WHEN HER BACK ACHES.
 A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.
 McCook women know how the ache and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of diabetes, dropsy and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cure all these disorders. Here's proof of it in a McCook woman's words:
 Mrs. C. W. Gillilan, 407 B. ave., McCook, Neb., says: "My kidneys were badly disordered and I slept so poorly that when I got up in the morning, I was all worn out. I had attacks of dizziness and nervousness and spots often appeared before my eyes. My back ached intensely and it could be plainly seen that I was in need of a kidney medicine. After I had failed to find relief from several preparations, I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply. This medicine acted on my kidneys at once and soon restored me to health. I gladly tell of my experience for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."
 For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
 Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SENATOR GEO. SAYER FOR 29TH DISTRICT
Why Fusion Candidate Should Be Elected.
 Every day it is becoming more and more apparent that in the selection of a state senator for the Twenty-ninth district of Nebraska party lines will be eliminated as never before. This is as it should be, for the best candidate must be elected to this important trust.
 George Sayer, living four miles east of Cambridge, the fusion candidate, is one of the big farmer stock raisers of southwestern Nebraska. His splendid fine farm and everything upon it speaks of thrifty, heady management. As remarked in the World Herald a few days since, George Sayer's stock shipments are nearly always reported as "toppers." He is highly respected by all who know him, and almost everybody knows him, for he herded cattle as a boy over the entire eight counties of the district.
 Mr. Sayer had a good common school education with which to enter the big school of experience that has deepened and broadened him into the very successful man of thirty-nine he is today. His business acumen long since singled him out by his friends and neighbors as a leader in local affairs.
 A few years ago his neighbors elected him on their school board. He found the district running in a careless, disinterested way, with a poor, insufficient building and worse equipment. He requested the patrons to meet with him to talk over ways and means for something better. He gave them his plans and so much faith had they in his executive ability that he was instructed to go ahead and carry them out. They had $70 in their treasury. Today they have a fine, modern school building, fully equipped with up to date furniture, books and apparatus, at a cost of nearly $2,000, and it is all paid for without bonding the district one cent. He and a few neighbors organized the Spring Ranch Mutual Telephone company. George was elected president and under his guiding hand the company has a line of thirty-six miles in excellent condition, free service, no indebtedness and a nice surplus of several hundred dollars. George Sayer, president, general manager, secretary, treasurer and, if need be, post digger and lineman, explains it all. He does nothing unless he does it well. A while since he was selected by the farmers, through whose lands the Cambridge and Arapahoe irrigation ditch runs, to make the fight against G. W. Holdrege, who was seeking to cloud the title to their lands. George made the fight and won. A few weeks since he made a stock shipment and the railroad failed to deliver on time by a few hours. They do it every day and shippers supinely allow it. Not so George Sayer. He sued them, recovered a judgment for damages and collected it. He always wins. He will win this fall. He simply starts in right and has a reputation of winning out. He only demands what is just and equitable and has a reputation for giving to every other man his due.
 George Sayer will represent the farmer interests of the Twenty-ninth district in a higher degree than they have ever been represented before. The true interests of every merchant and business man will be better represented by him than by another, for he has demonstrated his ability to cope with business matters, and the district is surely entitled to a farmers' and business men's representation. It is purely an agricultural and stock raising district and we already have more lawyers in the Nebraska senate today than we need. Mr. Sayer is the logical candidate for every interest in the community, except possibly the railroad interest, and yet his well known honest, fair-minded dealing in all things would never permit him to wantonly vote to deprive that corporation of any of its just rights or privileges. He has shipped thousands and thousands of dollars' worth of stock over the B. & M. and realizes that it is an important factor for good in the district. He has never ridden on a pass in his life. He is a total abstainer, and does not use tobacco in any form, although he informs us that he is entitled to no man's suffrage on these grounds alone. He finds time to read a great deal and is well posted on the leading political topics of the day. He has good ideas on the potent needs of his district and knows how to express them logically and intelligently.
 Irrespective of party politics, Mr. Sayer kindly asks you for your support on Nov. 8. If you give it to him we assure you, with a twenty-five years' close acquaintance, that he will never give you cause to regret it.
 Yours truly,
 J. H. MOONEY,
 Dem. State Committeeman 29th Dist.
 W. S. CURRY,
 Populist Chairman 29th District.

