The Chautauqua.

We are printing this week a large advertisement of this summer's Chautauqua. We wish you would read it.

And, plan early to attend this, the greatest event of the summer months. This year we are having sent to us the best program we have ever had and the best program that the Western Redpath Chautauqua System has at any time given.

The Chautauqua is strong or is not strong just as by our support we make it.

It deserves to be strong. It brings a refining influence into the community and affords delightful entertainment and recreation.

The local business men are co-operating with the Western Redpath Chautauqua System in the planning and carrying out of this great affair and they ask for your liberal support. Get your tickets now and plan to not miss a day of it.

Mrs. John Eckman entertained last Friday evening to meet her guest Mrs. E. Helfrich of Orleans. About thirty lady friends participated in the pleasant social affair. A "journey" game and "sketching" contest afforded the substantial features of the evening's entertainment. These were given assiduous and enthusiastic attention, the former prize being won by Mrs. Henry Best; the latter by PEOPLE who have experienced the Miss Mars. A delicious lunch in
