

Something New In Kitchen Ware

The "1892" Pure Spun Aluminum Ware is rapidly coming into use for cooking purposes. It is taking the place of agate and enamel ware because v hile its first cost is a trifle more than ordinary ware, it is really much cheaper in the long run, as it is guaranteed for twenty-five years and will last practically

The genuine "1892" Ware, made only from pure SPUN (not cast) Aluminum, will not crack, scale, peel, break, scorch or burn.

It looks like silver but weighs only about onequarter as much, is easily cleaned and handled, and will not rust, corrode or tarnish. Absolutely pure, non-poisonous and wholesome; saves money, time and doctor's bills.

Be sure you get the original and gen-uine ware stamped with the Maltese Cross. At your dealers,

Make Your Home "Spick and Span"

Every woman is proud of a thoroughly clean house. It means work to keep things spick and span, but it is the results that counts. She'll welcome any easier and better way; but, for lack of it, has continued to clean, scrub, scour and polish, using the same methods her grandmother did. In modern times, why not use modern methods. Use Old Dutch Cleanser, the cleanser, scrubber, scourer and polisher used in hundred of thousands of homes. It does all the work with much less effort and the result is immediate. It scoars pots, pans and kettles without scraping; cleans all sorts of floors and painted walls without hard rubbing and polishes quickly and brightly. With this modern cleanser housework is made a pleasure and done easily. Use Old Dutch Cleanser for all your cleaning.

A ROYAL BOOK BUYER.

The Purchase of Diderot's Library by Catherine II. of Russia.

Empress Catherine II. of Russia was great reader and a lover of books. One of her services to letters in Russia was the purchase of the libraries of Voltaire and Diderot. She was a warm friend and admirer of these French philosophers, and their work interested her because she was eager to learn new theories of politics and government. Voltaire's library of about 7,000 volumes is now a part of the Russian imperial library in the Hermitage palace, and in the hall devoted to it is Houdon's statue of Voltaire,

The story of Catherine's purchase of Diderot's library is interesting. It is creditable to her tact and her generosity. Diderot named $75,000 as the price of his library. Catherine II. offered him $80,000 and named as a condition of the bargain that her purchase should remain with Diderot until his death. Thus Diderot, without leaving Paris, became Catherine's librarian in his own library. As her librarian he was given a yearly salary of $5,000. One year this salary was not paid. Then Catherine wrote to her librarian that she could not have him or her library suffer through the negligence of a treasurer's clerk and that she should send him the sum that she had set aside for the care and increase of her library for fifty years. At the end of that period she would make new The following real estate filings arrangements. A check for $100,000 have been made in the county clerk's accompanied this letter.

MEET IN OMAHA JULY 20-23.

German Singers Come "Out West" for Biggest Musical Event in Two Years. Bring American and European Artists With Them-Two Thousand School Children in Another Chorus.

Two thousand German singers, their friends and the most famous vocalists of this country and Europe will gather "out in Nebraska," July 20-23, for the twenty-fourth biennial gaengerfest of the Saengerbund of the

For the first time in the history of the organization a place of meeting has been selected west of the Missouri river, the society having unanimously selected Omaha as the meeting place for the big musical event because of the large Auditorium and hotel accommodations, as well as because of the large number of German people in Omaha interested in the saengerbund

It is a great thing to Nebraska to have this national saengerfest meet within its borders, as it will bring to the state hundreds of the most prominent German citizens in the United States, and give home people an opportunity to hear them.

The Saengerbund has a most thorclothed and covered with dust, appear- ough way of organizing and rehearsing ed at the gate and timidly beckoned to the music, the director traveling from one city to another throughout the year and giving instructions, leading the local choruses and assisting the leaders to insure unison when the big event takes place in Omaha.

THE EARGAIN CHASE.

American Women and the Shopping Game Mania.

More maney is wasted every year by women buying needless things under the excitement of the bargain hunt than is spent in all the gambling houses and race tracks put together. says Mary Heaton Vorse in Success Magazine. When you say that I have no statistics to prove this I answer that I have common sense and have spent much time in city shops. I know, too, what I am capable of, and I am but a balf hearted hunter. 1 know what my friends do. It isn't for nothing that I have seen earnest young students of economics succumb to this hunting instinct and fare forth to buy ninety-eight cent undergarments.

It is not only in the stores frequented by poor or uneducated women that I have seen the more brutal instincts of the human race come to the surface. I have seen a charming looking elderly woman in a high class store snatch a dress length of gray voile from the hands of another elderly woman, and the reason I happened to see these sights was because I myself was at the sale looking at garments I didn't want and didn't need and buying them

The bargain chase, the shopping game passion or sport, life work or recreation-for it may be any one of these, according to the temperament of the woman-has American women well in its grip. Hardly one of us escapes some one of the psychological deviations from the normal which I have mentioned.

They were youthful enthusiasts in physiognomy. On the seat opposite in the train was a man of commanding figure, massive brow and serious expression, "Splendid face," one of them explained. "What do you suppose his life work has been?"

"A lawyer?" suggested the other. "No-o; there's too much benevolence in that face for a lawyer."

"Maybe a banker?" "Oh, no! A man with an expression like that couldn't have spent his life in merely turning over money." "He might be an editor."

"An editor! Cufting and slashing his enemies at every turn and even his friends occasionally for the sake of a smart paragraph? You can't read faces. That man's a philanthropist or | for W. H. Look at that curve there on the left."

At the next station an old countryman took his seat beside the man with massive brow and soon entered into a conversation with him, in the course of which he asked the latter "what was his line."

The two opposite held their breath In the intensity of their interest.

"Oh. I've got a little tayern and butcher shop back in the country a bit," was the proud reply. "My wife tends to the meals and I do my own killing."-Youth's Companion.
