Monday evening the McCook, Cambridge and Edison teams gave their drills on a platform in the public square where all might enjoy them. The Edison team received the prize.

R. F. D. No. 1.

The Ash Creek and Red Willow teams played ball at Red Willow last Sunday. Only five innings were played, when the game was suspended on account of one of the Ash Creek boys being badly cut on the foot by a spike worn on the foot of one of the Red Willow boys. It was a bad cut and the player had to be taken home for treatment. The score up to that point was 8 to 6 in favor of the Ash Creek team. Next Monday John Leibrandt and other boys of that neighborhood will leave for a point about forty miles north of Lincoln, to engage in harvest work.

R. F. D. No. 3.

Will Nothnagel went to Deshler, Nebraska, last Wednesday, to make his home there for the present. The farmers are calling loudly for rain. Unless we have some moisture soon there will be little or nothing produced on the divide farms.

B. & M. Crop Report.

While wheat has been damaged in many districts in Nebraska by the hot winds and high temperatures of the past week, corn instead of being injured finished the week with much more than an average growth.

This was the substance of the weekly crop bulletin issued by the Burlington, being the consensus of observation of every station agent on that railroad in the state.

Winter wheat is doing very well from Atchison to Omaha and is doing well on the remainder of the Omaha Burlington division, but on the Wyomere division west of the Missouri valley, excepting the Lincoln division, the week was unfavorable for wheat and the damage is being estimated at from 15 to 50 per cent of the crop.

On the McCook division west of Holdrege there will be one-half of a wheat crop and from Hastings to Red Cloud the prospects at this time are not so good. Small grains have been damaged in about the same ratio as the wheat.

Soil conditions from Atchison to Omaha are fair; also on the O'Neill and Sioux City lines. Elsewhere on the Omaha division the top of the ground is dry, but vegetation is not suffering seriously. On the Lincoln division the ground on top is dry, although there is still moisture in the subsoil. Wyomere conditions are practically the same as Lincoln while McCook vicinity soil conditions are still less satisfactory. The ground is getting dry over practically the entire division.—Lincoln Star.
