

BALD HEADS NOT WANTED

Baldness is too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age.

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employes.

Probably 65% of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt our words, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in McCook who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair, or baldness to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user, whatever.

We are established right here in McCook, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it in every particular. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexal Store. L. W. McConnell.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

BROTHER LONG LOST

Indians Carried Away William Brown at Austin, Tex.

Recent Rumors Have Prompted Search by Mrs. Carrie Jayne McFarland, a Sister, but So Far Without Result.

Darlington, Okla.—Nearly seven years ago William Love Brown, then twelve years old, was carried away by a band of Comanche Indians from the home of his parents in the outskirts of Austin, Tex., and taken to the Comanche camps in what is now south-west Oklahoma. Ever since that day the kinsmen of the lost boy have been searching for him, and hoping that he might be found. Their inquiries were lately renewed by reason of a newspaper story telling of an old man, long captive among Indians in Oklahoma, who was trying to find his people.

Mrs. Carrie Jayne McFarland of Port Lavaca, Tex., sister of Brown, heard of the story and has written to United States Indian agents in Oklahoma, asking if they know of the man. The agents have no knowledge of him. Mrs. McFarland is being assisted in her search by her son-in-law, F. P. Penfield of Houston, Tex. Missionaries among the Kiowas and Comanches have been requested to question the old men of these tribes and, if possible, learn if they have any knowledge of the attack on the Brown home.

Mrs. McFarland lately told this story of the incidents that led to the loss of her brother:

"Some eight or ten Comanche Indians rode up to our gate Sunday, July 10, 1842, and asked the way to Austin. Father walked out near the gate to direct them, my mother and the children following to look at the painted faces of the Indians and the shields they carried."

"An Indian reached over the fence and picked up my brother Amos and placed him behind him and started to put a belt round his and the child's waist, in that way trying to strap the child to him. Father stepped out the gate and took Amos from the Indian, and then turned to my mother and told her to take the children and go quickly into the house.

"My mother ran with the children at her side. An arrow narrowly missed her and stuck in the door facing as she entered the house. My father ran, but was 'hot, and fell in the yard near the door. An arrow passed half way through the arm of little Amos, just above his left elbow. Two carpenters at work on the house were present. One of them, Mr. Hoskins, was shot and killed.

"My mother called to the carpenter in the house and they carried my mother inside. He asked for brother William and was told by the negro girl that the last time she saw him the Indians were takin' him off. Father died in fifteen minutes after he was shot. He and Mr. Hoskins were buried across the road from the house. My mother kept hoping and looking for brother William's return for thirty years or longer."

RUNS MULE BY ELECTRICITY

Owner Has Device to Hurry Beast When He Shows Symptoms of Hookworm.

Forrest City, Ark.—Friends of Superintendent Chilner of the city water and light plant are at a loss whether to class him as the meanest man in Arkansas or the most ingenious one. The water department has a Missouri mule which possessed the reputation of being the laziest quadruped ever harnessed until Mr. Chilner rigged a patent starter on the wagon to be drawn by it. He put a small electric battery with a switch convenient to the driver's hand, and attached an insulated wire to the head-stall of the mule, thence to the ring on the bit, and then back to its tail.

Now when the gang is ready to start there is no cranking nor horse-whipping to be done. The device was resorted to after his muleship threatened to bankrupt the plant buying whips. Mr. Chilner has applied for patents.

Molasses Kills Many Fish.

New Orleans.—Dead shrimp by the million and thousands of fish are floating on the surface of Lake Pontchartrain as a result of their feeding on molasses. The sweet diet found its way into the lake from the city sewers when 600,000 gallons flowed in the streets by the bursting of a storage tank. The molasses contained about 2 1/2 per cent of potash.

TEMPLE THEATRE
TOMORROW NIGHT.

COL. GEORGE W. BAIN.

The name of Col. George W. Bain has been a household word in thousands of homes throughout the country for more than a score of years. Those who have heard him many times are the ones most anxious to hear him again. It is doubtful whether he could express a thought in a dull or uneloquent manner if he should try. He is rightly called "The Silver-tongued Orator of Kentucky." He might also be called the humorist of Kentucky, the favorite son, the pride of the lyceum and many other designations of honor and esteem. No man is more highly respected and to none has there been accorded more sincere praise. He holds the phenomenal record of twelve appearances at the great assembly at Chautauqua, N. Y., thirty-six at Ocean Grove, N. J., nine at Bay View, Mich., and from five to twenty or more at many other places.

Notice is hereby given that the City of McCook, Red Willow county, Nebraska, will receive sealed bids for the building of the City Water Building in McCook City, Nebraska, in block, each bid to be a complete, bonded check for 25 per cent of said sum. All bids to be filed with the clerk of said city on or before the twenty-ninth day of January, 1912, at six o'clock p. m. These bids to draw interest at five per cent annum payable semi-annually at the banking house of Keam, Bros., New York City, five $500 bonds being subject to a note payable on the 15th day of January, of each year to and including January 15th, 1912; no final bond paid. Council reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids.

Witness our hands at McCook, Nebraska, January 13th, 1912.

How to Test Seed Corn.

