Arapahoe hears "rumors" of a new depot to be built at that place "in the near future."

Just look into the antecedents, the character and the business of some of the fellows who are attempting to stand sponsor for the ability and character, the all-right-ness of one Jim Dahlan. One glance will suffice. Then remember that law and principle, honor and decency are above booze and pelf.

Both Uncle Joe and Ballinger announce themselves ready to go over the transom rather than to walk out of the door of resignation. Either will suit the American people.

The Hastings Democrat says that "nobody in Nebraska expects Omaha to be truly good." No, even common decency stretches them out of form; and anything approaching observance of the laws of Nebraska would throw the community into a convulsion fit.

Mayor Phillips of Ottumwa, Iowa, has been found guilty of "wilful neglect of duty in permitting resorts and gambling houses to run, also for being intoxicated on April 30th," and Judge H. E. Wilcocks has handed down an opinion ousting the mayor. It is too bad Judge Wilcocks doesn't reside in Douglas county.

"Mr. Bryan in making his fight for county option says he knows of an agent of the brewers who has offered a certain man in the state $1,000 a month for ten months to see that enough anti county option state senators are nominated and elected to prevent the enactment of either county option or the initiative or referendum," says an exchange.

The cigarette fiend is being hit hard upon all sides in the business world. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad company has announced that every employe found smoking cigarettes the company will no longer give him employment. They have ascertained to their satisfaction that the cigarette fiend cannot, or does not perform his duties in as satisfactory manner as does the other fellow.—Harvard Courier.

We want to say a few words to the man who meets his small obligations promptly. They are not as plentiful as they should be and the man needs encouraging. Most men will pay but fewer will pay promptly. Almost any firm will testify that counting the time, postage, booking, and the like, it takes all some accounts are worth to collect them, and still the man owing it to them is perfectly responsible in a financial way. It very often happens that the worst sinner in this particular is the man best able to pay.—Harvard Courier.

"The population of Holdrege will show a little 3,000 people," says the Hastings Democrat prophet.

"700 From Sioux City." To the Dahlanites of Douglas let us pay our meed of thanks For the trouble and confusion in the democratic ranks. Said the mayor to his people, as he burned the midnight glim. "We must all of us get busy if we win this fight," said Jim. So they sent across the river for two regiments of toughs— Seven hundred from Sioux City and the rest from Council Bluffs. "In this fight we are waging, if our enemies we trim, We must have the votes to beat them—there's no other way," said Jim. So he called the clans together, and he lifted off the lid, And he listened while they told him all the things that should be did. All believed to win the battle, much depended on the roughs— Seven hundred from Sioux City, and the rest from Council Bluffs. Then Jim Dahlan blew his whistle, and it struck the further shore, And the men who heard his whistle left the valleys and the hills, For they felt 'twas safe to answer when the brewers pay the bills; Yes, they came across the river to assist the local toughs— Seven hundred from Sioux City and the rest from Council Bluffs.—Bix.

Drawback. The Alpine guide waxed eloquent. "Behold," he cried, "yon beetling crags!" "They beetle for everybody, though!" sneered the rich American, and sullenly spat in token of his discontent. It was not true, however, that he lacked appreciation of the beautiful and the sublime, provided these were costly and exclusive.—Puck.

The Unemployed. The legislation of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth centuries abounds in bills concerning the unemployed. In the reign of Edward VI. several laws were passed against "idlers"—most of them such because they could get nothing to do. In the reign of Henry VIII. the kingdom was infested with "rogues," "vagrabonds" and "idle persons," and it is said that during Henry's reign more than 70,000 of this unfortunate class were hanged.

THE VELIE TOP WILL STAND THE TEST

The practical value of the rail brace which is an important feature in VELIE VEHICLES is becoming more and more appreciated.

The seat is braced so that the strain is equalized between the back and the seat end, preventing opening of seat joints at the corners.

The illustration demonstrates the strength of this seat bracing, and shows how superior features in construction are studied so as to bring the finished product

The best Vehicle Construction on the Market.

We are here to show you and explain to you other important points of the Velie Vehicles.
