CLERGYMEN MUST PAY THEIR RAILROAD FARE

So far as passes are concerned, clergymen, except in the rarest cases, have been placed on the same footing as other persons.

According to the Hepburn law preachers and those who are devoting the whole of their time to charity are exempt from provisions. In the past most of the western roads have been issuing passes to such persons. This year it is different and rarely is an exception to be made.

Railroad passenger men take the position that they can safely issue passes to clergymen and actual charity workers and not violate the terms of the Hepburn law, but in most states the local laws prevent such use of passes and in order to be on the safe side and not show any discrimination the clergy and charity passes have been shut off. — Omaha Bee.

A CREDITABLE PRODUCTION
By West School Pupils

The high school auditorium was well filled, Monday evening, to hear the entertainment given by the teachers and pupils of the West school.

The dramatization of "Bird's Christmas Carol" was presented by a cast of twenty children. A little over a half hour of pleasure resulted from the two acts so finely offered. A chorus of boys dressed in white surplices sang the two well-known Christmas carols, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear" and "Carol, Childre, Carol."

Besides there were several recitations, and the high school orchestra filled in the waits with a miscellaneous program of excellence.

Without the affair was highly pleasurable and creditable to the children and instructors.

OBITUARY.

James Regan Jackson was born on January 28, 1836, at London, Laurel county, Kentucky. Died in McCook, Nebraska, January 5th, 1912. Aged, 75 years, 11 months, 8 days. Came to Missouri with his parents in 1850. Was the second oldest of a family of eleven children, of which three brothers and two sisters survive him, namely, W. J. Jackson of Maywood, Nebraska, E. S. Jackson of Portland, Oregon, D. R. Jackson of Fort Cobb, Oklahoma, Mrs. D. Lawson of Fort Cobb, Oklahoma, Mrs. Oregon Pharris of Denver, Colorado. Was married to Ruth E. Kent in 1859 at Trenton, Grundy county, Missouri, ten children were born to this union, three of the children dying in infancy; those surviving are: Mrs. J. W. Shirley of McCook, Nebraska, J. H. Jackson of Maywood, Nebraska, C. W. Jackson of Wellfleet, Nebraska, L. V. Jackson of Moore, Montana, A. D. Jackson of Wellfleet, Nebraska, O. L. Jackson of Walnut, California, and Mrs. H. L. Loshbaugh of McCook, Nebraska. He came to Frontier county, Nebraska, in 1887, where he resided until he moved to McCook seven years ago, thus being a resident of Nebraska for a quarter of a century. Was converted at the age of seventeen years, joining the Baptist church, at Nevada, Missouri, of which he was an active member for 58 years.

Services were conducted in the McCook Baptist church, Wednesday afternoon, at which Rev. D. L. McBride officiated, and many friends and relatives attended. The pall bearers were from among the close relatives of the deceased.

A Slight Fire.

Fire between the ceiling and roof of the north cottage property of Mrs. Vina Weeds brought out those of the fire laddies who heard the bell, and, after the furniture had been removed, the flames were extinguished without further spreading. The roof was pretty well consumed, and the cottage in general ruined by smoke and water. Mr. and Mrs. Art Scott occupy the cottage. Mr. Scott had just gone to his work when Mrs. Scott noticed an odor of burning pine, saw that the wood around the stove pipe was charring, and gave the alarm.

Fighting fire in a 6-degree below zero temperature is an extremely uncomfortable task, but there were plenty of willing helpers and the blaze was confined.

A defective flue is given as the cause of the blaze.

The fire whistle was frozen tight, and could not be used.

Lewis-Nichols.

This morning at the Methodist parsonage, William W. Lewis, and Miss Charlotte Nichols were married by Rev. L. E. Lewis, pastor. They left this evening for Omaha, on a visit, to return and be at home, next week. Mr. Lewis is a young man of fine character employed in the Burlington shops. The bride has been for years the efficient stenographer in the office of W. S. Morlan. They have many friends who join The Tribune in wishing them much happiness.

