The McCook Tribune.

F. M. KIMMELL, Publisher.

Largest Circulation in Red Willow Co.

Entered at postoffice, McCook, Nebraska, as second-class matter. Published semi-weekly.

The Tribune pauses to wish its readers and friends a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

It's the sign of the Dollar ($) Mark that is getting the American goat, and embarrassing and disconcerting the Cross, before whose gleaming banner the Roman eagle and the Turkish crescent melted away.

In looking over the political arena there seems to be no better material for state auditor than Hon. Chas. Skalla of McCook, with his fine record as county clerk, and an enviable reputation for staunch character and sound political views.—Hebron Journal.

The Tribune is not one of those Republicans who is over-easily convinced that the Republican party has entirely outgrown its usefulness. Nor have we learned to despise the ladder by which we have ascended. Policies and leaders untrue to the best interests of the people may well be discarded, but we may well pause and consider before we crucify the party (which for a half century has brilliantly led in the development of America) on a cross of vaunting ambition.

A rich man is not necessarily dishonest because he is wealthy, but in these days of sharp practice, of privilege, graft and rebate it may properly be a matter of inquiry as to how he amassed his great possessions, however, and justice need suffer no rude shock if the people, just the common you and I, should show some concern as to the manner in which great wealth is used—spent; whether in channels of public good or in arrogance and selfish luxury. The same moral yardstick may be not inaptly applied to big business. It is not of being big, but of Washington, D. "In Alabama," Mr. Norris said in describing what he said were existing conditions, "the republican state central committee is composed of forty-six members and forty-three of this number are federal officeholders."—Omaha World-Herald.

Guard the Family Health

Health is often endangered by unsanitary cooking utensils. Physicians have found that cancer is caused by enamel ware chipping off and irritating the stomach.

If you have children or invalids in the family beware of cheap cooking utensils that crack, scale, peel off, tarnish and rust. Disease germs lurk in the worn places and there is further danger of tainting the food. Health is too precious to take risks with it.

Be safe. Use

which are guaranteed for 15 years constant service and will never spoil food nor endanger health.

This new ware is featherweight, beautiful, easy to clean—does not tarnish nor rust. The slight extra cost is more than made up by long service and absolute safety.

Look For Trade mark on Every Piece

The Maltese cross with the words Pure Illinois "1892" Aluminum—the original, insures that you get the genuine. There are imitations, so be sure this trade mark is on every piece.
