HECKMAN-BARBAZETTE.

Two Well Known Young People Happily Wedded.

The marriage of Miss Deborah Catherine Heckman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Heckman, to H. Virgil Barbazette was celebrated at 11 a. m., Wednesday, September 20th, at the home of the bride's parents, 89 Elberon Ave., Cleveland, Ohio. Only the members of the two families witnessed the ceremony at which Rev. Dr. Monlin, Dean of Trinity Cathedral, officiated.

The home was prettily, but simply decorated. The living room, the scene of the wedding, was trimmed entirely in green and white southern smilax, palms and ferns were used as a background in a large bay window where they were married beneath a bower of smilax covered with bride's roses and white carnations with streamers of white ribbon.

The pretty young bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a simple gown of white crepe de chine trimmed with fillet lace over white satin. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The groom wore the conventional black. They were unattended. The bridal party approached the altar to strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by the bride's sister and brother, Miss Virginia, and Mr. George Heckman, violin.

Master Forrest, the little brother of the bride, was ring-bearer, carrying the ring buried in the heart of a rose. After the ceremony the wedding dinner was served in the dining room where the color scheme was the same as that carried out in the other part of the house. Festoons of smilax hung from the chandelier to the corners of the table fastened by large bows of white ribbon, roses and carnations.

The couple left during the afternoon for their wedding journey to Niagara Falls. They will be at home after November 1st, in McCook.

THE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

Over Two Hundred Delegates and Officers Representing Forty Counties Are In Attendance.

ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL EVER HELD

Address by Mrs. Mary Armour of Georgia, an Interesting Feature of the Meeting—List of Officers Elected—Notes of the Session—Tomorrow's Program Ends Convention.

The preliminary program of the convention opened with a meeting of general officers Monday evening.

The executive committee occupied the morning and afternoon sessions of Tuesday, commencing with a devotional led by Mrs. Heald. Roll call, minutes of general officers' meeting and mid-year executive committee, introduction of new members, general business matters and noontide prayer closed the morning's work. In the afternoon the usual devotional was followed by completing unfinished business, taking up constitutional and organization matters, and final adjournment for the evening session.

Tuesday morning, in the First Baptist church, conferences were held by the Loyal Temperance Union; Young Peoples' Branch; and for Scientific Temperance Instruction. The workers in charge of this important and interesting section were Mrs. Harriet Vance, Mrs. Lela G. Dyar, and Miss Josie Sullivan.

A very interesting feature of the early part of the Tuesday evening session was the reception tendered in the First Methodist church to the general officers of the convention, to the delegates and the McCook public school teacher corps. Many attended this function and informally offered their greetings.

At the close of this portion of the program and a short devotional led by Rev. L. E. Lewis of the First Methodist church, the chief speaker of the convention, Mrs. Mary Harris Armour of Georgia, was introduced. This change from the regular program was made necessary because Mrs. Armour had to make some dates in Kansas and Missouri at once, and she left for those states immediately after her address, on No. 14.

Mrs. Armour's Address.

Mrs. Armour devoted herself to a defense of prohibition and to a scathing denunciation of the liquor traffic of the land. Mrs. Armour is a Georgia lady bred and born and with the warm and ardent characteristics of the women of the south land. She is evidently not given to nice little parlor talks, and she went at the topic in hand like a southern cyclone. She may be called with considerable propriety Carrie Nation minus the hatch et—and makes no bones about a disposition to use the hatchet under certain given provocation. Her's was a passionate appeal of a live woman whose heart is desperately in earnest. She had the enthusiastic support of most of her audience.

Over $1,000 Pledged.

After the address, the matter of taking pledges for the state work was taken up and conducted by Mrs. Heald, state president, and with her assistants she very quickly pledged $1038.00 for that work, and $50 for the McCook local union to assist them in defraying the expenses of entertaining the state convention. For the state work McCook union pledged $50.

Greetings.

The work of securing pledges over the audience was in enthusiastic mood for the rest of the evening's program, the greetings and responses.

