A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, served at the Williams home. The happy young couple left on No. 9, same morning, for Pueblo and Denver on a short wedding trip.

After October 15, they will be at home in Wymore.

Death Again Invades Family.

Mrs. Robert C. Drath of Herndon, Kansas, died in Beaver City, last Saturday. Mrs. Drath, who is a sister of Mrs. Fred Schwab and Mr. Louis Suess of our city, had been visiting her mother near Crete, and being very ill sought to get home. Her husband, who is president of the Bank of Herndon met her at Oxford returning home, but found it imperative to take his sick wife from the train at Beaver City, where she was taken to a hotel and aid sought from a half dozen or more physicians all to no avail. Typhoid pneumonia was the cause of death.

The remains were taken to the home in Herndon, Kansas, and on Tuesday afternoon interment was made.

The deceased spent her early girlhood days here, when her father, the late Rev. William Suess was pastor of the German Congregational church of this city.

The husband and four children, the oldest 12 years of age, survive her.

Tenderest sympathy goes out to all the relatives of the departed in this sad hour of bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Suess and Mr. Fred Schwab of this city attended the funeral. Mrs. Schwab was with the sister at death.

Public School Opened Monday.

The McCook Public schools opened Monday with an enrollment of 803 pupils of whom 100 were in the high school. All positions in the grades were filled some time ago and on account of the late resignation of the Latin teacher in the high school, that position was not filled in time for the teacher to begin work this week. Sup't Taylor has been teaching Latin this week.

The new principal is Sarah A. Ryan of Lincoln, Neb. Miss Ryan graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1893. Following her graduation for a number of years she was principal of the east ward school at Holdrege, from there she accepted a position in the Wilbur high school from which she was afterwards promoted to the principalship of the Wilbur high school, which position was held with credit until a year ago last June at which time she was elected as teacher of Latin in the McCook high school, but did not accept, owing to the fact that she wanted to go to the university and work out her Master's degree. This she did and was granted the Master's degree by the university of Nebraska last June. The principal of the high school does not teach any particular line of work, but usually takes up the odds and ends after the department teachers have filled up their program of work.

Miss Emma Perry, teacher of English in the McCook High school is herself an alumna of the high school here, having graduated in the class of '05. She then went to the university of Nebraska and completed the course there in '09 and accepted a position as assistant principal of the Bertrand high school.

Miss Esther Bailey is not new to the McCook schools, having taught about two and a half months here last spring. Miss Bailey is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and has the department of mathematics.

Fred V. Archer has charge of the science and athletics. Mr. Archer graduated from Hanover College, Hanover, Ind., in the class of 1910. During a good part of Mr. Archer's course in college he was an assistant in the science laboratory and was considered a very able instructor by the professors in charge. He won honors in various phases of athletic work in college, having won three foot ball letters, three tennis letters and two basket ball letters.

Miss Claire Thursby has charge of the department of Latin. Miss Thursby is a graduate of the high school of the class of 1902, Antigo, Wis. She then attended the Northwestern University two years and the University of Wisconsin two years from

THE PARADE WAS A GENUINE DOODLEDINGER

The Concert, Vaudeville and Ball Game Drew Record-Breaking Crowds and Produced Interest and Enthusiasm of Same Vintage.

Monday—Labor Day—was annual Pythian Play Day. Besides it was a record-breaker in more than one respect. From the opening street parade to the concluding feast it was just one (good) thing after another.

The day opened in the afternoon with a parade which for originality and eccentricity of conception and burlesque skill in production excelled any previous efforts of the enthusiastic and fecund artists who annually take a hand in presenting this item of entertainment and amusement. Forming in the city park, the line of march was down Main avenue and on to the ball grounds in the Burlington yards.

Those who have attempted to preserve the original flavor of a good joke in the repeating will appreciate the writer's embarrassment at the thought of attempting a description seriatim. But the acclaims of the hundreds who lined Main avenue proclaim it a dinger in black-face capitals.

