

CALUMET

The BAKING POWDER

That Makes the Baking Better

Failures are almost impossible with Calumet. We know that it will give you better results. We know that the baking will be purer and wholesome. We know that it will be more evenly raised. And we know that Calumet is more economical, both in its use and cost. We know these things because we have put the quality into it—we have seen it tried out in every way. It is used now in millions of homes and its sales are growing daily. It is the modern baking powder.

Have you tried it? Calumet is highest in quality—moderate in price.

Mail Order Melon.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—A $10,000,000 melon was decided on today by the directors of the Sears-Roebuck company, the stock of which is listed on the New York and Chicago exchanges. The directors voted to recommend a stock dividend of 33 1/3 per cent on common stock, ($30,000,000), to holders of record April 1, 1911. Ratification of this dividend by the stockholders at their annual meeting February 27, 1911, is regarded as a mere formality.

If you feel you want to be shown in the matter of quality, go to the McCook Flour and Feed Store.

This paper and The Weekly Inter Ocean and Farmer $1.25 gets both for one year. Special deal.

DEDICATION AT SANBORN.

The New Brick Store to Replace the One Recently Destroyed by Fire Was Dedicated on November 11th. With Appropriate Particulars and Details.

The dedication of the new brick store at Sanborn, Dundy county, Nebraska, November 11th, built to replace the one recently destroyed by fire, was a brilliant affair. The orchestra was from McCook, consisting of Harvey Snider, H. W. Conover, Mrs. H. W. Conover and Ray Jordan. The visitors from McCook were Mrs. W. H. Browne, C. W. Browne, Miss Winnie Browne, Mrs. J. W. Line, Mrs. A. G. Smart, Mrs. I. T. Hill, Mrs. William Deere, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Putnam, and Mrs. Harvey Snider. Dancing was in order from 7 p. m. until midnight. Supper was arranged to have No. 16 stop and pick up the party from McCook, who were tired out and ready to depart. Oysters were served from 6:30 p. m. until midnight. About 150 guests participated, and the way the ladies from McCook worked the country boys for oysters was something fierce. The proceeds from the supper were for the benefit of the public school library, so of course, it was all right, girls. The only thing to mar the pleasure of the occasion was the slight indisposition of Mrs. Snider, who was conveyed to the home of Mrs. Sanborn and treated with good Samaritan remedies, under which she soon recovered.

Mrs. L. S. Watkins treated the McCook party to a hayrack ride, showing them the points of interest on the Sanborn ranch; A trip to the spring 4,000 feet from the store, where clear sparkling water bubbles up from Mother Earth; then past the stock yard, where 110 head of cattle are being prepared for market; then to the reservoir, where water is stored for irrigation; then to the beet fields, where sugar beets are being loaded on the cars for shipment to Denver.

INDIANOLA.

Marion Powell of Lincoln was an Indianola visitor a few days last week.

Mary Windhurst left for New Mexico, Friday night on No. 15, where she expects to make her future home.

C. C. Bauer is acting as night operator here in the place of J. Campbell who is laid up with typhoid fever.

Willie and Noah Sawyer left Monday morning for Haigler to pick corn. Mrs. Will Lyman and Mrs. J. Jones were up from Bartley, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jensen and Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson took dinner with R. H. Thomas and family, Sunday.

Mr. Snell of Cambridge was auctioneer at Grant Crampton's sale. The sale ran over $14,700.

Mr. Schumaker's nieces who have been visiting here the past week left for Texas, Monday night.

Chas. King threshed John Dunning's wheat Wednesday of last week.

The Degree of Honor gave a program and supper, Saturday evening. The supper was served in courses. Each one present was given a pink carnation as a souvenir of the pleasant evening.

Mr. Wallace was quite seriously injured, Saturday, while fixing fence out at Shumaker's. He went to drive down a bank and fell down behind the horses, both wheels of the wagon passed over his shoulder breaking the collar bone.

J. L. Rogers and Fred Mihm had a sale Tuesday.

Mrs. C. C. Baur is visiting at home this week.

