Monday Evening Edition

THIRTIETH YEAR.

McCOOK, RED WILLOW COUNTY, NEBRASKA, MONDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 25, 1911.

NUMBER 35.

AT CAMP CINDER SIDING.

Company M of McCook Will Encamp for Ten Days.

For ten days, beginning with coming Wednesday, 1,300 members of the Nebraska national guard will be in camp at Cinder Siding on the Burlington a few miles south of Omaha. The camp will be named in honor of Nebraska's deceased chief executive, John H. Macey. Regular army rules will prevail. The forenoons to drills, the afternoons and evenings to touches of real army life. Brigadier General Store of Fullerton will have command, with Adjutant General Phelps of Omaha as assistant. There will be encamped 27 companies of infantry, and one company each of signal corps men, engineers and artillery. Of the companies in Southwestern Nebraska there are three: Company M, First regiment, McCook; Company E, Second regiment, Holdrege; Company B, Second Regiment, Beaver City.

On Thursday, October 5, the boys of the entire encampment will indulge in a "practice march" through the streets of Omaha, which will incidentally, be one of the events of Ak-Sar-Ben week.

THE BALL GAME.

The game Thursday afternoon between the Married and Single Men, while not a brilliant financial success, was a fine exhibition of the national game. Below is given lineup and summary:

Married Men: Pickard, 3rd; Harmon, 1st; Burney, 2nd; Graves, rf; Wells, p; Rhodes, ss; Sickler, cf; Erwin, c; Stokes, lf.

Errors, 3; hits, 2; struck out, by Wells, 7.

Single Men: Reynolds, p; Kennedy, 1st; Green, c; Leonard, cf; Milligan, lf; Sutton, 2b; Ham-mell, 3rd; Huber, rf; Galusha, ss.

Errors, 2; hits, 2; struck out by Reynolds, 8.

Married . . . 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0-1

Single . . . 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 1*-3

A. Galusha satisfactorily filled the precarious position of "His Ump."

Possibly a hundred people attended this benefit game for the new ball park.

The game will be repeated on Thursday of this week, as some of the players believe the result can be changed. Thus the coming game will be even more hotly contested than was the first.

"Surprised" Mrs. Wimer.

A company of lady friends of Mrs. J. W. Wimer "surprised" her at the Wimer home, Friday evening last, over a score of ladies participating in the happy social event. The invading ladies were well supplied with provisions for a nice spread of refreshments, which entered into the plans of the occasion. As a memento of the affair, the ladies presented Mrs. Wimer with a handsome watch chain.

That Crippled Comb

is not only unsightly but also an annoyance as it breaks the hair and fails to do perfect work. Nearly every home contains such crimples that are tolerated thru oversight. Why not replace them with new ones it will be a satisfaction to use. It will be a pleasure to select new ones from an assortment so complete as ours.

Open the Season.

The Thursday Night whist club had its initial game on Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Burney being host and hostess. A seven o'clock dinner was a feature of appealing particulars.

For Delegates Only.

The meals to be served in the Methodist church, this week, during the W. C. T. U. convention, are only intended for delegates, not for the general public.

Mrs. Armour, Tuesday Night.

The address by Mrs. Armour of Georgia will be given in the Methodist church Tuesday night, September 26th.

Omaha-Denver Auto Route

Messrs. Maynard and Reed, final checkers of the Omaha-Denver Trans-Continental Route, spent part of Friday and Saturday in the city, going over the route in McCook and vicinity and attending to other matters connected with closing up the matter of securing final data for the route in this neighborhood and securing materials for McCook's writup in the official guide, shortly to come from the press of the Iowa Publishing Co., these official guide printers.

From here the gentlemen proceeded westward in the same line of work, which they will carry on into Denver.

The question now quite uppermost in the thought of those advancing the Omaha-Denver Trans-Continental Route, is that of "feeders." Several points along the line are promoting this idea in an especial manner. Prominent among them is Minden, which is on the Trans-Continental Route in a special sense on account of the residence in that town of state officers of the route.

They are moving to secure connection with "Santa Fe Trail" route from Great Bend, Kansas, and in promoting this proposition have been holding meetings and doing active work to bring this to pass, which seems to be more than an early possibility.

AN EFFECTIVE MODEL FOR AFTERNOON WEAR.

For the early fall, the shops are showing most attractive designs that are made up in soft messa-lines, silk voile and shot taffeta. They are becoming models, which hang in graceful folds, quite in keeping with the long lines of the present modes. On the soft satin and messalines, this effect is often obtained by facing the hem inside, with matching broadcloth or some material comparatively heavy in weight.

The illustration shows one of the most popular models for early fall wear, which has developed in a soft shot taffeta in green and copper color. It is made with a fichu which is typical of many of the new imported models, which, with few exceptions, show a drapery of some sort on the waist. For the most part the tunics are straight at the lower edge, with a variety of slashes and openings. The tunic and fichu shown on the model, were attractively embroidered in green silk floss. The some of the very new-west models were embroidered in the new East Indian or Coronation colors, the woman of quiet taste would prefer embroidery of a soft tone.

SUFFICIENTLY DECAYED

Was the Production of "The Punkin Husker."

It was "papered" as a comedy-drama, was "The Punkin Husker," but The Sutherland Stock Co. unwittingly made the crude, bucolic production an uproarious farce, and as such it quite threw some of the not too generous audience into near-hysteria—the nearest approach to tragedy attained by the company. There were climaxes or crises in the four acts when one shuddered for the physical well-being of the cast, but no harm befell them, or us—and we are all reasonably happy again. Hully gee!

Mrs. Rufus Carlton and son Leonard of Sacramento, California, arrived in the city on 10, Saturday afternoon, and will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Dora Stewart and other relatives for an extended visit.

OPEN FOOT BALL SEASON

Event Will Be Signaled This Week, at Beaver City.

The McCook high school foot ball team will open the season, this year, at Beaver City on next Saturday. The boys are doing some active practice work, this week, and expect to go against those big Beaver City fellows with enthusiasm enough to pull out a victory.

The big game of the year is scheduled with North Platte high school, on Thanksgiving day, at North Platte.

COMMERCIAL NEW LESSEE

H. C. Craig of Holdrege Has Purchased from Dr. Comings.

Close of last week, the deal was closed whereby H. C. Craig of Holdrege becomes the new lessee of The Commercial Hotel, Dr. A. F. Comings retiring to leave the city.

Mr. Craig, the new lessee, is an experienced man, brother of the lessee of the Hampton at Holdrege, and expects to be in the city, early this week, and to prepare at once to take over the hotel and get matters in shape for his management of that well-known hostelry.

It is Mr. Craig's purpose to as soon as possible reopen the dining room of the Commercial and to conduct that department regularly in addition to the rooming facilities.

Dr. Comings and his aged father expect to be able to get away end of week, for Seattle, Washington, where their future home will be. The Tribune wishes the departing and the incoming success.