Green-Bush.

Mr. Roy C. Green and Miss Hattie B. Bush were married by the county judge, Monday, January 6, 1912. The young couple are occupying quarters over the Pastime theatre. Mr. and Mrs. Green were the objects of a miscellaneous shower, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Engineer and Mrs. M. H. Griggs in West McCook, when they were nicely remembered by friends.

Seth Silver Files.

Seth S. Silver has filed with the county clerk for nomination for office of representative on the Republican ticket.

W. H. McKinney, reports the Marion Enterprise, has rented the Morlan ranch near McCook for the next three years, and moves onto the ranch this week.

Meeting of Horse Men.

Our breeders will be interested in the meeting of horse men held in connection with "Organized Agriculture" at the State Farm, Lincoln, January 16, 1912. Feeding horses for the market, stallion registration, horse breeding problems, artificial impregnation, methods of horse judging and many other things of interest will be discussed by men who are specialists in their line.

Our breeders should be charter members of an organization to be perfected at this meeting.

Stallion and jack owners who failed to have their animals inspected should notify the Stallion Registration Board at Lincoln so that arrangements for inspection can be made before the breeding season opens.

The Santa Fe has abolished the use of flags as markers for the rear ends of passenger trains and the lumps (unlighted) will serve as markers during the day.

OLD INDIAN IS ALL ALONE

Ishi, the Wild Man Recently Captured, Has Voice Tricks to Snare Animals.

Washington, D. C.—Officials of the Indian bureau here are wondering what they shall do with the lone survivor of the Yana tribe of Indians, popularly known as the Nogis, who was captured near Oroville, Cal., recently. A report was received from Charles L. Davis, one of the agents of the bureau, in which he recommended that the lone Yana be cared for by some member of an allied tribe. This, it was said, probably would be the course adopted.

"After a year or two," said Mr. Davis, "he doubtless would be able to look after himself, become a member of the band and live as they do."

This lone Yana, Mr. Davis believes, is the last of a group of four or five Indians who for years had lived in the virtually inaccessible haunts of canyons along the Feather river.

Several years ago a party of surveyors, the reports adds, evidently drove them from this seclusion, and in the attempt to find another hiding place all of them perished, save the old man, taken a few days ago. "He is an expert," Mr. Davis says, "in imitating the calls of wild animals, showing he has preserved the wiles of the savage to aid the wild game to him."

"The capture of this man is of the utmost importance to anthropologists," says Professor Kroeber of the University of California. "He represents a dialect that we supposed was extinct. He is more of an aborigine than any of the Indians we have been studying for the last ten years."

Ishi is so densely ignorant that he does not know what money is, for money has been of as much use to him as it was to Robinson Crusoe.

Ishi is not very strong; his muscles are not well developed, and when he grips the testing machine as hard as he can he makes a low record. He talks in high keyed musical tones, which have something of the plaintiveness of a child. When he sits he squats on his ankles. He dips up thin soup with three fingers, which he cracks, and uses only two fingers for thick soup.

CHURCH IS HISTORIC

Scene of First Protestant Settlement in America.

Colony Was Early Founded Near Port Royal on the Shores of South Carolina and by the Huguenots.

