AUTOISTS BUSY RTYING TO COMPLY WITH LAW.

Problem of Lighting Numbers Is Most Perplexing.

The McArdle vehicle law now in effect has one provision which seems to be neglected by motorists in general, although one man who was up and down Farnam street Tuesday night carried the law out to the letter. On both the front and back of his machine were illuminated numbers, which blazed like lamps and were seen a block away. The number was 14776 and was visible to the policeman on the street both going and coming and the other drivers immediately began to wonder if they were delinquent. The law states the matter specifically: "Said number and letters shall be in white on a black ground and from one hour after sunset, till one hour before sunrise shall be lighted as to be plainly visible at a distance of 100 feet."

Many motor owners have so arranged the lights on the back of their cars that the number is made visible by the beam which is cast across it, but a special light seems necessary to make the number on the front show up.

The matter of lighting is not the only difficulty in the new law as many men are discovering. The placing of metal numbers on the front of the car uses up a noticeable amount of radiator space and various schemes have been tried to get around that difficulty. Some men are hanging the numbers below the radiator, but that is not convenient. Painting them upon the radiator is also unsatisfactory because they do not show plainly and the paint comes off.—Omaha Bee.

Want to Know.

When the trans-continental road mapping party, now touring toward Denver, returns from that city next week the Lincoln Commercial club may tender the travelers a reception at which the river-to-mountain road project will be thoroughly discussed.

When the party went through Lincoln enroute west, but little opportunity was offered for a good roads rally. Now it is desired that the tourists stop and tell the Lincoln people something of what they found on the proposed highway and that they outline what they think is needed for the further improvement of the road.

If reports that come to Lincoln from towns along the route indicate the real sentiment of the road boosters, they are very enthusiastic over the possibilities of the South Platte road.—Lincoln Evening News.

Arapahoe at McCook.

Dodgers are up announcing the game for Friday afternoon on the local B. & M. grounds between the "Braves" and our ownest. The Arapahoes require no introduction here. They usually give a good account of themselves, and will make our boys go fast enough to make the game worth while. Take a couple hours off, tomorrow afternoon, and see the game.

Minden to Denver.

Three automobile loads of Minden people drove into McCook on Wednesday forenoon on their way to Denver over the Omaha-Denver Trans-Continental Route.

In the party were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Clearman, Mona L. Clearman, Rom. C. Clearman, Dr. and Mrs. H. Hapeman, Miss Ruth Russell, Charles Russell, Arthur Jensen, Mrs. Andrew Jensen, Mrs. G. E. Parisoe and R. J. Callagan of Sheridan, Ill.

The party took on supplies, made necessary replacements and repairs here, ate dinner, visited relatives and friends in the city, (they are old-time friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Schobel and Mr. V. Clearman in the Citizens National bank is related to several in the party) and in the afternoon departed for the west, expecting to cover 75 miles before putting up for the night.

G. E. Parisoe of Minden is the state secretary of the good roads organization which is back of the Omaha-Denver Trans-Continental Route.

Rom C. Clearman of Minden is the vice-president of the Kearney county good roads organization.

The party aimed to make Holyoke by Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Schobel entertained the party at luncheon, during their brief stay here.

Already the automobile tourist is becoming a more familiar sight in McCook. With the development of the Omaha-Denver Trans-Continental Route they will be of daily occurrence in the touring season.

Council Meeting.

A Probable Suit.

The information that a fight is to be made on the new agricultural school at Curtis is apparently well founded. Even if the proposed meeting at Hastings fails to bring out plenty of men and money, there are men in west ern Nebraska who stand ready to test the validity of the law. A suit will probably be commenced Lancaster county by Lincoln attorneys engaged by one or more western Nebraska cities. The ground of the objection to the appropriation is that the money is to be expended by the board of public lands and buildings, but drawn from the treasury on the order of the board of regents. They may have other points in mind, but this is the one that has been believed all along to be dangerous to the law if it ever came up for trial. The senate proposed to cure this defect late in the legislative session, but the friends of the bill would not allow it to be done. They knew that if the appropriation went back to the house for amendment it would be killed without benefit of clergy.—Lincoln Journal.

The Man Who Fails

Is the man who spends all he is able to earn from day to day. He knows he should save money, or when he is too old to work, he will have to rely on the charity of his neighbors and relatives, but he doesn't make a start. The older one gets, the harder it is to acquire the saving habit.

Don't delay longer, but start a bank account with