AMERICA CENTER OF TOURMALINES
Gems That Orient Demands In Abundance Here.
MAINE HAS VALUABLE MINES.
 Blue Variety of Stone That Chinese Value Above Diamonds Because of Lucky Qualities Also Found In California—Western States Supposed to Have Undiscovered Supplies.
 "You saw the account in the papers of the remarkable demand for blue tourmalines in China," said Dr. William H. Choate of Detroit recently, "but do you know that this country is very rich in these gems and that the demand for them in the orient is so great that the mines here cannot begin to supply the market?"
 "To begin with, the Chinese believe that the blue tourmaline brings good luck, health and warns away evil spirits; also the gem is one of the most beautiful in the world, more beautiful, I think, than the rose tourmaline, the green or any other. There are a great many unworked ledges in Maine that are believed to have the gems. The tourmaline lies in a pocket in the ledge surrounded by decayed stone in the form of dust.
 Maine's Mines Valuable.
 "I have seen tourmalines worth thousands of dollars taken from the mines at Mount Apatite, Auburn, Me., and some of them have gone to decorate the crowns of such rulers as the emperor of Japan, the emperor of China and the petty kings of the Indian states, some of whom are richer than either of the emperors named. One company incorporated under the laws of Maine has mines at Auburn, Minor Corner and near Mechanic Falls.
 "Apatite, one of the stones that are mined at these places, has averaged $15.30 a ton in tourmalines and $6 more in feldspar, various ores, beryl, aquamarines, etc. The cost of mining these gems is only $1.50 a ton. The vein is ten feet thick, with flat dip covering three acres, in one of the mines.
 "Then there is the wonderful mine at Paris, Me., called Mount Mica, from which a steady stream of gems has come for years and not half of the territory has been scratched yet. I know a young lady in Boston, Miss Eleanor C. Hamlin, relative of the man who was vice president of the United States, who has a necklace which is the envy of all the crowned heads of Europe, and every one of the gems came from a mine owned by her family for a hundred years, situated two miles northeast of the little hilltop town of Paris, in Oxford county, Me., where Hannibal Hamlin was born.
 "In the necklace are all the colors that are known to the tourmaline. Yellow, green, white, pink, blue, black and rose are shades that burn and smolder in this remarkable piece of jewelry, and I dare say that few people in America know that such priceless treasures are to be found here.
 Western States Unexplored.
 "It is my opinion that there are many hidden ledges in the middle and western states that contain equal deposits, but few of them have been discovered. There are mines in California that produce many tourmalines, and they are mostly shipped to China and Japan, where the average prince prefers them to diamonds because of their supposed lucky qualities.
 "In 1820 two boys who were interested in minerals had been hunting over the hills of northwestern Maine for gold signs. Late one day while they were on their way home they stopped to rest on the land belonging to the father of one of them, Elijah L. Hamlin. There had been a light fall of snow, and a windstorm had uprooted a tree. While they talked one of them saw a green tint in the fresh earth under the roots of the tree, and, looking more carefully, under the impression that it might be a sign of copper, he found a beautiful green tourmaline as large as a man's little finger.
 "It was perfect, with the exception of a slight fracture on one end. Digging in the frozen earth, they found several others and took them home. The next spring the Hamlins began mining the gems and have kept at it off and on ever since. It is one of the most valuable gem mines in America."
PRUSSIAN CARS DISINFECTED.
 Tube Invented For Quick Work on Railroads.
 Disinfection of the coaches of the Prussian state railways has been annoying the sanitation authorities with the result that the government recently established a system of steel tubes, boiler riveted, into which coaches may be backed and exteriors and interiors rendered germless through a treatment of formalin.
 Cars are run into these tubes, one at a time, the end of the tube closed and its interior filled with formalin gas. The gas tank is set up as a unit in connection with the metal tubing, feeding the disinfecting gases into the tube at short range.