The Normal class expect to take some of their examination Saturday.

Good Words from Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wimer are spending the winter among Iowa relatives and friends. In a recent letter Mr. W. pays a tribute to the productiveness of the Iowa farm with the following figures:

Corn averaging 65 bushels to the acre; oats from 30 to 50; wheat from 20 to 40. Hay, he states, was put in fine shape—no rain—and was an extra crop. Potatoes a good crop. No fruit of any kind.

He adds just a word concerning weather: Weather ideal. Roads good. No rain—but a slight fall of snow on the 4th of November.

They are having a fine time. Expect to leave for Nebraska, about February 1st, stopping in Omaha, Plattsmouth and Lincoln on their way to McCook.

A Household Medicine.

Figures In The Portugal Affair

AN American girl on the throne of Portugal has been made a possibility by the revolution in that country. If the European powers intervene to preserve the monarchy it is entirely possible that the throne will revert to the Braganza family, which went out of power during the time of Napoleon and which since then has been in the position of claimant.

The present head of the family is Dom Miguel, duke of Braganza, and his oldest son, Prince Miguel, is the husband of the former Anita Stewart, daughter of Mrs. James Henry Smith, the widow of "Silent Smith" of New York.

The reign of the Braganza family in Portugal began in 1641, when the Duke of Braganza, after leading a successful revolution against the rule of Spain, became King John IV. The dynasty continued until 1807, when Napoleon invaded Portugal, declared that the Braganza family no longer existed and annexed the country to France.

Since that time the head of the Braganza family has been called the pretender and of late years has been cared for by Austria. Prince Miguel and Miss Stewart were married in Scotland on Sept. 15, 1909.

She is the daughter and one of two children of William Rhineland Stewart, a wealthy and public spirited citizen of New York, and Mrs. James Henry Smith. She made her social debut during the winter of 1904-5, and James Henry Smith, better known as "Silent Smith," the multimillionaire bachelor, gave her a grand ball at his Fifth avenue home, formerly the residence of William C. Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart separated about that time, and two years later the wife secured a South Dakota divorce. She went abroad immediately and there married James Henry Smith. On March 28, 1907, Mr. Smith died in Japan while he was en route to New York with Mrs. Smith and Miss Stewart. Mr. Smith's fortune was estimated at nearly $100,000,000.

PRINCE MIGUEL.

Of this amount his widow inherited under the will only about $3,000,000, while Miss Stewart received only the life interest at 4 per cent on bonds valued at $402,904.

It was said at the time, however, that Mr. Smith had settled $1,000,000 on his wife at the time of their marriage and had given her jewels worth nearly that amount. Mrs. Smith is reported as having settled $1,000,000 on her daughter as a bridal gift.

Dr. Theophile Braga, who has been named president of the provisional government, is well qualified for the responsible post of provisional president. Dr. Braga is a man about fifty-five years old and a graduate of a leading European university. He began the practice of medicine in Lisbon when a young man and has been prominent throughout Portugal for many years past.

About three years ago Dr. Braga identified himself with the intellectual wing of the Republican party and became president of the committee of seven of that organization. In this office he wielded great political power, and his undoubted honesty and well known integrity won many supporters for the party which was destined to obtain control of affairs. He was long associated with Dr. Bernardino Machado, one of the foremost professors of the Lisbon university and who is prominently mentioned as the first president of the new republic.

It is said that a dancer's slipper helped to kick young King Manuel from the throne he inherited through the tragic death by assassination of his father, King Carlos, and his eldest brother, the Crown Prince Luiz Philippe. The dancer is Mlle. Gaby Desyls, a beautiful young German woman, who created a sensation in Berlin and Paris with her jiu jitsu dance with a Japanese wrestler. King Manuel saw her in the latter city. It is said, and invited her to Lisbon. Despite the unrest in the city he appeared publicly with the dancer.

This one incident on top of the grave crisis brought to hand by the anti-clerical troubles and the growing spirit of republicanism was the match that touched off the mine of revolution.

PERSISTENT BEGGARS.

