little chapels of Norman design which have remained till the present day.

The White tower was the court of the Plantagenet kings. In the north west corner is St. Peter's chapel, now the garrison church. In another part is the jewel office, containing crown jewels of enormous value. One set which you see in the center of a case is said alone to be worth about $15,000,000.

Nearby is the horse armory, containing a truly wonderful collection of an ancient and mediaeval arms and armor. In the court just beyond is a slab marking the spot where Anne Boleyn, wife of Henry VIII., was beheaded. Similar fates befell many other famous personages in English history within the great walls of the Tower of London.—Boston Herald.

NIPPED THE REVOLT.

Dramatic Manner in Which Zelaya Caged the Conspirators.

Zelaya, the extraordinary man who for sixteen years retained the presidency of Nicaragua, only to lose it because he went too far in offending the government of the United States, was never satisfied unless he performed his coups d'etat in the most dramatic fashion possible. This story the New York Sun tells of him:

His spies once brought him information that a revolution was being planned by several of his army officers. They were to meet on a certain evening at the house of one of the conspirators to arrange the final details. While they were eagerly discussing the best way to seize the president the door opened and in walked Zelaya himself.

"Good evening, gentlemen," he said pleasantly. "I heard you had a party here this evening, and I have dropped in to share the fun. Quite a distinguished gathering. You are discussing military matters, no doubt?" He went on, chatting affably for a half hour, while his enemies were torn with fear and suspense. Did he know of the plot? Most of them thought he did and wondered whether they had better not put a bullet in him at once. But he was so cordial, so thoroughly at ease, that they hesitated.

Presently he rose, poured out some wine and raised his glass. "A toast, gentlemen," he said. "Here's long life to the president of Nicaragua and confusion to all traitors!"

As he spoke he hurled the glass against the window, where it smashed in pieces with a crash. The door flew open, and thirty or forty soldiers, who had been waiting outside for the signal, rushed in. All the plotters were convicted, but the president dealt leniently with them. Some were imprisoned and some exiled, but none was shot.

How Weasels Carry Eggs.

One morning a weasel was surprised crossing the public highway leading from Jedburgh into Oxnam Water. It was observed to be carrying something under its chin and pressed against its slender neck, and when a collie dog belonging to one of the onlookers made a dash at the little creature it dropped its burden—a hen's egg—and, gliding under the roadside hedge, disappeared in the woodland. On being picked up the egg was found to be without a crack. The nearest poultry run is about 200 yards distant from the place where the weasel was intercepted.—Scotsman.

Spiteful.

Patience—I hear you're engaged to be married.
Patrice—Where in the world did you hear that?
"My maid told me."
"How did she hear it?"
"A policeman told her."
"More mystery. How came a policeman to know it?"
"Why, the man you're engaged to told him when the officer was taking him home!"—Yonkers Statesman.

The Judge's Joke.

Sheriff Guy is responsible for a court of session story. Once when the present lord justice, Clerk, was conducting a jury trial he made a small jest. The audience thought it his duty to laugh. "Silence!" shouted the mace in measured tones. "There's nothing to laugh at!"—Westminster Gazette.

A Shocking Question.

Traveling Man (to hotel clerk at counter)—Can I take a bath here?
Clerk (indignant)—No, sir; hire a room.—Lippincott's.