Credit to Whom Credit is Due.
 During the past few weeks it has become evident to close observers of the congressional situation in the Fifth district, that a hot fight will be made to return Geo. W. Norris to congress with a large majority. And while his Democratic opponent, Hon. R. D. Sutherland, is engaged in making a campaign to show why he should be the representative from the Fifth district instead of Norris, the fact can hardly be overlooked that the whole country is interested in the return of the present incumbent. Norris' work during the last session of congress has given him a national reputation and at the same time reflects credit upon the district he is representing.
 Two years ago the Daily Republican led the fight against Norris' reelection—a fight to a finish, which almost resulted in a knock-out, yet we cannot help but recall that on the last day of the battle, yea, on the very eve of the election, Mr. Norris made a speech in the Hastings opera house which was packed with voters, who had come, many expecting to hear him declare that he would not vote for Cannon for speaker. Because the whole campaign against him had been waged upon the one point that he HAD voted for Cannon for speaker and would do so again if returned.
 This vast audience was disappointed, at least that portion who had come expecting such a declaration, for in the face of this critical moment, Norris won admiration by calmly declaring that the speaker received his power from the rules. He then proceeded to set forth a plan by which the rules could be changed to take such powers from the speaker of the house. Norris was re-elected. When the opportunity came he made good by introducing just the resolution he had outlined while asking for a re-election. In a day he became famous and has since had his name closely associated with those of LaFollette, Cummins, Dooliver, Bristow, Nelson, Madison, Murdock and Cooper.
 They say that a man is known by the company he keeps and it certainly does look as though our congressman had been keeping company with some of the men who fought the system which gave Cannon his power.—Hastings Daily Republican, October 17, 1910.

AGAINST DAHLMAN
 A Democrat Who Cannot Take the Medicine.
 McCook, Neb., Oct. 12.—To the Editor of The State Journal: When Dahlman went to Lincoln to try to influence Governor Shallenberger to veto the 8 o'clock closing law, the newspapers reported him as saying that could he have raised $2,500 he would have won out at the primary and would have been governor and that he then would soon fix the early closing law. If he could not raise $2,500 two years ago where do voters think he gets all the money they are spending this fall? Every democrat with a spoonful of brains ought to know that he would never have butted in this fall without powerful backing and someone to furnish the money. I for one do not mind so much to be beat fair, but hate and detest being worked. The stock argument of the Dahlman crowd is "you can't cure the liquor evil by legislation, you must do it by teaching temperance to the boys." What better temperance lesson could be taught the son than for the father to oppose Dahlman for governor? How under the sun or in reason to the very least degree can temperance habits be taught the sons while the father upholds and supports intemperance in high places. I have always voted the democratic ticket but reason interferes in trying which I have done, to reconcile myself to vote the democratic ticket this fall for governor.
 MARION PLUMMER.
 R. F. D. No. 1.
 Gerald Wilcox has gotten far enough into his potato harvest to figure that his yield will be 223 bushels to the acre. He recently exhibited in McCook some water melons that weighed from 42 to 50 pounds each. And that is going some.
 Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Bower of Westboro, Mo., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dudek, briefly, on their way home from a visit in California. They left for home, last Friday evening, and may decide to live in California.
 Mr. W. G. Schlusmijer and Miss Lydia Rishel were married, Monday. They will go to Madison, Tenn., where he expects to enter school and she to teach school.
 E. F. Markwad will begin his dairy about the 31st of this month.

That special arrangement we've made with The Weekly Inter Ocean and Farmer, $1.25 for it and this paper for one year, has made a hit.

"It Beats All"
 This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first doses gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. A.