The More Egyptian Mendicants Get the More They Demand.

In Egypt one should never give bak sheesh except for actual services rendered. Resist calmly but firmly every attempt at extortion. Never pay till the stipulated service is finished; then after you have paid a little more than the bargain called for, turn a deaf ear to the protestations and entreaties that always follow. Bear in mind that the more bak sheesh you give the more clamorous becomes the applicant. Real thanks and gratitude must not be expected for gifts.

A friend of mine once broke one of these rules just to see what would happen. As we passed through a little mud village twenty miles from Cairo he gave a sturdy beggar a millieme (half a cent). This beggar, accompanied by others, followed us to the edge of the village, asking for more. My friend then gave him a plaster (cous).

They followed us a hundred yards or so and were more persistent than before. When they showed a disposition to go back he gave them 5 plasters. They followed us half a mile and became very clamorous. I was afraid we should get into trouble and wanted him to stop it, but when they began to lag he gave them 20 plasters.

They followed us two miles, and the experiment might have ended seriously had we not met a company of travelers with a dragoman, who sent the beggars about their business. This may help you to understand Egyptian character.—Christian Herald.

LAPLAND BABIES.

For Their First Few Months They Live In Wicker Baskets.

Little Laplanders spend the first few months of their existence in baskets of wickerwork provided at the top with a conical framework too close for the baby to fall through and yet giving the infant plenty of light and air.

Before commencing her work for the day the Lapp mother places her child in the basket and hangs it on the limb of some nearby tree, occupation being found for the little one by stringing toys under a cord passed across the top of the basket.

Thus provided the child spends the entire day in the open and yet at the same time is guarded from the troubles and dangers of outdoor child life in other countries.

The basket idea curiously parallels the Indian idea of strapping the papoose into a carrying case, but the Lapp baby has the advantage over its Indian fellow in that its limbs are unconfined and a certain amount of liberty of movement is afforded.

The child is carried from place to place in the same basket, the cord by which it is attached to a tree being slung over the shoulder.

Fossils and Gold.

In Alaska the bones and often the entire bodies of extinct animals, such as the mammoth, the mastodon, the reindeer and the bison, are found most abundantly in layers of soil directly above gold bearing gravels. So intimate is this association between fossil animal remains and auriferous deposits that one scientist who has explored Alaska says fossils serve prospectors as indexes of the metallic richness of the soil. In ancient times both gold and the bones of animals were deposited at the bottoms of valleys by action of rivers and smaller streams, many of which have now disappeared; consequently the appearance of fossils is, it is claimed, an almost certain indication that gold will be found in the neighborhood. The cabins of many miners are ornamented with huge tusks and antlers unearthed in the diggings.—New York Tribune.

Definite Instructions.

Telegraphers have their troubles, like the rest of mankind, and the men who follow the dots and dashes tell stories based upon actual happenings that almost test the credulity of the hearer. A man now in charge of a Postal office is responsible for the following, which occurred to him when he was holding down a key in an obscure place in the suburbs:

"A farmer came in one day and handed me a message to 'Mrs. Smith, New York city.' I asked for the address, and my patron, looking at me with a pitying smile, replied: 'Sonny, you just send it to Mrs. Smith, who keeps a boarding house in New York. Don't let any one know you don't know where her place is.'—Philadelphia Times.

Followed Instructions.

She was a woman of very puritanical notions, and when she came into his room to kiss her little boy good night and found that he had not said his prayers she was very much shocked. "How was it, Willie," she asked, "that you neglected such an important duty?"

"You see, mamma," he replied, "when dad sent me in a hurry to bed he said there mustn't be another word out of me tonight."—Lippincott's.

Just the Very Trouble.

A French scientist says that the oceans hold enough gold in solution to give each inhabitant of the earth $24,000,000. The trouble is that they will continue to hold it.—Albany Journal.

Might Is Right.

We have noticed that when two boys are playing with a wagon the smaller boy is pretty apt to be the horse.—Aitchison Globe.

Mercy turns her back to the unmerciful.—Quarles.