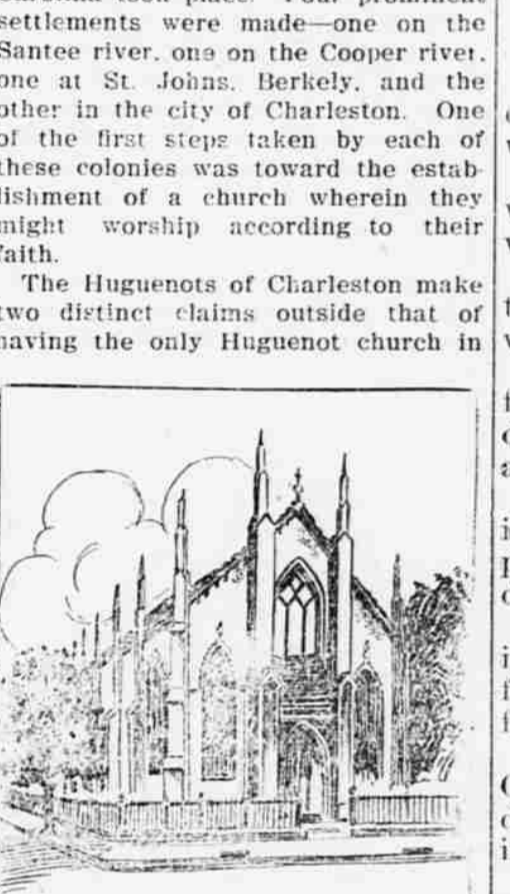

Port Royal, S. C.—The first Protestant settlement in America was made on the shores of South Carolina, not far from the present town of Port Royal, and by the Huguenots. This colony came out under the leadership of Jean Ribaut in the spring of 1562. This settlement of South Carolina by a Protestant colony antedates that of the English settlement of Virginia by 45 years, and was 58 years before the arrival of the pilgrim fathers at Plymouth, Mass. But this settlement at Port Royal did not have the success that was hoped for it, and had to be abandoned—not before seed had been planted, however, that bears its fruit to this day.

On landing, one of the first things the Huguenots did was to unite in a service of thanksgiving to God for their safe arrival. They erected a monument to commemorate the occasion. To quote from the Rev. Dr. Vedder, "The stone pillar of John Ribaut was the corner stone of the temple of Protestantism in the Western hemisphere."

It was not until after the edict of Nantes, October, 1685, that the great immigration of Huguenots to South Carolina took place. Four prominent settlements were made—one on the Santee river, one on the Cooper river, one at St. Johns, Berkeley, and the other in the city of Charleston. One of the first steps taken by each of these colonies was toward the establishment of a church wherein they might worship according to their faith.

The Huguenots of Charleston make two distinct claims outside that of having the only Huguenot church in America. One is that theirs is the first church organization established in South Carolina; and the other that they were the first to carry the gospel to the state outside the city of Charleston.

The first Huguenot church organization was about 1681-2. In the cemetery surrounding it lies entombed the dust of many who have slept there for more than two centuries, the pioneers of the church. On the tombs are engraved names that have become historic in the annals of South Carolina.

The present building was erected in 1845. It is stone, in Gothic style, with ornamental masonry extending in pointed columns above the roof. It suffered greatly, as did all of the churches of Charleston, from the terrible earthquake of 1886. The first church building was burned in 1740. The congregation took steps to erect another, which shared the same fate; and still another, which was also burned. The present building stands today unique in history, the only Huguenot church in America.

KEEPS GIANT SONS IN BED

Under Mother's Hypnotic Influence They Fear to Move—All in Good Health.

Northville, N. Y.—Hypnotized by their mother into the belief that they are suffering from hereditary heart disease in an aggravated form, three grown men have been lying in bed for years in their home here. Physicians have examined the three men and declare they are in as sound physical trim as can be three six-footers who have remained in bed such a length of time.

The men are sons of John Bennett, a farmer. The mother is a robust woman, intelligent in appearance, about sixty years old. The sons are George, thirty-two years old; Ward, twenty-nine, and Frank, twenty-seven years. They are under the impression that the slightest shock will result in sudden death. George has been in bed for eight years, Ward ten years and Frank six years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bennett insist the men are awful sufferers. They had trouble this summer with a firm of contractors putting through a state highway near their home because the blasting had a serious effect on their sons' condition.

Trolley Car Sets Man Afire. Philadelphia, Pa.—Edward Higgins, sixty-seven years old, was carrying a package of matches in a back pocket of his trousers when he was struck by a trolley car. The matches were ignited and before the flames were extinguished Higgins was badly burned.