In the absence of Mayor McAdams, Congressman G. W. Norris delivered the greeting for the city, in which he paid a glowing tribute to the invaluable worth of public opinion as inspired and directed by the earnest and devoted women of the W. C. T. U.

Greetings in earnest mood were given by Rev. L. E. Lewis for the churches, Mrs. J. C. Moore for

Those "Army Worms."

Considerable interest has been shown in this city and vicinity by the presence of what have been called "army worms." One of the McCook public school children took personal interest enough in the matter to write the university people about them, and the following reply was received: The University of Nebraska, Lincoln, Sept. 20, 1911.—Miss Lena C. Fallick, McCook, Nebraska. My Dear Miss Fallick:

Your very interesting letter in which you give an account of a green worm or caterpillar that is destroying things in McCook has been received. I like the way you describe it, and the manner in which you tell me about its habits. Without seeing specimens of this caterpillar I was able to tell that you were writing about the young of the Beet or Russian thistle Webworm which has been very common in some parts of middle and southwestern Nebraska during the past summer. This insect likes weeds better than grass. Sometimes it has eaten all the weeds and then attacks alfalfa and clover as well as garden plants. These caterpillars will soon dig into the ground and they will change to little brown things which we call chrysalids, and will live over winter in that form. Next spring they will come out as light-colored moths.

I do not think that they will do any damage next year because there are a number of kinds of other insects that kill the caterpillars. Some of these are called parasites. These parasites live in side of the caterpillars and chrysalids and when the parasites are full grown the caterpillars are dead. Birds also like to eat these worms, and help to destroy them. Yours very truly,

LAWRENCE BRUNER.

Wednesday morning's session opened with almost 200 delegates present. Following the devotional led by Mrs. Nesbitt of Pawnee City was the seating of the convention by counties. About 40 counties were found to be represented.

Committees were then appointed, and reports of several committees were heard—executive and constitution committees especially.

By a unanimous standing vote of the convention a resolution was adopted protesting with all vigor against Secretary Wilson acting as honorary chairman or vice president of the Brewers' congress to be held in Chicago, next month; also against Secretary Knox serving in some similar capacity in a foreign gathering. Mrs. Dr. Johns and Mrs. E. M. Correll of Omaha were appointed to present this matter to President Taft when he appears in Omaha, and Mrs. Heald, Mrs. Jay, Mrs. Pomerene and Miss Jackson were named for a similar purpose when the president is in Lincoln.

In the Memorial Hour a score or more who have gone on before were remembered. Mrs. M. M. Smith of Aurora was in charge of this service.

An interesting feature was the presentation of flags and pennants to Star county and union winners. For six points of excellence but two qualified, Clay county and Polk unions. They received flags. For five points of excellence the list was quite long: Auburn, Pawnee City, Beaver City, Beatrice, Clay Center, Lincoln Central, Champion, Exeter, Fairfield, Fremont, Fairbury, Gibson, Guide Rock, Harvard, Marion, Ord, Pleasant Hill, Pawnee, Red Cloud, Sutton, Stromsburg, Shelby, University Place, to the latter pennants being awarded.

The report of the treasurer indicated that department to be in prosperous condition. The secretary reported over 400,000 pages of temperance literature distributed during the past year.

During the morning session, the ladies of the local committee were introduced to the convention and received with warmth: Mrs. J. C. Moore, Mrs. J. G. Inglis, Mrs. H. A. Rouch, Mrs. S. E. Callen.

Routine business consumed the rest of the morning. Department gleanings, etc., and after adjournment there was joint meeting of general officers and county presidents.

The Evening Session.

The address of the state president, Mrs. Frances B. Heald of Osceola and the snap shots from about forty county presidents occupied the center of the stage and were the absorbing attraction of the evening gathering. The president's message was complete and replete with recommendations. It was adopted by the convention without dissent. The snap shots indicated the wide range of the temperance work undertaken and the splendid results attained along all lines. Some of these fine reports elicited great enthusiasm.

The opening item of the evening service was the Loyal Temperance Legion Exercises by the
