

8 Big Days

A Chance of a Life-Time for You to Save Money.

I have rented the north side of THE BEE HIVE store and will put on sale $5,000 worth of the highest grade merchandise in this community. This merchandise was bought by me, last fall, for this season's business, from the best manufacturers in the United States, and is not the shelf-worn goods usually found in sales. Never before in the history of Red Willow county have the people had the opportunity of buying new, high-grade merchandise at such ruinous prices. It will be the greatest upheaval of bargains within the four walls of the city since she came on earth. We propose to pour out to the people in the next eight days,

Commencing Saturday, July 30, 1910

$5,000.00 worth of new, clean, bright merchandise, backed by the best manufacturers on earth, at the lowest prices people ever saw. THIS STOCK MUST GO. We are out of the business and need the money. Those who look, read and act will profit.

It were better to have smoked out the politicians late on the temperance question than never.

Alliance has decided to buy the electric light plant of that city and run it under municipal ownership.

Aren't the Republicans of Red Willow county progressive enough for the initiative, referendum and recall, or was it simply overlooked in the effort to secure some less important matters? Or are we just near-insurgents?

Better Start Now

An early start and a definite plan goes far toward assuring success to the young man or woman starting out in life. No need of being "stingy" neither should you be a "spender." The sensible and easy method of creating a fund for your future needs, is to open an account with this bank; deposit whatever you can each week or month. Stick to it, and in time your success will be assured. Better start now; you will never regret it.

North Platte with a population of 5,146 has been declared a city of the first class.

A movement is on foot to start a new party to be composed of Lincoln Republicans and Jefferson Democrats. The only difficulty in the way of the movement is that all Republicans think they are Lincoln Republicans and all Democrats think they are Jefferson Democrats.—Chicago Record Herald.

The railroads by voluntarily postponing the rate increases until November 1, in anticipation of suspension orders to that effect by the Interstate Commerce commission, both avoid the disagreeable necessity of taking that action under compulsion and gain what credit attaches to a policy of facilitating the commission's inquiry into the reasonableness of the higher charges.—New York World.

It is said that a good many Democrats are going to attempt to vote at the Republican primary. Voters have a right to vote for whom they please at the election, but not at the primary. The primary is purely a party affair. No Republican has a right to vote at the Democrat primary, and no Democrat has a right to help nominate the candidate for the Republican party. And any man who encourages that sort of thing is encouraging the breaking of the law. If challenged, a Democrat who votes at the Republican primary, or a Republican who votes at the Democratic primary, commits perjury.—Ex-Governor Hoch.

The statement of the clearing house banks of New York shows that the metropolis is fast getting into an impregnable financial condition. The banks have decreased their loans and have increased their deposits, their surplus, their legal tender, their specie, their reserves—every item on the whole report shows increased strength. Similar reports came from London. All of this strengthening may have its effect in discouraging new business ventures. It certainly does cut down speculation, and helps to flatten out the stock market from day to day until there are apparently no bulls and no lambs left in the enclosure. But this sort of banking wards off panics and puts the country in better condition than ever to care for business expansion when natural conditions are favorable for producing it.—Lincoln Journal.

As last year, the people will require those seeking office to declare themselves on such important questions as county option, initiative and referendum, the Oregon plan etc. No dodging or pussy-footing will do.

The Tribune is not inspired on this question but simply a victim of auto-suggestion when it states that it sees no good result to come at this time from the dubious effort to embroil Senator Burkett and Congressman Norris in a political warfare of doubtful utility and uncertain result. Senator Burkett is a candidate for reelection to the United States senate. Congressman Norris is a candidate for reelection to the lower house. Both are Republicans. Both are men of good ability. Both in congress have rendered a service as he has seen his duty and opportunity. They in part represent different types of Republicanism. The record shows that these gentlemen have not voted alike on given questions of importance. The senator has not been as progressive doubtless as has been the congressman. It will be well to remember that each and both of these gentlemen have constituents who radically differ from them on questions now before the country. And yet all these are Republicans. The publisher of The Tribune is now and has for years been a progressive in politics. He is mindful, however, of the stand-patter, whom he does not emulate. He is unable to decipher the doubtful utility of such senile utterances as have fallen from the lips of one Mr. Cannon in Kansas recently. No more can he see advantage or profit to either Burkett or Norris in the effort of those who seek more to encourage this internecine strife than to promote party and progressive measures. There is nothing essentially incompatible with Republicans supporting both of these gentlemen in their different aspirations. It is perfectly clear to the writer that the important and urgent thing at hand for the Republican party in the Fifth Nebraska district is the resolute getting together and reelecting of Congressman Norris. This most desirable enterprise will engage every legitimate energy and activity of the party in the district and will leave no ammunition for inter-party use.

Superstition.
A strong man may be superstitious, but he would be stronger if he could overcome his superstition.

For Representative. Announcement to Voters.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for renomination to the office of representative of the 65th district, subject to the will of the Republican voters at the coming primary election.

If elected I will use my influence and vote for county option law and will always vote for the people's choice for United States senator without regard to my individual preference.
FRANK MOORE.

Resistance of Special Interests.

Just as every effort made for the restriction of slavery was resisted by the slave power, so every effort made to protect the people from the injustice of corporate greed is resisted by the great corporations of this time. The Republican party in its national convention declared for a revision of the tariff, maintaining the principle of protection, and further stated that duties should be based upon the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad, plus a reasonable profit to the home manufacturer. Upon that platform the party won the fight, and I believe the pledge would have been carried out, had it not been for the perfidy and selfishness of certain designing legislators, who were more desirous of favoring special interests than of promoting the welfare of the people. The great work before us is but fairly begun. This year we had to fight as hard to hold what had been secured in years past as we did to get additional legislation. To hold what we now have and secure these other necessary provisions is the fight for the future. It cannot be won without the determined support of the people.—U. S. Senator Bristow of Kansas.

Hon. J. C. Gammill was in town Saturday and called at this office to inform us that the report being circulated by his opponents that he is a resident of Lincoln county was false. He resides on his ranch in Frontier county where he has lived for about thirty-five years. Senator Gammill says he is unequivocally for county option and the initiative and referendum. He lives in the banner Republican county of the district and has done yeoman service for the party and thinks he is entitled to a renomination and many Republicans hereabout agree with him.—Cambridge Clarion.
