McCOOK SCHOOL COLUMN

McCOOK JUNIOR NORMAL RANKS HIGH.

The Nebraska Teacher and Nebraska School Review in the September issue, gave the official enrollment of the seven junior normal schools as follows: Broken Bow, 257; Geneva, 252; McCook, 197; O'Neill, 192; North Platte, 181; Alma, 131, and Valentine, 86. It will be seen from this record that McCook stands third in the state with four below and two above in matter of numbers. In connection with the work of the McCook junior normal school the state department published this statement: "The work of the junior normal at McCook was seriously interfered with by quarantine regulations by the epidemic of scarlet fever. Regular sessions of the school were discontinued for about three weeks, but the instructors remained on duty, and many individuals who cared to remain to complete any line of work. Much credit is due the faculty at McCook for the satisfactory way in which the students were handled during such a critical time."

STILL ON THE MAP.

The many people of Red Willow county and McCook interested in educational matters will be more than delighted to know that Red Willow county won the first premium for the best general exhibit of school work of any county in the state. In addition to this, McCook won a number of cash prizes in individual work. The other prizes have not yet been received and will be reported later.

ENROLLMENT STILL INCREASING

The city schools are well organized and settled down to work now. Enrollment in the high school has increased to 106, which compares very favorably with that of last year's. Enrollment in the grades has reached about 125. Miss Claire Harty, the new Latin teacher, arrived Friday morning in time to hear her classes Friday. The superintendent tried to have the educational directory of the city ready for this week's issue of the paper, but will try to have same ready for next week.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION ORGANIZES.

Last Monday evening the High School Athletic Association met in regular session and elected officers for the present year. Fred Amsden was elected president, Helen Schwab secretary, and Fred Amsden treasurer. Harold Schwab was chosen as student manager for the foot ball team. The foot ball squad has been out for practice two evenings this week, and indications point to a fast team this year. While the team will not be quite so heavy as the team last year, what it lacks in weight it will make up for in speed. This, under the new rules, ought to give us as good a chance to win games as in previous years. Word comes that both the Trenton and Indianola schools are going to have regular foot ball teams this year.

Steve Miller of Quick, Frontier county, is a high school pupil from outof town.

Joan Rankin won first prize at the state fair for the best original book cover design in ink.

Green-Wiley.

Last Sunday, at the home of the bride in Wauneta, Mr. John W. Green and Miss Merle M. Wiley were united in marriage, Rev. C. M. McCorkle, pastor of the Methodist church of the place, officiating. It was a quiet family affair, only the members of the respective families and a few close friends witnessing the happy event. The bride is an estimable young lady of Wauneta and the groom a son of Cashier R. A. Green of the Citizens National Bank of McCook, and is the assistant cashier of the Wauneta Falls Bank. The young folks at once went to housekeeping in the stirring little burg at the falls of the Frenchman with the good wishes and congratulations of many friends.

Mr. Green and family of our city attended the wedding, making the journey up and back in an automobile.

The Tribune desires to be named with those wishing the young folks much joy and a prosperous journey.

THE WINTERMUTE CASE.

Some Facts About an Affair in Which a Countess Figures.

"I am looking you straight in the eye."

This was the clever way in which one William T. Wintemute advertised his stock in the Gold Run Mining and Tunnel company of Boulder, Colo., and several hundred people returned his stare, thought him a handsome, straight-forward looking chap and invested in his wares. And then the crash came, the postoffice inspectors recently arresting Wintemute, who, they allege, got $1,200,000 from valueless stock. The case is attracting much attention, especially abroad, for one of England's best known peeresses, the Countess of Tankerville, figures as one of the principal victims. She was formerly Miss Lenora Van Marter, a New York state girl, and is one of the few American girls who have made happy foreign marriages.

THE COUNTESS OF TANKERVILLE.

She and Lord Tankerville have always been in accord and are jointly interested in many philanthropies.

When Mr. Wintemute gets out of his present difficulty he should no longer handle stocks. His field is advertising. Here is one of his circulars:

"I am looking you straight in the eye when I say to you, exchange your worthless stock for Gold Run. Don't cringe nor squirm nor dodge my glance, but look at me straight in the eye—and tell me why you don't exchange your worthless stock for Gold Run, paying 10 cents per share."

"This is a straight in the eye proposition. There is nothing pertaining of the sneak or cringer about me, nor is there any occasion for one of you to dodge. Let us meet the issue fairly and squarely. You can be honest with me, with yourselves and your families and meet the issue which is before us now fearlessly, like a man."

A YOUNG GOVERNOR.

Acting Chief Executive of Oregon Only Thirty-four.

Oregon is peculiar in having no lieutenant governor, likewise in having no nominating conventions, at least in theory. Both of these unique facts are connected with Jay Bowerman, acting governor of the state. Nor is this the only distinguishing fact about Mr. Bowerman. Another is that he is only thirty-four years old, perhaps the youngest candidate for governor in the land. He was recently endorsed for governor by the Republican state assembly, subject to ratification at the primaries.

JAY BOWERMAN.

Jay Bowerman arrived in Marion county without an education or the means to secure it. He engaged himself as a farm hand, his tremendous strength of body making him an ideal wielder of the pitchfork in harvest time. With the earnings of that labor Mr. Bowerman paid for tuition at Willamette university, finally taking up the study of law and being admitted to the bar at Salem when he was twenty years of age.

Mr. Bowerman recently attended the meeting of western governors on conservation.