Enough ears to plant twenty acres can be tested in a single day with a home made tester. Take a box six inches deep and about two by three feet in size. Fill the box about half full of a fine dirt, sand or sawdust. Press it well down so it will have a smooth, even surface. Now take a white cloth about the size of the box, rule it off checker-board fashion, making squares one and one-half inches each way. Number the checks 1, 2, 3 and so on. Place this over the sand, dirt or sawdust.

Take the ears to be tested and either lay them out on the floor and mark a number in front of each or attach a numbered tag. Now take off about six kernels from each ear (not all from the same place, but at several points on all sides.) Put these kernels on the squares corresponding in number to those placed on the ears of corn. Be careful not to get them mixed. Keep the ears numbered to correspond exactly with the numbers on the squares of cloth.

After the kernels have been placed carefully on the cloth which covers the moist sand, dirt or sawdust; cover them with another cloth, considerably larger than the box; cover this cloth with about two inches of the same moist sand and keep the box in a warm place. It must not get cold.

The kernels will germinate in four to six days.

Remove the cover carefully to avoid displacing the kernels. Examine them carefully. Some will have long sprouts but almost no roots; others will not have grown at all, but the kernels from ears which will produce corn if planted, will have both sprouts and good root systems.

Compare the numbers on the squares with those on the ears. Put back into the feeding corn bin the ears which correspond in number to the numbers on the squares where kernels did not grow or where they showed only weak roots.

The ears numbered corresponding to those on the cloth which showed strong signs of life are the ones to preserve for seed. Every kernel from these ears should produce a stalk, every stalk an ear.

A PECULIAR NEW AEROPLANE

its Unusual Shape is Expected to Obviate Present Difficulties—Inventor Claims Stability.

Paterson, N. J.—W. A. Gary, of Paterson, has built an aeroplane which looks as though it might easily "make a noise like a hoop and roll away." But it really can't. Moreover, Mr. Gary thinks it has solved the problem before the flying machine today.

Mr. Gary thinks his aeroplane has met the Wright patents and avoided any infringement of them, while all the other successful flying machines,

A Queer Aeroplane.

It is claimed, must pay the Wrights royalty.

The Wright and other flyers meet changed conditions, caused by gusts of wind on one side or the other, by warping the main planes of intermediate planes. If they didn't their machines would skid sideways into the first air pocket and be wrecked. Mr. Gary's machine presents a side riding at the bottom of the hoop in which his three planes are enclosed, brings the center of gravity of the machine so low that it can't tip over. It is now awaiting the building of a heavy motor to have its final trial.

Gobbler Broods on Nest.

Evans, Colo.—Turkey gobblers have been known to care for motherless chicks, but a three-year-old, handsome bronze gobbler on the George Jones farm near here is sitting on a nest of 20 eggs, and results are anxiously watched.

Order of Hearing.

To all persons interested in the estate of James R. Jackson, deceased. You will take notice of the following.

In the county court of Red Willow county, Nebraska. — In the matter of the estate of James R. Jackson, deceased.

Now on this 13th day of January, 1912, Ruth E. Jackson having filed her verified petition in this court praying that the administration of the estate of James R. Jackson, deceased, be dispensed with and that his heirs be determined.

It is ordered that a hearing on said petition be had at the county court room in said county on the 5th day of February, 1912, at 10 o'clock a. m. and that notice hereof be given to all persons interested in said estate by publishing this order for three successive weeks in The McCook Tribune, a legal newspaper published in said county.

A Moving Christmas Sermon

'Twas lonely on McCook's main street,
Two throngs were passing to and fro,
On Christmas eve, when a country lad
Lucked for some holiday cheer to go.
The highest theatre drew him in,
And he gazed in surprise on a well known scene,
A Christmas eve being at the farm.
For a country play was on the scene.
When the absent son returned at last,
Fide his grav-natured father's heart with joy,
And his living mother laughed and cried,
As she clasped once more her long lost boy.
Tears dimmed the eyes of the country lad,
Yet he had a vision of far away,
Of the little home where he was born,
And his father and mother, old and gray,
Who longed to have some word from him,
And longed to see his well loved ace;
The boy felt a pang of real remorse,
And arising quickly left the place,
When he saw the sun on Christmas day,
It brighter shone than e're before,
On the little cottage at the farm,
For the lad stood at his father's door.

THE EFFECTIVE LAXATIVE.
Tastes Like and is Eaten Like Candy.

In our experience in the handling of drugs and medicines, we believe we have never had experience with any remedy that gave such great satisfaction to our customers as do Rexall Orderlies. This remedy is not like any other laxative or cathartic. It contains all the good features of other laxatives, but none of their faults.

Our own faith in Rexall Orderlies is so strong that we offer them to you with our own positive personal guarantee, that if they do not thoroughly satisfy you, you only need tell us and we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for them. Therefore, in trying them upon our recommendation you take no risk whatever.

Rexall Orderlies taste like and are eaten like candy. They do not gripe, cause nausea, excessive looseness, or any other annoyance. They act so easily that they may be taken at any time, day or night. They are particularly good for children, aged or delicate persons. They are put up in convenient tablets in three sizes of packages. Prices 10c, 25 and 50c.

Remember, Rexall Remedies can be obtained in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—L. W. McConnell.
