You Must Buy a New Hat

There is no economy in making over hats. Some women do this from season to season. This year the styles are vastly different from those of any previous season. Even millinery materials are different. When pretty hats may be had here at $3.50 and $5, where is the economy of patching up an old one? Beautiful Regina hats are now here—priced moderately too at $7.50, $10, $12, $12.50, $15. Let this be your invitation to see what the new season brings to every woman who loves the beautiful in head dress. Opening Friday, Sept. 16

Bamboo.

It is possible that the world's future supply of paper pulp will be derived from the bamboo forests of the tropics instead of being drawn from the forests of the temperate zones. Successful experiments have been made in Japan pointing in that direction. A company has obtained a perpetual lease of 8,000 acres of bamboo forest in Formosa, enough to provide 600 tons a month.

He Met It on the Road.

He didn't wait for prosperity to come. The very minute they told him it was on the road, he said: "Maybe the horses'll get stalled, and the driver all froze up; so I'll just meet it halfway, and help get the wheels out the mire, and give it a fresh start; then, when it looks like smooth sailing, I'll hop on, and take a seat by the driver, and we'll go whistling into town!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Utilizing His Creditor.

"Seems to me little Juggins is cutting a wide swath for a man of small means. Has he struck oil recently?" asked Harkaway. "Oh, no," laughed Robinson. "He's a good manager. He makes a little creditor go a long ways."—Harper's Weekly.