Headed by the inimitable "Little German" band the "married tribe" and the "single warriors," the sexless and emasculated umpire, the lady snake charmer, the dray load of charming "single rooters," Johnnie Morrissey of McFadden's Pasture and his fractions and mirth-provoking elephant, the "washing machine" fully guaranteed for a life time, the "T. R." specimens, etc., etc., each and all in turn swept by and received appreciative applause.

The next chapter was the deadly encounter on Burlington field between the married and the single Pythians. And this time it was different. The Benedicts had brought their pitcher to the well once too often and the Probationers smashed it 8 to 0. Ye deities, a goose egg! And hitherto an unbroken record of substantial victories.

With the ball game ended the afternoon program and victors and victims sought rest for the festivities of the evening.

The evening program opened at intersection of Main avenue and C street with a brief but acceptable musical program by the "Little German" band and a string quartette, the concert being preliminary to the array of vaudeville stunts which ensued. There was an improvised stage, a large covered furniture van served for a dressing room, some stage effects from Menard hall completed the setting.

The Jeffries-Johnson set-to fairly set the gathered multitude vociferously wild—the bout ending like the book in the humiliation of the Caucasian by the Senegambian.

The audience was for some time further electrified with rare and real impersonations, theatrical thrills and vocal and instrumental numbers of rarest vintage. But even good things have to come to an end some time, and finally reluctantly Johnnie Morrissey and George Scott and their talented conferees succeeded in making their escape.

But not yet was the day ended. Later, the Knights, their wives, their sweethearts and fraternal guests assembled in the castle hall for the concluding particulars.

After a brief season of social chat and music, the banquet room seemed to focus general interest and soon around the festive board were all assembled, and busy with the generous spread of the free-handed, open-hearted boys of 42. A few toasts and responses seasoned the feast and brought to a final period their annual affair for 1910.

"Catch that kid." The arrest of Mr. Morrissey, the theatrical manager, was the one touch of pathos. Johnnie didn't have the simoleons to meet the demands of the ordinance on licenses, and the city marshal, though moved to tears, had to discharge his duty.

There were several auto loads over from Oberlin lodge.

Hearts that Beat as One.

Mr. Hugh Kelly and Miss Maude Lucille McBrayer were happily wedded on Wednesday morning at 4:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. McBrayer on 2nd street east, the ceremony being performed in the presence of only the immediate relatives by Rev. Bryant Howe of the Methodist church. Following the ceremony and congratulations a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served.

The young couple departed the same morning on No. 2 for Harlan, Iowa, on a short visit to the groom's mother. They will return in a few days and begin housekeeping in the Norris dwelling, where they have furnished apartments awaiting them.

These young people have grown from childhood in our city, and a host of well wishers and friends will join THE TRIBUNE in wishing these estimable young people happiness and prosperity. They will be at home, after October 15th.

One in Three Good.

Sanford Dodge and company appeared in the Temple theatre, last week, in three performances, large audiences marking each appearance.

The opening play, "Nero, the Gladiator," was but fairly well produced. "Faust" drew the largest house and was far and away the best of their repertoire; well done and effectively staged. The closing number "The Three Musketeers," was the weakest of their offerings—due undoubtedly to the fact that it was the first appearance produced the play, this season, and they were not entire familiar with their lines etc.

All in all, however, it was a fairly satisfactory season.

does not make a fortune anymore than one swallow makes a spring. But one dollar deposited as a start on a bank account may mean a fortune in time, just the same as the one bird indicates that spring is coming.

After you have made the start it is only necessary to adopt a rule of saving a certain part of your income REGULARLY, to lay by a substantial sum. Suppose you decide to save one-fourth or one-fifth of every dollar that comes into your hands, wouldn't that give you an excellent start in a year or less?

We would courteously ask you to consider this bank when selecting a depository for your money. We will be glad to see you at any time and explain any points that you do not understand.

Sudden Death of Baby Carman.

All hearts go out to Rev. and Mrs. M. B. Carman in the sudden and tragic death of their baby Gene aged about one year and six months, in Minden, last Thursday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. The little one secured a tablet—a heart stimulant kept in the home for Mrs. Carman's use—and swallowed the same. Medical skill was summoned as soon as it was discovered the baby had taken the medicine, but the child died within a few minutes of the arrival of the doctors, despite their efforts.
