The Republican county convention for Red Willow county will be held on Wednesday, July 20th, that date being decided upon, we understand, at a meeting of the central committee held in this city, some time last week.

We have been personally acquainted with Mr. Harmon since he was a small boy and know him to be an honorable young man, and one who would be alert to the interests of his constituents at all times, and if we are to have a Democrat to represent this district in congress we know of no one in that party better fitted and more trustworthy than Mr. Harmon.—Hayes Center Republican.

"What do you know?" of the above from the standpat, regular Republican organ of the "State of Hayes?"

President Woodrow of Princeton, in an address on "Citizenship and the Educated Man," recently said: "Every educated man should be independent. It should be every man's pride to be no man's man. I think the total number of voters in this country is about 15,000,000. How many of the voters govern the country? Not more than one-fifteenth—about 1,000,000. The men you can be sure will vote the Republican ticket and the men you can be sure will vote the democratic ticket do not govern the country. Political managers do not keep awake nights about you if they know how you vote. You are a captive. If you are independent they will ask: 'What do you want?' If you do not tell them of something you want they are in despair. Then they know you want certain principles carried out."

Call for Republican State Convention

"The republicans of the state of Nebraska are hereby called to meet in convention in the city of Lincoln, on Tuesday, July 26th, 1910, at 12 noon, for the purpose of adopting a platform and selecting a state central committee and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention.

"The convention shall be made up of delegates chosen by the republicans of the respective counties of the state at the regular county convention in the manner provided by law, on the basis of one delegate for each 150 votes or the major fraction thereof, cast at the 1908 election for O. C. Bell, republican nominee for presidential elector. Said apportionment entitles Red Willow county to eight delegates.

"It is further recommended that no proxies be allowed and that the delegates present from each of the respective counties be authorized to have the full vote of their delegation.

"In accordance with the rules of the republican state committee, credentials of delegates to the convention should be filed with the secretary of the state committee at least five days before the date of said convention.

"The members of the county central committee for each county, who are to conduct the 1910 campaign must be chosen at the delegate county convention which elects delegates to said state convention, and reported at once to the state committee.

"(Signed) Myron L. Learned, Vice Chairman.
Clyde Barnard, Secretary.

"By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them."

Mr. W. E. Andrews has not entered into any arrangements with any parties in Nebraska or elsewhere for the purpose of seeking the governorship.

He has never received any suggestion from the president either directly or indirectly concerning the Nebraska campaign for this or any future year.

When questioned directly concerning a prospective candidacy he said: "While I was in the state during my recent vacation national and state affairs were frequently reviewed in conversations with my personal acquaintances and party friends. Some of them suggested that I should enter the race. While I have not declined to give their suggestions due consideration, I have invariably expressed a decided preference to assist someone else as the Republican candidate for governor.

"All political parties have a splendid opportunity this year to render excellent service in the moral progress of our state, and I sincerely hope that it will be utilized wisely and efficiently. Of course, I am in favor of county option and you may rest assured that I will be glad to do my part when the time comes. This question is before us and demands solution. Why not dispose of it now and have it out of the way when the presidential campaign comes two years hence.

"The accredited representatives of the Republican party will in due time arrange as to platform and candidates. Their thoughts and actions will formulate the policies and there will be no necessity for their going to Washington or elsewhere to find out what should be done.

"Of course, I have been absent from my home in Hastings most of the time for several years because my official duties have required my presence at my office in Washington. I have always taken it for granted that a public official should spend at least a part of his time at his office in the transaction of public business.

"The records of the national administration and the present congress present to the country some very commendable legislation enacted in harmony with the Republican national platform of 1908. That work has been performed by the Republican party as a party without regard to any factional divisions or differences of opinions. We can well afford to go into our Nebraska campaign this year with the understanding that we will take from the political teachings of LaFollette, Cummins and Dolliver all that is good and serviceable for our state and that we will do likewise with respect to the political teachings of all other distinguished senators and members of Congress.

"Are we not large enough and wise enough to sift the wheat from the chaff. 'Prove All Things' and hold fast only that which is good? There are many good things to talk about as we seek the financial, intellectual, political and moral progress of our state. Who can and will serve best? 'By their fruits you shall know them.'"

The "Oregon Plan," briefly stated, is that candidates for the legislature sign one of two statements. Statement No. 1 is to the effect that the candidate "will vote for that candidate for United States senator who has received the largest number of the people's votes at the general election next preceding the election of a senator in congress without regard to my individual preference." Statement No. 2 is to the effect that the candidate will consider the vote of the people for United States senator as "nothing more than a recommendation, which I shall be at liberty to wholly disregard, if the reason for doing so seems to me to be sufficient." Republicans are showing a disposition to ignore or evade it. The "Oregon plan" merely means that the people may elect their United States senators instead of turning the matter over to the hands of corporation agents and machine politicians as heretofore.
